J. S. Fox Advance Agent for Prohibition Orator

J. S. Fox, who was in Prineville a number of years ago, is back here visiting relatives and having a short vacation. Mr. Fox has been in Portland for more than two years, and is office manager of the "Out to Win" prohibition forces of this state. While in Crook county he expects to spend a good deal of his time furthering the interests of state-wide prohibition.

Among other things he will act as advance agent for S. W. Grathwell, the noted prohibition orator, who will visit this district this week. Mr. Grathwell is the champion orator of the Pacific coast colleges, having recently won first place against all comers at Los Angeles. Full details of Mr. Grathwell's Prineville meetings will appear in another column, and judging from advance press notices he will be well worth hearing, being entertaining as well as instructive. The meetings will be free.

Three meetings have been arranged for Mr. Grathwell: Friday evening in the Club Hall at 8 p. m., Saturday evening at 7 p. m., and Sunday evening in the Baptist church. The latter will be a union service of all the churches, and will be held at the usual hour of 8 p. m. immediately following the Federation of Young People's Societies in the same church. No admission charged.

Serious Forest Fires on Ochoco Watershed

Three forest fires of considerable size have occurred in this portion of the Blue Mountains during the past two weeks. One 200 acre fire in the Silver Creek watershed and one covering 300 acres on upper Willow, but the largest one occurred between Marks and Mill creeks just outside the National Forest boundary, and so dry is the ground cover that before it could be put under control it had spread over an area of between 700 and 800 acres.

Forest Rangers Ingram and Donnelly were in charge of the control work and had 20 men on the fire line during one day. Supervisor Ross is highly pleased with the manner in which the ranchers in that locality responded to the call for help. It shows the right spirit on the part of the farmers and the forest service appreciates it.

Lyric Saturday Program

The fifth installment of "The Perils of Pauline" will be shown at the Lyric this Saturday at the matinee and evening show. In this number Pauline, who it would seem has already had enough fearsome adventures, falls into the hands of villainous Chinese Highbinders. Of course, the manner of her escape, aided by Harry, will be shown on the screen. Two other pictures, "The Restless Woman," a Biograph film, and "Luck in Odd Numbers," an Essanay comedy, complete the bill.

WHY WEAK LUNGS?

The toll of tuberculosis is claiming more than 350 victims every day in the United States, yet few realize their grave condition until the critical period arrives. Overwork, worry, weakness after sickness, catarrh, bronchitis, tender throats—all exert the weakening influence that invites consumption. To guard against consumption, thousands of people take Scott's Emulsion after meals because its rich medicinal nourishment strengthens the lungs, puts vigor in the blood, and rebuilds strength to resist tuberculosis. Scott's Emulsion is nature's strength-builder. Refuse substitutes.

Rattlesnake Found Within City Limits

Rattlesnakes are more numerous this year than ever before. They have been killed by the dozens on McKay and a great many right in the door yards. One big fellow as yellow as gold was killed on McKay mountain recently. Secretary Cadle killed one near the fair grounds a few weeks ago. He was going up the ditch to turn the water in and seeing a plank near the bank picked it up and there lay the venomous reptile, coiled ready to strike.

Wallace Cadle killed one at the south end of the lane leading to the fair grounds last month. Never before were they known to come so close to town. One was found in the J. B. Shipp yard but got under the house before being killed. Now that is getting too close to be comfortable. Some claim it is the dry weather that is bringing them in. If it is, let us all get busy and wish for rain. Think rain; all center your thoughts on the word rain, until it actually pours down.

Not only here, but we notice in several of our exchanges from other counties where rattlesnakes have been killed in the streets and door yards of the different towns.

In Corvallis a week or so ago a fellow killed and buried a snake three times before it gave up to die. The first two times he was certain he had killed him and each time buried him deep, but after an hour or so in passing the spot found the same snake in the same place, some bruised, but very much alive and right on the fight. But this happened to be a big black bull snake. It doesn't make much difference what kind of a snake it is. It's a snake just the same, and we don't want them "hangin' round."

Open Season for Deer Suspended

With the hope of preventing the origin and spread of forest fires during the dry season, Governor West has issued a proclamation suspending open season for deer until September 1. A telegram to the forest service here from the head office in Portland says to inform all hunters and in case of violation report in full to the state game warden.

Each Hunter Gets Limit of Sage Hens

Frank Foster, Oscar Hyde, D. H. Peoples, Sichel Hinkle and Tom Quinn composed a merry party of hunters who motored to Combs Flat Sunday in quest of sage hens. Each got the limit; no more, no less. Someone took their "lunch" out of the spring while they were away from camp and by the time they reached home they were almost famished.

Public Schools to Open September 14

It was amusing to see the broad smiles on the faces of some of our Southern people when a native of the "Sunny South" appeared on our streets yesterday. Just like meeting a friend from home.
 Miss Margaret Glaze returned Sunday from a two-weeks' visit with Mrs. George Ray at Post. Mrs. Ray came down with her to meet Mr. Ray who has been visiting different Willamette Valley towns.

A letter from Van Brink, who is exhibiting his big feature film, "Samson," in Northern Washington, states that the more he sees of other sections of the Northwest the more he thinks of his home in Prineville.

Dr. McKenzie and Party Visit Prineville

Dr. K. A. J. McKenzie, Ronald McKenzie and Walter Gifford were in Prineville Friday, having made the trip across the mountains from Portland in an automobile for a tour of Central and Eastern Oregon. Dr. McKenzie is one of the best known physicians and surgeons in the West, and has contributed much to the science of medicine, both as a practitioner and through papers written for medical journals, the Saturday Evening Post and other papers. He was out to see the country and get some information regarding the possibilities of this big territory, and being a good roads enthusiast was much interested in our highways. The party came by way of the McKenzie route and visited Crater Lake, Lakeview, Burns, the John Day Valley and all places of interest in that section, then back to Prineville. They returned over the Barlow route.

Mr. Gifford is a writer in charge of the automobile department of the Oregonian. He said he had gotten more information about this country by making this trip than he could have gotten in a life time by hearsay. They were very favorably impressed with the whole country.

LOCAL MENTION

 Wesley Anderson, Wm. Burdick, Eva Burdick and Gladys Smith, all of Metolius, were county seat visitors this week.

T. E. J. Duffy returned Saturday from a trip to Crater and O'dell Lakes. He says he cannot find words to express the beauty of Crater Lake.

The county fair which opens September 16 and closes September 19 will offer a most excellent place for a vacation. There will be recreation and education with the vacation.
 Mayor Clifton made two trips to Deep Creek the first of the week and brought Mrs. Clifton, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crooks and R. E. Simpson and family back to Prineville. The party reports a pleasant time spent in the mountains.

S. Price, the Paulina merchant, who underwent an operation in Portland recently, passed through Prineville yesterday on his way home. Mr. Price says he is perfectly well now and ready to go back to work. While away he laid in his fall stock of goods.

Tillman Reuter, who has been confined in the hospital at The Dalles for the past few weeks, returned to Madras and his home Saturday evening last. Mr. Reuter is far from a well man, but he feels that being home he will soon regain his health.—Madras Pioneer.

Word has been received from Necogdoches, Texas, that Mrs. Chas. Carey died at that place August 5. Mrs. Carey was a resident of Crook county until three years ago when she moved to Texas. She leaves several children in this county, one being Mrs. Will R. Smith of Bend.

Next Sunday's union meeting of the Young People's Federation which was announced to be held in the Presbyterian church will be held in the Baptist church instead, in order to co-operate to the fullest extent with the union meeting to follow, which is to be addressed by S. W. Grathwell, a prohibition speaker. The latter part of the Young People's hour will be devoted as usual to a temperance rally, and in view of the interest expected to be generated by Mr. Grathwell's coming, a particularly interesting and instructive time is expected.

I will sell a well located quarter section of comparatively level land containing about 100 acres of good grain land, 25 acres of which has just been plowed. 25 acres is ready for plowing, and about 50 acres more can be easily cleared. This is bunch grass land with practically no juniper and very little sage brush. The place is fenced and there is a house, a small barn and corral. There is ample water for stock and domestic use about 200 yards from the house. In order to make a quick sale $900.00 I will let the place go for.....
 I will accept a reasonable cash payment and give plenty of time on the balance. Address
