Beware of the Fate of Hood River

expensive courthouse at Bend at the earliest possible moment. So in Jefferson county, Culver, Gateway, Metolius, Ashwood or any other town might overcome the present voting strength of Madras, the home of the Jefferson county boosters, and take away the county seat plum.

This is primarily a campaign of Bend and Madras for two new county seats and the people who are financing these campaigns will not take any chance on losing the fruits of their labors if county division carries.

If you vote for county division you must expect to begin paying on expensive county buildings just as soon as Bend and Madras can possibly put this burden on you.

For County Surveyor

I hereby announce my candidacy for Surveyor on the Non-Partisan ticket; favoring good roads. I solicit the votes of all parties regardless of political affiliations. FRED A. RICE.

Every Citizen a Legislator.

If you were a member of the legislature, how many of the vicious, business destroying bills that are now on the ballot, would you vote for? We are all legislators in Oregon, and as citizens voting to make laws, we are under just as much obligation to use good judgment in voting for measures on the ballot, as we would be if we were in the legislature. When a man goes into the booth November 3rd to cast his vote on these initiative bills, he should be just as conscientious, careful and thoughtful of the public welfare as he would be if he were a member of the legislature and the same bills came up there to be acted upon.

When you don't know that a proposed law will benefit the state as a whole, the only safe thing to do is to vote "NO." Oregon Commercial Protective Association, Ycon Bldg., Portland, Ore. (paid adv.)

Why Destroy Lumber Industry.

Lumber is by far the most important industry of Oregon. We have one-fifth of the standing timber of the United States in Oregon. Not another sawmill will be erected on the tide lands or rivers of Oregon if these so-called "Water Front" bills pass. The way to defeat them is to Vote "NO" 329 and "NO" 331. Oregon Commercial Protective Association, Ycon Bldg., Portland, Ore. (paid adv.)

OUR NATION'S PRAYER

With man at war with brother man Destruction casts her bloody plan. As one we lift our prayers to thee, As one, for we are brothers all.

We know that by perverted will And not by thy decree or plan, Whose end and aim is harmony, Is man at war with brother man.

Thy light is always broadly cast, And all are equal in thy sight, Thy love is greater than thy wrath, Encompass with thy love and light.

Let us continue in thy way, Not that our own course may be free, But thus, pursuant to thy will, We may the best be serving thee.

One man, one heart, one voice, one creed, In whom has liberty found birth, We ask thy mediation, Lord, And humbly sue for peace on earth. —New York Times.

PERMANENT DESTRUCTION OF ANTWERP IMPOSSIBLE.

Often Bombaraded, but Always Quickly Rebuilt—Due to Port Facilities.

Antwerp repeatedly has been bombaraded and otherwise has suffered from the ravages of war, but each time has managed through the wonderful commercial advantages of its position to build itself up again and to resume its place as one of the great ports of the world.

One of the first things history contains about Antwerp is its destruction by the Northmen in 836. It was rebuilt and developed its wealth until late in the fifteenth century the trade of Bruges was transferred to it by the German King Maximilian.

The protection of Emperor Charles V. enabled Antwerp to become perhaps the wealthiest city on the continent, surpassing even Venice.

Thousands of the industrious and thrifty citizens of Antwerp were banished and sought refuge in England under the persecutions of the Duke of Alva in the latter part of the sixteenth century, and in 1576 the Spanish soldiers massacred 6,000 citizens, pillaged the town and burned down the central part of it. Eight hundred buildings were destroyed and $10,000,000 damage to property was done.

Nine years later the city was captured by Duke Alexander of Parma after a fourteen months' siege, in which it suffered severely. The city then lost much of its trade to the Dutch, and the peace of Westphalia completed the destruction of the city's commerce.

With the collapse of the supremacy of Austria, Antwerp took on a new lease of life. Napoleon I. helped the city by constructing a harbor and new quays. In 1814 the city's troubles began again. It was defended against the allies for a time, but finally was surrendered to the British.

In 1830 the Belgian insurgents captured the city, but the Dutch commander, General Chasse, continued to hold the citadel. He bombaraded the town periodically, doing great damage, and finally in 1832 the French bombaraded the citadel and the town again suffered.

The city did not recover from these calamities to any great extent until 1863, when the right of levying dues on the Scheldt was bought from Holland.

FOOD HINTS FOR PUPILS.

Pamphlet Tells School Children How to Buy Meats.

*The second of a series of pamphlets prepared for distribution in New York's public schools by the mayor's committee on food supply is entitled "What to Buy" and deals with meats.

Flank steak costs much less than top sirloin or round steak, but it makes an excellent roast. It can also be pot roasted or used as chopped meat.

Chuck or round steak costs much less than porterhouse or sirloin and can be broiled in the same manner.

Chuck roast costs much less than rib roast and will make just as appetizing a dish if the bone is removed, the meat rolled and then roasted.

The beef neck is juicy and well flavored. It rarely sells for over 16 cents a pound and makes a good pot roast and excellent stews and soups.

Shin of beef makes a good "beef a la mode." Cut it up the same as for stew, brown the pieces in hot fat; then add water, cook in a pot the same as pot roast and serve with the gravy.

Shin of beef makes a most nourishing soup, and the meat can be taken from the pot afterward and served with horseradish sauce.

If you buy a rib roast of beef have your butcher cut the rib end off so that you can use it for making soup.

Still, an illiterate man never has his love letters read in open court in a breach of promise suit.

He said her hair was dyed, and when she indignantly exclaimed "Tis false!" he said he presumed so.

Lightning never strikes twice in the same place because the place isn't there after the first visit.

A victory for Sir Thomas Lipton would at least be preferable to losing the cup to a rank outsider.
