RESUME OF WORK OF STATE LEGISLATURE

Prohibition Bill. Passed By House, Most Important Measure to Date.

Thirty Bills, None Important, Become Laws by End of Fourth Week-Appropriation Bills Total $3,563,854-House Amends Workmen's Compensation-Would Reorganize Naval Militia-Homicide Bill Passes Senate-$3 Bounty on Coyotes.

Salem.-The most important work accomplished during the fourth week of the present session of the legislature was the passage by the house of the prohibition bill. With only two tion. dissenting votes, those of Kuhn and Lewis, the bill of the Committee of One Hundred, as amended by the house committee on alcoholic traffic, passed the house. As it passed the house the bill permits the importation for home consumption of two quarts of spirituous liquor or 24 quarts of malt liquor in each successive 28 days.

Perhaps the next act in importance, viewing the situation from the angle of economy, was the killing by the house of the bill for appropriating $450,000 for irrigation and reciamation purposes. A few minor concessions to the irrigation interests were granted this week, however. Four irrigation bills were passed. One gives irrigation districts the right to soil surplus electrical power, and another makes state lands subject to irrigation assessments, another gives Irrigation districts the power of municipalities for bonding purposes and the fourth empowers the state to buy approved irrigation bonds.

In the last week the house rules limiting the time for introduction of bills has been suspended several times, and 465 is the total number filed with the clerk to date. In the senate 215 bills have been introduced. The governor has signed nine senate and 21 house bills. Many have been withdrawn and others laid on the table.

Legislators Pass 30 Acts in 27 Days. During the first twenty-seven legislative days 30 bills have become laws

-a little better than one bill a day. That is the record of the legislature at the close of the fourth week. Governor Withycombe has signed precisely 30 measures, although five others are before him. He has vetoed none. Nine of the measures to which the governor has attached his signature are senate bills and 21 are house bills. The five unsigned measures are house bills. Twelve additional house bills have gone through the senate and three additional senate bills have gone through the house.

As a matter of fact none of the bills that the governor so far has signed is important, compared with some of the measures that yet are before the legislature.

house and the senate are prepared to turn out laws by the score almost ev. of this or another state five years or ery day. Already the house has passed more than 100 bills in addition to those acted on by the senate and the governor. The senate also has sent nearly two-score of its own productions over to the house.

Bills Pending Ask for $3,563,854.

Appropriation bills before the house and senate total $3,563.854. This includes recommendations of the joint ways and means committee, which probably will be adopted without change, but the same cannot be said for several of the other measures. Already bills carrying appropriations aggregating almost $500,000 have been consigned to the wastebasket.

The joint ways and means committee has labored more industriously at this session than ever before, with the result that it has reported on a large number of appropriation bills and is expected to act on virtually all others terests and unquestionably will fill the next week. In compliance with the general demand, it is setting a record for economy, although appropriations must necessarily appear large because it costs much money to conduct the state government and its various institutions.

House Acts on Compensation Law.

of workmen's compensation. The bill all aliens. passed provides a series of amendments to the present law, reclassifyrates in proportion to the risk. It also make the licenses and fees collected offering rewards to employers who inishment for those who do not. The almost unanimous vote on this measure is taken to indicate that the house will not act favorably on the Hingham no workmen's compensation law will by the time a farmer procures a warbe enacted by this legislature.

off abolishing the Oregon Naval Mil-Itia it seems now barely possible that the organization may be permitted to live in a changed form, for a bill was introduced in the house by the committee on military affairs, providing for its reorganization, and considerable sentiment exists in favor of it.

Since the passage of the senate bill Withycombe has announced that he doubts whether it is wise to abolish the organization. This attitude of the governor, and appeals made by the navy department for the retention of the organization, are powerful factors in favor of the new bill. It provides for the abolition of the present naval board and substitutes for it a naval staff to con of the adjutant general and two commissioned naval officers to be appointed by the commander inchief It carries an appropriation of $15,000 which is $11,006 less than was asked for originally by the organiza-

County May Build Bridges. Senator Garland's bill, providing that county courts be permitted to reject all bids for bridges costing more than $500 and build them themselves was passed by the senate. It is provided that the courts must obtain estimates of the cost before letting the contracts, but the estimates must be kept secret. When the bill was frest argued several senators insisted that if a bid came within the estimate it must be accepted, but it was not included in the bill as passed. Senator Garland believes the law will save the counties a great deal of money that now goes to bridge construction com

Homicide Penalty Bill Passes.

Senator Langguth's bill making the penalty for homicide in the second de gree imprisonment in the penitentiary of from 20 to 30 years was passed by the senate. It has a saving clause relating to persons already convicted of second degree murder. In a bill in troduced by the same senator which was passed, the punishment for first degree homicide is life imprisonment. The changes were necessary because of the amendment passed by the people abolishing capital punishment.

Coyote Bounty Bill Passes Senate. Under suspension of the rules, the senate passed house bill 13, which provides for a bounty of $3 on coyotes during the remainder of this year. The state is to pay half the bounty and the counties the other half. The bill was passed with an emergency clause, as it is reported that conditions in the eastern Oregon countles are serious on account of rables among the ani-

It is probable that an appropriation of $100,000 will be asked to pay the state's share of the bounty. Two years ago $40,000 was appropriated for the bounty. A deficiency of $20,000 was incurred. An appropriation will have to be made also to take care of this deficiency.

Insanity Divorce Basis in Bill. Permanent insanity is made ground for divorce by a bill introduced by Sen ator Langguth. It is provided that be fore a divorce shall be granted, in-A big rush of bills is expected in the sanity being the allegation, it shall be governor's office this week. It also must be proved to the court in which the divorce is asked that the patient is incurable;

Legislative Brevities. The senate passed house fill repealing a law providing that dogs caught pursuing deer be abot.

A joint resolution authorizing the superintendent of public instruction to annotate and publish the school laws of the state was adopted by the actuate.

What is regarded by many as one of the most important new laws enacted is that repealing the free textbook enactment of the last session. By passing this measure the legislature has saved itself a controversy.

Dan Kellaher introduced a bill in the senate providing for weekly payments of various employes, which is said to have the support of certain labor inhalls of legislation with lobbyists,
