Filthy Innuendoes

When an alleged newspaper so forgets itself as to wallow in the mire of dirty gossip it has reached the end of its usefulness. Self-respecting parents should not permit the foul sheet to pollute the minds of their children.

Good for the Cause of Education

The most constructive piece of educational legislation enacted for a number of years is that contained in Senate bill 64, by Senator Perkins, providing for a high school tuition fund. Under the provisions of this bill every boy and girl in the state may obtain a four-year high school education free of any tuition charges," said State Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill.

Under the provisions of Senate bill 64, a special tax shall be levied in every county once a year upon all the taxable property in the county, not situated in any high school district, to produce a county high school tuition fund sufficient to take care of all pupils who attend high schools outside their resident districts.

The bill does not affect those counties now maintaining a county high school, or those counties in which the county high school fund law now is in operation. Every high school receiving pupils from other districts must file a report with the county school superintendent once a year, showing the actual cost of educating each high school pupil attending such school. The per capita cost shall be determined by dividing the total amount expended by the high school district for maintaining high school during the school year, by the average daily attendance of pupils enrolled by the high school of the district for the same year.

Another bill of interest to the school teachers of Oregon is the Moser bill, providing that women teachers shall receive for like services pay equal to that of men teachers.

By House bill 97, two slight changes were made in the Union High School law by Mr. Dillard. Hereafter it will require a majority of districts voting to establish a union as well as a majority of those voting in order to establish a union high school district.

Senate Bill 11, by Mr. Dimick, provided in the original bill that the county supervisory law should be repealed. The friends of the supervisory law made such a showing that Senator Dimick consented to withdraw his bill and amend it so as to make it optional in each county. The optional bill was agreed upon by Senator Dimick and the senators who were supporting the supervisory law. It provides that the law stand as it now is, but that in any county the school directors may, by a majority petition signed by a majority of the school directors of the county, set aside the law for their particular county.

Governor Wythecombe has issued a proclamation setting aside Friday, March 12, as "Canned Salmon Day," and urging the people of the state to use as much as possible of that food on that day.

Sow Marquis Wheat.

The year 1914 was a very poor crop year and 1913 was almost as bad in this part of Oregon. Those who have lived in this part of the state longest know that the country never has experienced more than two dry years in succession.

Although there has been a decided shortage in moisture already this winter, every indication seems to point to a wet year, the weather for the past few days especially so. With the present price of grain fifty per cent above the previous world record, and some one-third of the wheat fields of the earth devastated, it seems that the farmers can make no mistake in planting spring wheat.

Of the various varieties, the Marquis wheat which was introduced by F. S. Towner is perhaps the best. It showed a yield of almost twice as much per acre as other spring kinds on Mr. Towner's place the past two years, and was adjudged the best wheat in competition with all other kinds at the New York land show held three years ago. At this event the exhibitor took a $10,000 prize with wheat grown in Canada, and a small amount of this original prize wheat was secured for Mr. Towner by Prof. Shaw of the Hill railways.

A test given by Mr. Carlson of the Prineville Flouring Mills proves the Marquis to be the best wheat ever brought into the local mill, leading Blue Stem, Turkey Red and all other favorites.

Sow spring wheat and sow as soon as possible, and sow Marquis if it can be had. Keep enough hogs to work over the stubble fields after the wheat is cut, and you can make no mistake.

Free Corn for Our Farmers

Commencing March 1, seven tons of acclimated seed corn will be distributed among farmers in the territory served by the O.-W. R. & N. railroad by C. L. Smith, the company's farmer. It is the intention to see that each farmer receives enough seed to plant at least two acres, which will enable him to prove to his own satisfaction that it can be made a success. The high price of wheat making impossible the use of that grain for stock feed, a greater acreage of corn will be planted next spring than ever before and special efforts will be made to preserve the fodder to take the place of hay in feeding cattle.
