

BRIEF NEWS OF OREGON

The northwest district convention of the churches of Christ is being held in Gladstone this week.

At a good roads meeting held in Heppner $2000 was raised by popular subscription for good roads.

A conference of the United Evangelical Churches of Oregon was held at the church of that denomination in Corvallis.

The Willamette Valley Editorial association will hold its regular bi-monthly session in Springfield, Saturday afternoon, April 24.

Two little girls have died as the result of injuries sustained in rig accidents within two weeks in the eastern section of Linn county.

Dairy and milk inspectors from all parts of the northwest met this week for the annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest Association of Dairy and Milk Inspectors.

Never before in the history of the Willamette valley has such large acreage been placed into crops, is the opinion of W. P. Powers, traveling passenger agent of the Oregon Electric.

A fruit canning and drying plant is practically assured for Glenada. The details of organization are completed and the stock is rapidly being subscribed for by farmers and merchants of the lower Siuslaw.

H. P. Hoey, engineer of the Willamette-Pacific, says that the grading of the road between Coos Bay and Eugene is 95 per cent completed and bridge work at Siuslaw and Coos Bay is progressing satisfactorily.

Baker will have a cleanup day for dogs April 12, following the civic beauty cleanup two days earlier. Mayor Palmer says there are at least 200 worthless canines on the streets and that the danger of rabies is great because of them.

Governor Withycombe has reappointed Mrs. J. Doyle, of Portland, a member of the State Board of Examiners and Regulation of Graduate Nurses. The other members are Frances McLane, Portland, and Olive Osborn, Medford.

Members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church are entertaining in Eugene 75 delegates from all parts of the Willamette valley to the annual convention of the Women's Missionary Society, Willamette Presbytery.

The construction of the $60,000 plant to be built at The Dalles for the firm of Libby, McNeil & Libby already has been started, and part of the machinery is now en route to Oregon. The buildings will cover 536 by 132 feet, or about two city blocks.

Representatives of nearly all the water power states in the west will meet in Portland the coming summer, in accordance with the invitation issued by the Oregon legislature, to consider pending legislation by congress affecting water power development of the west.

J. D. Mickle, state dairy and food commissioner; M. S. Pittman, of the extension department of the Oregon State Normal School, and G. V. Skelton, of the faculty of the Oregon Agricultural College, will be the principal speakers at a big community meeting at Scio, April 10.

The death of Captain Alphonso Boone, a great-grandson of Daniel Boone, carries away the last survivor of the Boone emigration across the plains to Oregon in 1846. Captain Boone's death occurred at his home near Sumner, Coos county, Oregon, March 29, in his 78th year.

Forty-seven accidents, one fatal, were reported to Labor Commissioner Hoff during the week. Fifteen of the accidents were on railroads and 13 in lumber mill and yard operations and logging camps. Lou York of Miami was the victim of the fatal accident, being killed by a railroad train.

Governor Withycombe reappointed Dr. H. H. Olinger of Salem, a member of the state board of dental examiners. He also appointed Dr. Herbert H. Schmitt, of Portland, a member of the board to succeed Dr. Frank Vaughan, whose term expired on April 1. Dr. Olinger has been a member of the board for several years.

Dr. G. E. Watts, a Portland physician, with the Hazel Investment company, became owner of the Sargent hotel, on the northwest corner of Hawthorne and Grand avenues, in Portland in exchange for all assets in the North Yakima Maiting & Brewing company of North Yakima, Wash., and a $50,000 mortgage held against a large ranch near Stanfield. E. A. Baldwin was the second party to the trade. The deal involves $400,000, properties exchanged on each side being valued at $200,000.

An imaginary line is the waist, which seldom stays long where it's placed. But ambles and skips 'twixt the shoulders and hips, according to popular taste. -Harper's Magazine.

The optimist had been disappointed in love. "Oh well," he mused. "I should probably have been disappointed in marriage, anyhow." -Puck.

SHOE STORE NEWS!

Our window this week tells some of the story of the lengths we go to secure the best—even then we sometimes hear of a faulty shoe—but we guarantee shoe wear for your money. Patent and tan leathers cannot be guaranteed like other leathers, but for real style and dress nothing can take the place of the patent leather shoe or pump.

For heavy wear, take our shoe salesman's advice on shoes for men, women and children and you will be well shod.

The right shoe for ranch or city, for miner or farmer, for stockman or lumberman, is found here.

Give our shoe store a trial. DOUBLE GREEN TRADING STAMPS ON FRIDAY in this department.
