Road to Mitchell Is Now Complete

The road over the mountains to Mitchell is now open to travel and several horse drawn vehicles have already crossed. Forest Supervisor Ross states that although no automobiles have undertaken the trip, they will have no trouble as the snow is all gone and the road bed is hard. He also states that the snow is quite deep in several places on the old road which crosses at a higher elevation.

A crew of men is now working on the north slope widening the grades and crowning up the road bed getting it in shape for the summer travel. These men are being paid from what is called the 10 per cent item fund, which provides that 10 per cent of the gross receipts from the National Forests revert to the counties for the construction and improvement of roads.

American Ships Touching British Columbia Ports are Warned.

Seattle, Wash.—American steamship companies operating between Seattle and Alaska ports and Seattle and San Francisco were notified by the British admiralty that all German, Austrian or Turkish passengers or members of the crews would be removed from any vessel calling at a Canadian port and held as prisoners of war. As a result of the order, the Pacific Coast Steamship company immediately discharged 10 German members of the crew of the steamship President, which sailed for San Francisco. Two German passengers who had purchased their tickets were not allowed to board the President.

Washington Tax Reduction Shown. Olympia, Wash.—The total 1914 taxes being collected in Washington this year amount to $36,818,416, the state tax commission shows from a compilation of county treasurers' tax rolls. Does the Consumer Pay for Trading Stamps Given by Retail Merchants?

This question is frequently asked by the public and many attempts have been made to an answer by merchants who do not allow their patrons this rebate for cash trade, which approximately amounts to 3 per cent.

In most every instance, the merchant who does not give trading stamps will endeavor to lead the public to believe that trading stamps are given at the expense of the consumer, while it is generally conceded by the average merchant that even 5 per cent is not an unreasonable deduction for strictly cash trade.

The distribution of trading stamps is a mere method of advertising and the expense of such advertising is not imposed upon the public more than is the expense of newspaper and billboard advertising by merchants who pursue the latter methods.

The merchant who gives the trading stamp offers the consumer a 3 per cent rebate on cash purchases. If this merchant is 3 per cent higher on the same quality of goods, then the consumer is paying the expense of the trading stamp. If price and quality are equal the merchant makes the distribution at his expense.

WE INVITE THE PUBLIC to carefully compare our prices and quality with those of merchants who do not give trading stamps.
