JUDGE DUFFY MAKING GOOD

Judge Duffy's first term of court is a matter of history. There were but three men before him for sentence, the others who were accused having been eliminated before they reached that stage.

The first man sentenced was Milburn who had some trouble with his neighbors over an irrigation ditch. He was given a fine of $50 by the judge, which was remitted during his good conduct. He entered a plea of guilty to the crime charged.

Garrett Stark, a 19 year old boy plead guilty to jail breaking and was given a sentence and paroled. Weightelt was found guilty of assault and at the recommendation of the jury, was given a sentence which the judge saw fit to make light and upon which the prisoner was paroled.

The last two men named are to report at regular intervals to the court and to conduct themselves properly at all times. In all three cases the prisoners were given good lectures by the judge, and should benefit thereby.

This is a better kind of justice, a kind that will do more for the men themselves, and more for the state than to associate them with criminals of the blackest type.

We feel that this is a great improvement over the justice that was the rule twenty years ago when men were given informal necktie parties down on the Crooked River bridge and elsewhere and that Judge Duffy should be commended for his stand in these matters for which he will some day become justly famous.

COMING ISSUES

At the banquet at Bend Friday night two announcements of political interest to Crook County were made.

One was that Vernon A. Forbes is to be a candidate for the office of State Senator at the next election, from this district. Forbes is a man of resources, a fellow who "gets by" and his past record in the affairs at our state capitol is such that should and in fact does insure his election to the senate. In his speech at Bend, the Governor said that Crook County is to be congratulated on having a Forbes, and that his record was an enviable one.

The other announcement, carrying the more weight as it came from C. S. Hudson of the First National Bank of Bend, to the effect that Bend would either move the county seat for Crook County, or divide the county, at the coming election. He stated also that should this matter remain unsettled after the coming election, that it would come up again at every election, just so long as Bend exists.

While it has been conceded that this matter would come up again the formal declaration of war had not been made previously to this time. It seems that Bend is laying plans for this conflict and the Prineville people should not be asleep, but should unite in this matter, either on one side or the other, and care for its interests. The question is one of vital importance, and the interests of practically all of the people in Prineville are the same. It is a case where united action is greatly needed, and the action of all of Prineville's business men should be governed by the opinion of the majority of them.

How Much Is $25.00?

That depends. It might have taken a week to earn it or it might have taken but an hour. The only real answer to the question is to see what it will buy, and that brings us to the bargains. We hope it will bring you to them. Buying jewelry is like making love to a lady; there is no danger of over doing it. We bought a large stock of jewelry last fall. Although some things have gone up since the European trouble, we cannot eat jewelry. We need money, therefore we are giving 15 per cent off until July 10, on all except contract goods.
