

DR. NORRIS NOW ON TRIAL IN THE DALLES

Arrested Monday on a Warrant from Wasco

ANOTHER STATUTORY CHARGE

Bondsmen Asked For Release From $5,000 Bond and Request is Granted

Dr. E. Rea Norris, the Bend physician who was found guilty in the circuit court in this city last week on a statutory charge and was sentenced to a term of from one to twenty years, was taken in custody again on Monday on a warrant issued in the circuit court at The Dalles and it is understood that he will be placed on trial this afternoon in that city. The charge against him this time is rape, and the penalty is fixed by law at from three to twenty years.

H. H. Cofoid, who with H. S. Cram was on the $5000 bond of Dr. Norris which bond secured his release pending the result of the appeal to the supreme court after his conviction last week announced Tuesday that he had withdrawn from the bond after having all the particulars in the case.

When taken into custody, Dr. Norris was found by Sheriff Knox, on the Deschutes between Crescent and LaPine where he had been in seclusion after his release last week.

He was lodged in the local jail Monday night and held here Tuesday, and later was taken to The Dalles and put in the Wasco county bastille.

The charge under which he is being tried is a part of the same matter for which he was tried here, and will admit of practically the same evidence. Many of the same witnesses who appeared here have been subpoenaed for appearance at once before the court there. The deeds for which he will be tried were committed in that county which makes procedure from that court the proper step by the officials.

Considerable feeling has grown about this case, and it is not probable that the defendant will be shown much sympathy in this trial.

The attorneys who defended him here will not appear for him in The Dalles. Just who the defending counsel will be has not yet been announced.

Prineville Stenographer May Be a Rich Woman

Miss Goldie Wagoner left Friday on a two weeks' trip to Portland and Seattle. Miss Wagoner has been informed that she is one of four heirs to an estate valued at seven million dollars, which is said to have been left by a relative in Missouri, but according to her informant, the estate cannot be settled until the other heirs are located, some of whom she hopes to find in the Washington city and in a short time come into her own.

State Insurance Commissioner Harvey Wells has just issued a valuable little booklet on fire prevention. It is free for the asking. Address Harvey Wells, Insurance Commissioner, Salem, Oregon.

Fair Grounds Will Have Electric Lights

A contract was signed with the Deschutes power company by the fair board today, which provides for electric lights on the fair grounds during the fair this year. This will enable the fair to be in operation during the evening, at which time concessions will be at their busiest. Manager Shattuek says that it will be necessary to work day and night shifts on the construction of the line, but that the service will be there as contracted for.

PRINGLE KILLED AT BEND ON TUESDAY

Was Crushed by a Train on Railroad Crossing

Charles Pringle, an employe of the Bend Hardware company, was killed in a grade crossing accident about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, at Bend.

Roy White, of the Manandy Livery company, and Pringle were returning from the powder house in the southeast part of the city with a wagon load of dynamite. The morning Oregon Trunk train was switching and had the grade crossing at the Ohio street block.

Believing that the train was clearing the street, the two men started to drive across the tracks. Before they could cross, the train started back and caught the wagon, demolishing it.

White, who was driving, jumped to safety, but, Pringle was caught in the wreckage of the wagon and shoved along the track for about 20 feet. Each of the horses escaped injury. Pringle was unmarried and had lived in Bend for several years. He has two sisters living in Seattle.

FINAL PLANS MADE FOR TRIP TOMORROW

Boosters at Luncheon Today Discuss Details of Trip

At an informal luncheon today at the Hotel Prineville, the plans were laid for a trip tomorrow that will put the county fair on the map in approved style.

The cars will start at 7 tomorrow for the circuit. The band, which will accompany the crowd on this, consists of ten pieces, which is just half the number that will play at the fair, and several selections will be played on the streets here before the start.

Fourteen cars have been signed up for the trip, and a number of others will be listed before the start.

A committee consisting of R. L. Schee, J. B. Bell and H. A. Kelly, will arrange the details of lining up the people who are to go, and assigning them to the several cars.

The McCall truck will be used for the transportation of the band, a trouble, or service car will accompany the flock of motors, and all details for the needs of the party will be arranged by the committee.

Dinner will be had at Tumalo, after the other towns have been visited, and at that point the West Side Fair will be in progress.

At the luncheon today was decided that each Saturday, luncheons will be held at 12, the first of the series to be on Saturday of this week. All who are interested in the betterment of conditions generally should attend these meetings.

Only six days until the Crook County fair.

PLANS ALL READY FOR THE BIG COUNTY FAIR

One week from today the annual Crook County fair will be in progress in this city. We have told you a number of times that this fair will eclipse all the past events of this nature in Central Oregon, and to prove this contention we will give a brief outline of what the visitors to the fair will see this year.

THE BEGINNING

Starting eleven years ago this October, when a temporary board shed was erected on the old race track where the high school now stands, this fair has grown to be one of the best county fairs in Oregon.

At the beginning the people of the country predicted utter failure. This prediction always comes with every new venture, and the board had a hard fight over a period of a half dozen years, to keep the institution alive. The race horse was the dominant factor, and the farmer and his "pumpkins" were given a hard tussle for recognition.

BUSY EVERY MINUTE

From this start the growth of the fair idea has been constant until it has reached a point where it will be satisfactory to everyone this year.

The management have recognized the fact that the people are entitled to entertainment of the highest order and to this end a program has been arranged for this year that will keep those who visit the fair entertained every minute of the entire four days.

A number of free attractions have been added, and the tiresome delays that have been noticeable at other fairs will not bother at this one.

BALLOON DAY AND NIGHT

While a balloon act always furnishes a thrill for old and young alike, the developments in aerial navigation during the past year has made possible things that would have been deemed suicide a year ago. The well known McClellan Aviation company of Spokane has contracted with the management of the fair to put on feats that have never been seen before this year.

They will send up an aviator, who after reaching a height of 2000 feet or more, will drop from a balloon, and after the parachute opens he will make a second drop, and later a third dive toward the earth. These spectacular flirts with death in the clouds will be made daily during the fair.

At night, ascensions will be made in the city, and after reaching a sensational height in the dark, a beautiful display of fire works will be discharged in midair. These feats alone will be worth coming many miles to see.

MANY NEW STUNTS

Automobile races, motorcycle races, buckaroos night shirt races, potato races on horseback, stage coach races, stage coach holdup hitching race, slow mule race, novelty races, and many other features besides the usual running races will make every day a day that you cannot afford to miss.

The management is proceeding on the theory that it is better to please than to disappoint, and will guarantee that every visitor is well satisfied with the show made here.

MARVELOUS ROXALEZ WILL APPEAR

Each afternoon there will be a free act in front of the grandstand, and on some of the days two or three acts, by a man who calls himself the Marvellous Roxalez. This man is playing at many of the fairs in the northwest this year, and is at the Hippodrome Theatre in Spokane this week.

He has a combination of acts that cannot be excelled, and will furnish a half hour of clean amusement each day in front of the grand stand.

LOTS OF GOOD MUSIC

The music this year will be furnished by a Crook County band, Ashley Forrest of Bend leading. They will have a 20-piece band, and will give concerts, both on the street during the day and in the evening. If you like good music, and lots of

Governor Will Be Properly Entertained

Plans for the entertainment of the Governor and his party on Saturday at the fair are well under way.

The reception committee with a number of cars, will meet the train at Metolius at 5:20 in the morning, and the party will be in Prineville before the train reaches Redmond. Breakfast will be served at the Hotel Prineville at 7 o'clock. Besides the reception committee there will be the members of the fair board, commercial bodies and other prominent men present.

At 12 a luncheon will be served on the fair grounds where every one will be given an opportunity to meet the Governor and hear him speak.

THE JOURNAL INSTALLS ANOTHER NEW MACHINE

Latest Model Big Job Press Now in Operation

The Journal this week added a new series Chandler and Price printing press of the largest size to its office equipment.

The new press is a 14 1/2 x 22 of the latest pattern, is new and up to date in every respect and represents the last word in the job press line.

It will print a hand bill or poster the size of a page of this paper, or will print one line on a calling card with equal ease.

The press which weighs 3100 pounds, was shipped from the Spokane branch of the type founders establishment on Tuesday of last week, and reached this office in just one week.

The smaller press will be kept in commission also of course, and the two jobbers will enable us to handle more work, and larger forms than ever before. In fact there is nothing in the printing line that cannot be turned out from the Journal shop, with the equipment which we now have in operation. The increased demand for high class work, and the variety of demands, has made the installation of this new press a good business proposition.

The support of the business houses of the community, and the people of the county has made the installation of this added equipment possible and necessary, and for this support and patronage we are duly thankful.

It will be the plan of the shop, in the future as in the past months, to add further equipments just as fast as the business will warrant it, and a better paper, and better work will be our aim at all times. A power folder is now being considered which will fold the newspapers and smaller work as well.

In the nine months in which the Journal has been in control of the present management we have made a number of important improvements, in the way of new machinery and much new type of the various kinds, and there are now at all times four people on the regular staff, and another will perhaps be added shortly, and all are busy all the time.

We stated in our introductory announcement that we believe in Prineville and the future, and we feel that our acts have been in accord with those statements. We think that there are great things in store for the Prineville country during the coming months, and shall do all that is possible to assist in these developments.

ADA SEARS WINNER OF SECOND SPECIAL PRIZE

Another Will Be Given During Four Days of Fair

ANYONE MAY COMPETE FOR THIS

Votes Already Credited Will Not Count For the Third Special Prize

Ada Sears is the winner of the watch which was given by the Journal as a second special prize in the voting contest, and was presented with the watch on Monday. Others of the candidates are showing good gains, four of the leaders being very close together in their standing, while others are changing positions somewhat as the contest advances.

During the fair the third special prize will be given. This is a 15-jewel Elgin watch, in an "O" size hunting case guaranteed for 20 years. The case is an Illinois, gold filled, and beautifully engraved.

This watch may be seen in the show window of Percy R. Smith's jewelry store, and as anyone can see, is a beautiful watch. It retails regularly at $25.

The rules governing this special prize are as follows: Any one may compete, whether they are a candidate for the piano and other grand prizes.

The votes will be counted every evening and the result of the count for the day will be published and circulated each day on the fair grounds.

No votes will count excepting those turned in during the four days of the fair. The votes that any candidate has voted will not be considered in the contest for this special prize. All votes received in the contest for the special prize will be counted in the contest for the piano and other grand prizes.

Turn in your votes early, for people like to help a candidate that can help herself.

The standing of the candidates at 3 o'clock yesterday was as follows:

Pearl Osborne,	64,470
Birdie S. Norton,	56,540
Ada Sears,	54,670
Jessie Jones,	53,150
Ivy Harris,	32,290
Tessie Houston,	21,310
Abbie Wilson,	18,220
Vera Dunham,	14,650
Blanche Rowell,	12,370
