Prineville Public School News Notes

The second grade pupils looked quite in keeping with Halloween as they marched out on last Thursday with their black cat and witch caps.

Mrs. Noble and Reinke were visitors of the fourth grade last week. We appreciate these visits from parents. Come again.

While driving to school last Thursday, Hazen Cram's buggy broke down causing him to return home to have it repaired.

The third grade pupils of the Prineville Public School are starting out on an imaginary trip to Portland. They expect to spend several weeks on the road. A great deal of interest is being aroused.

The Thanksgiving program which is being planned by the third grade will include a playlet in which the following children will take part: Doris Claypool, Genevieve Smith, Gordon Stearns, Katherine Elkins, Lewis Reavis, Edith Gray and Dale Lafollette.

The second month of our school year was completed last Friday. The registration at that time showed that two hundred fifteen pupils were in attendance. The first grade is full to overflowing having an attendance of forty pupils, while two other rooms each have an attendance of over thirty pupils. It was found that one hundred thirty-seven pupils were neither absent or tardy during the last month.

The seventh grade is at last comfortably settled in their new seats. Twenty-four new adjustable seats were installed in this room last Monday.

In Seeking Quantity Consider QUALITY

"Preferred Stock" Eliminates the ARGUMENT

When Abraham Lincoln said that "All men are created equal," we believe he had a reason for not concluding that all would remain equal thereafter. We also believe that what applies to man in this particular case applies to the principle of scientific merchandising. While our beloved Statesman did not pass judgment on the quality of Preferred Stock Canned Goods, we believe he would have done so voluntarily, only that he was ushered on, on a preceeding link of this great endless chain of time.

The key to economy is careful purchasing of dependable merchandise. This does not mean the buying of cheap goods, but the best quality of goods for the least money.

"THE STAFF OF LIFE"

Bread has been called "The Staff of Life." It is. It is the staple food in every home—the chief article of diet on every table. You seldom sit down to a meal without it. Regardless to the skill applied to the art of bread-making, it is impossible to make good bread without a good quality of flour
