C. C. H. S. NOTES
Robert W. Osborn, Editor.
The annual inter-meeting of the Ochoconian and Alpha Societies was held in the assembly room of the high school on Wednesday December 15, and was attended by several visitors.

The first number of the program was a solo by George Stearns, who by reason of his excellent singing is becoming a great favorite with the students.

Hazel Yancey recited a pleasing story of an Indian Christmas episode.

Beatrice Clark played an entertaining instrumental solo.

Doris Fisher gave an entertaining talk on the origin of the Christmas tree.

The selections by the Boys' Quartette, consisting of Estes, Powell, Rice and Stearns, were well received by all.

Maude Donohue recited, and was followed by Helen Van Nuys, who read quotations of various authors on Christmas.

An instrumental duet by Alma Lippman and Lillian Dinwiddie was the closing selection.

The Normal girls are assisting in decorating for the Community Christmas, and the songs which will be sung at the gathering are being practiced in assembly so as to enable us to contribute a share in the festivities.

Miss Conway's Senior English class evinced much interest in the study of Shakespear's "Macbeth", which they finished this week.

The ribbons received from L. W. Hill for school exhibit in 1913, have been made into an attractive banner and placed in the assembly room.

A candy sale by the Domestic Science class was well patronized Friday evening.

Roy Newell "put one over" on his friends last week. He went to Vancouver Tuesday night and was married yesterday to Miss Clara Healey, daughter of Jeff Healey of the Lamonta country. Roy's friends will await impatiently for his return when he and his bride will no doubt receive a warm reception.—Madras Pioneer.
