 High winds Monday night broke the wires on the Deschutes Power Company trunk line at one of the steel towers near the Cove plant and put the line out of commission for about 20 hours. These towers which carry the line up the rimrock from the Cove plant to the lands above, are about 600 feet apart, and the hill is about a 30 per cent grade. Current was supplied from the Cline Falls plant of the same company while the line was being repaired.

Ed Campbell of Roberts had a narrow escape on Friday of last week when he was knocked from a sage brush grubber and rendered unconscious. The machine was hauled over him by his team of mules, and he can't figure how it all happened without killing him outright.

to take up the sale of potatoes in 100 pound and car-load lots with dealers and others in Portland and San Francisco. Inquiries for several car loads of potatoes varying from first class table to extra fancy baking potatoes have been received. The membership fee of $1.00 per year will be charged members and it is hoped that all those growing potatoes in the Deschutes valley will become members of this Association and assist in creating a demand for the potatoes grown in this section. Crook and adjoining counties should be able with their present disease-free potatoes be able to control a large market for fancy potatoes at fancy prices. The business of the Association this year will be small but through sales made at this time a demand for large shipments of next seasons crop should be created. All parties interested in the development and market of potatoes for this section are invited to join this association and assist in the development of the potato industry.

 A. E. Lovett, Secretary.
