Are Your Hens Laying Eggs or are they Non-Producing For the Lack of Proper Winter Foods and Attention?

HOW TO GET MORE EGGS

In winter a regular system of feeding should be adopted and steadily adhered to throughout. Give your hens a comfortable shelter with plenty of light; keep dry, clean and well ventilated, but avoid draughts of cold air. Feed regularly a variety of good clean food. Table scraps thickened with bran, boiled together, are also very good in winter, to which add a teaspoon-full of DR. HESS' POULTRY PAN-A-CE-A as directed. Give in a mash of wheat, bran and shorts which should constitute the morning feed. In winter give warm. Small grain should be thrown among chaff, which will compel the fowls to exercise. Keep fowls well supplied with fresh water and plenty of grit, bone or oyster shell. Keep your hens free from lice by adding DR. HESS' INSTANT LOUSE KILLER in the dust bath every other week.

NEW IDEAS

It used to be that a man went into the nearest store and said: "Give me a collar, size 15." Now he goes into a certain store of his choice and says: "I want a blank collar, you know what style."

It's just one example of how specialized store service has revolutionized buying by simplifying it. Men appreciate being served as individuals when they find a store that gives them such attention, where values are to be found and where their satisfaction is looked upon as the most important feature. That's where they are going for their needs.

Ours is a store of that caliber ---a dollar buys a dollar's worth and the man who buys a neck tie is treated just as well as the man who buys a Clothcraft suit or overcoat

Come and satisfy yourself on this point
