Political Campaign Getting Under Way

this move, and it is general talk at this time that a convention resembling the old party primary will be called at some central point a little later where lines will be decided upon.

In district politics little has been done as yet. Congressman N. J. Sinnott will no doubt be a candidate for the national house again and will be a hard man to defeat.

W. Lair Thompson of Lakeview is the only candidate who has been announced for the state senate from this district. Other men are being mentioned for the place, and Thompson will no doubt have opposition for the senatorial honors.

Denton G. Burdick was the first man in the race for representative and seems to have gained considerable support from various parts of the district, the general impression being that he would be the candidate from this county for that office.

Vernon A. Forbes announced himself last week however, and a lively scrap is sure to result.

Wesley O. Smith of Klamath Falls is conceded to be a candidate for this office, and is a strong man. As there are two to be chosen and Klamath is entitled to one of these, Smith seems sure of one of the places.

J. N. B. Gherking of Tumalo will probably be a candidate for this office on the democratic ticket his friends say. He is a good man and will draw a good vote from his party no doubt.

The office of circuit judge from this district, which is composed of Crook and Jefferson counties, promises to be a lively contest, with a three cornered lineup at the present indication.

Judge T. E. J. Duffy is announced for that position to succeed himself and he has many friends throughout the district who are said to be working hard for him, although he will perhaps have no opposition in his own party at the primaries.

M. R. Elliott of this city, who is known to all the older residents of the district, and who has many friends, will probably be a candidate for the place. He has made no announcement, but has made no secret of the fact that he will do so soon.

M. E. Brink, who has also been a resident of the city for many years and in point of service is said to be the pioneer of the legal fraternity, "the dean of the district bar," his friends are pleased to call him, will be a strong and active candidate for circuit judge. Mr. Brink and Mr. Elliott are republicans, and this would be a matter for decision at the primaries. Judge Duffy is a democrat. Announcements of the republican aspirants will probably be made soon.

Getting down to the county ticket, more interest has been shown, and in some instances, notably that of sheriff, there will be no lack of men to fill the offices.

No names have yet been mentioned in connection with the office of commissioner excepting that of H. J. Overturf, the present incumbent. He has made good, and it seems at present as if there would be no opposition to his election.

For sheriff there are already four candidates in the field, and rumors of new ones every day. E. B. Knox, present incumbent will be a candidate on the democratic ticket, and P.-B. Poindexter, who

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it. Scott & Bowers, Bloomfield, N. J.

is county coroner at present, will contest the nomination with him. J. H. Stanley of Bend, who gives his address as "Alfalfa precinct" is a candidate for the republican nomination, and Mr. Roberts, who is the town marshal at Bend is in the running for the nomination on this ticket also.

At least two other Bend men have been mentioned in connection with this office. J. F. Blanchard and L. N. Nicholas of this city are also mentioned as candidates on the republican ticket.

For clerk, Warren Brown has said that he will again be a candidate but has made no formal announcement as yet. Several men have been mentioned for the republican nomination for this position, but to date no formal announcements have been made, and considerable interest seems to center around this office.

The office of assessor seems to have but little attraction for the average politician. H. A. Foster who is present incumbent, told the Journal reporter yesterday that he would perhaps make an announcement a little later. While he has decided to make the race, or practically so at least, he has not yet announced himself. He is a democrat, and no one has yet been mentioned who wishes to contest his nomination. A republican named Carroll at Bend, has announced that he is a candidate, and will of course be nominated should no other republican enter the field.

R. L. Jordan, republican, and present incumbent, will probably be a candidate for treasurer, although he has not reached the point where he wishes a formal announcement issued.

J. E. Myers, also republican, will be a candidate for reelection to the office of school superintendent. While several rumors have been current about other candidates for this office, none have materialized as yet.

The other offices which will be filled at this election have not been mentioned, and as soon as such mention is made the fact will be noted here.

For the information of the voters and all readers of the Journal, the announcements of candidates will be grouped on page 2, as fast as the announcements are received, and on that page also, we will run at some time during the campaign, some facts about every candidate that will be of interest to the voter especially.

As the campaign promises to be a warm one, don't forget to watch for these articles. They will help you get acquainted with the candidates.

Missionary Movement Throughout State

all male members of every church organization of Oregon and Southwestern Washington

The convention will be addressed by 12 or 14 of the most prominent men connected with the missionary movement of the world, both at home and abroad.

No collections will be taken up, nor will money be raised in the convention by any other means. The total cost to each delegate is a registration fee of $1. In return for that sum of money the delegate is given a ticket that entitles him to attend the lectures given by the great orators who will speak at every session. Delegates who wish to be present should send their names to John A. Goodell, Y. M. C. A. Building, Portland, together with the registration fee.

The Portland meeting is one of 75 similar meetings to be held in and in that way have kept this line open, and will connect with regular service there as soon as it starts again.

Throughout Central Oregon the storm has been less severe. In Prineville the new snow has measured only about three inches today, and at Lamonta and points in Jefferson county only six inches to a foot is reported.

At Redmond about a foot of new snow fell during the past 48 hours, and similar reports come from points south of Redmond.

In the country south of Prineville the same condition practically prevails. Near Paulina the total depth today is about 14 inches. At the H. J. Lister place the same condition exists, while at Marion Morgan's ranch about twenty inches is reported.

Near Post the total snowfall during the past three days has been about 16 inches, although it will not measure that depth at present.

Prineville people who are snow-bound in Portland or on the road between Fallbridge and that point are: J. F. Blanchard, D. F. Stewart, L. N. Nichols, T. S. Barnes, E. T. Slayton, J. B. Doherty, H. A. Kelly, Geo. Dixon and a number of others.

various cities of the United States. They are organized for the purpose of arousing the United States to a sense of the opportunity for spreading the gospel of Jesus throughout the world at a time that offers a great opportunity for the work.

The foreign wars have so disorganized society that it is believed the missionary organizations must be called into action to help restore order and peace.

The meeting is being boosted by, and has the endorsement of the Portland Chamber of Commerce.
