FAIR PLAY.

While there will be those who will not agree with the line drawn by the joint East-Side-West-Side committees at Bend Monday night, none who watched the workings of those men and who know of the facts can say that the feeling of fair play did not predominate.

The East Side committee fought stubbornly for the lines which were agreed upon by these same committees at a meeting held a week previous, and while the committee of 25 Bend men voted with but one dissenting voice to support the same line during the afternoon on Monday, the Bend men insisted on giving in to changes that would satisfy more people along the lines.

The agreement to these changes was made by the committee from the East Side only after hours of deliberation and after hearing the petitions and from delegates direct from every community represented.

A CLEAR CASE.

Occasionally there occurs in the day's news, pathetic stories that have a strong human appeal, intermingled with the commonplace occurrences.

One such is an article that gives the details of a suit for $10,000 that has been filed by the mother of six children against the owners of a saloon before the prohibition days, which statement alleges that the plaintiff's husband had been ruined by the illegal purchase of liquor from the defendants and is now an inmate of the state insane asylum.

The press is commenting somewhat freely on this matter, because of the fact that the suit is brought and not because the father of those six children was ruined, and became a decided liability to the state instead of a breadwinner and a good citizen.

The very nerve of that wife and mother of only a half dozen children! No doubt these men owned one of those "nice clean orderly places" that we so often hear about and had a sign over a side door that said "Family Entrance." Run purely in the interests of the family of course. Looking more particularly to family income probably.

It matters little about the result of the suit. That a cash damage is due the family there can be no question. But there is a court of justice where these men and others who have been prominent will not be able to have much influence, where they will not be able to assist in the selection of the jury, and there real justice will finally be done.

LOST.

There has been lost to Crook county, we hope only temporarily however, one perfectly good harmony meeting. Redmond had the first one, Prineville followed a month later by a banquet which made up in numerical attendance what it lacked in harmony, and Bend's turn came in June. Under the conditions it might be more appropriate to hold this third meeting in October, but we leave the date entirely with Bend.

Hundreds of deaths in the cities from the heat, and the loss of and damage to crops everywhere but in Oregon is but added proof that this is the best state in the land, and a look over the Central Oregon country will convince anyone that this is the best part of the state.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excited; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions.

It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength.

Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.
