Items of interest from friends both in and out of the city have been received at this office too late for publication in the current issue several times recently. What is good news this week, is ancient history next, and for that reason they may not appear at all. Many thanks for the items and try to get them to us before Wednesday next time. We want to use them just as much as you want them used.

News of the Films

Fair week always brings a number of unusually good programs to the Lyric and this year is no exception judging from the foretaste of what is to be offered.

Charles Chaplin, the comedian whose weekly stipend is well in excess of the modest sum of ten thousand dollars appears tonight in "The Woman," in which he does a clever bit of impersonation. Two animated cartoons by Raoule Barre, a scenic and a jungle zoo picture are additional numbers.

Friday the 1915 Pendleton Round Up Pictures will be shown. These pictures eclipse any previously made at this world famous show not even excepting those just completed this year. The most difficult feats in riding, roping, tying, bulldogging and racing are shown by the camera far better than the individual would have seen from the grandstand, for in many instances the camera is but a scant six feet from the liveliest kind of "action."

Saturday four single reel pictures are scheduled, all of them good, especially "Some Boxer," with Billie Reeves, which is a lively farce on the boxing game.

On Sunday the five-part Triangle play, "The Deciple," portrayed by Wm. S. Hart, will be screened. This is a western play, the story of a fighting parson and is filled with comedy and pathos, thrills and heart throbs. Of it the New York Press says: "It is something to see a two fisted minister hold a whole mining camp at bay and at the same time practice his holier office." "Saved By Wireless" is a two reel Keystone comedy with more than the usual number of typical Keystone stunts which thrill, yet amuse.

At a meeting of Lyceum and Chautauqua managers which is being held in Chicago, and which is being attended by all the big men in that work in the United States, J. B. Hard, Mr. White and Mr. Ellison, all of whom are more or less known here, are in attendance. The Chicago Herald on Monday morning printed a group photograph containing the pictures of these three men.

A well is being drilled by Fred Hoelscher on his ranch north of Prineville. It is situated about one half mile east of the residence, and has reached a depth of 335 feet, the greater part of the distance being solid rock. There is no water at this depth, and the drilling will be continued.
