WHO HOLDS THIS OFFICE

Young Resigns, Huston Petitions, and Kelly is Acting

The question today in local politics is: Who is the county surveyor of Crook County?

George S. Young of Bend qualified for this office and failed to take up his residence here. He was notified by the court that he must do this, or resign by March 7.

Yesterday his resignation was filed with the court, and at the same time a petition with over 200 signers was presented asking the court to appoint Wade Huston to the position.

H. A. Kelly who has been doing some work for the court during the apparent vacancy, was absent yesterday, and his friends say that his successor never actually qualified, and that he is the real surveyor.

It is a question that the court will settle today, and the outcome is difficult to predict at this time. At least two members of the court appear to be friendly to Huston, and may favor his appointment, if a vacancy exists.
