ety met in the parlors of the church last Saturday afternoon and in recognition of the inspiration and assistance rendered them by Mrs. Ryda Pond in raising the $500.00 indebtedness on the church recently, surprised her by presenting her with a case of choice perfume. The presentation on behalf of the society was made by Mrs. Shipp, to which Mrs. Pond replied in a happy and gracious manner. Mrs. Pond has contributed at various times recently over $100 to the church.

She said, "You see it is only a bit of sentiment. I lived in Prineville when a girl and was converted and joined the church here, in the old Methodist church, and I love the church, and am only too happy to do this."

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of Crook County Journal, published weekly at Prineville, Oregon, for April 3, 1917. State of Oregon, County of Crook, ss. Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Guy Lafollette, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor, publisher and owner of the Crook County Journal and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 463, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the name and address of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager are:
Publisher, Editor, Managing Editor, Business Manager, Guy Lafollette, Prineville, Oregon.

2. That the owners are:
Guy Lafollette, Prineville, Oregon.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgages, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are:
None.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affirmations, full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

GUY LAFOLETTE.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 3rd day of April, 1917.

What are You Paying

THE EXTREME advancement in the cost of food stuff during the past few months has brought the consumer face to face with a serious condition. Economical buying is no longer in vogue, it is a universal study. While it has been a sort of custom among the American people to buy at random, disregarding prices paid for merchandise and the quality received in return, conditions are changing. The advancement of the cost of merchandise is greater in proportion to the increased earning capacity of the average individual, therefore it becomes necessary to weigh the value of the dollar. Buying goods at random is not only precarious but it is avoidable extravagance. The merchant who is best prepared to serve you at the

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

(By Our Regular Correspondent)

The seniors addressing the assembly Monday morning were Estelle Conway, and Hobart Reams. Miss Conway's subject "Parents and Paigentry" was well handled and delivered in the best of style. We are all glad to be represented by Miss Conway at Bend in the declamatory contest. Mr. Reams was no less effective, taking for his subject the "Ancient Farming in Peru."

Rev. F. C. Laslette, the new pastor of the Baptist Church, spoke to the student body at the close of the senior addresses. He furnished us with subject matter for a hearty laugh. He was applauded back to tell us one more story. We hope he will come again and start us right for the week's work.

Caroline Thronson and Rader Prewett each won a prize of $5.00 for the best essay written in favor of the bond issue for road development.

The freshman class of C. C. H. S. will give a farcical comedy at the Lyric Theater Thursday evening April 5. This performance is expected to exceed all other such performances of its kind that have been given.

Superintendent Thordarson, of Bend, has invited our cadet company to put on some drill work during the morning of field day meet. This matter will be taken up with the company and if it can be determined that this will interfere in no way with the work of the boys in track, we will be glad to put on the parade.

The High School received its flag Friday morning and appropriate patriotic exercises were held culminating in the parade and the first public appearance of our cadet band and company.

The following are the names of the students who will take part in the final contest for the Baldwin cash prize of $50.00; Ochoomians: Luckey Bonney, Oza Myers, Walter Barney. Alphas: Adrian Yancey, Lynn Cram and Luther Barney. This contest furnished more opportunity for development and ability than any other contest of the school for the reason that each contestant is required to write his own oration and his production is graded on thought as well as on delivery. Miss Nell Sykes, a former member of the faculty of C. C. H. S. has been elected president of the Honor Guard Society of Salem, which organized with about 46 members.
