JOURNAL IS ON A LIST

The American Press Association has just issued what they are pleased to term their A1 list of country newspapers.

To secure a place on this list, every paper must be known to the American Press Association as practicing the most modern business methods, especially regarding foreign advertising, and must pass the most rigid inspection regarding circulation and in every way demonstrate that each publication is in a position to give what the advertiser pays for in the way of circulation and other service.

These people are perhaps the very best judges of this service in the country, and their opinion should be worth something to other advertisers.

We are pleased to note that The Journal has a place in the short list of publications of this sort.

If it were a case of "making hay while the sun shines" the crop would indeed be bounteous.

FRIENDS ARE GROOMING GEN. WHITE FOR GOVERNOR

Judge Samuel White, of Portland, Oregon, who is being prominently mentioned as a candidate for Governor at the next election, has resided in the State of Oregon for thirty-two years. Judge White is distinctively an Eastern Oregon man, having resided in Baker, Oregon, for more than twenty years where he served as District Attorney and Circuit Judge. He has always taken an active interest in public affairs and has been identified at all times with matters of public concern. He managed the campaign in 1902 when George E. Chamberlain, our present United States Senator, was elected Governor of this state. He is at present Chairman of the Democratic State Committee and President of the State Bar Association. He is a lawyer of recognized ability and a profound thinker along the lines of civic betterment and governmental reforms. Judge White has thousands of friends throughout the state who have watched his career and believe that he possesses to a high degree those qualities which would make of him an ideal chief executive and are urging him to become a candidate.
