

CENTRAL OREGON MUST PRODUCE MORE

"This little empire of Central Oregon should supply everything it needs to consume excepting sugar, tea and coffee," said President Wm. Follman when addressing the Cattle & Horse Raisers' Association here on Monday. "It will be necessary to do that, and provide a large amount of food stuffs for shipment to Europe too very soon," he continued.

"No rancher should permit his employees to use any canned goods or any thing in fact that the farm can produce.

"There is already a world famine of fats because of a shortage of hogs and dairy products, and before we know it, the nation will be allotting the supply of food to every family in every part of the United States.

"We have all been living too well and will find it necessary to live on much less, a mere fraction of our present supply, before the war in which we are now engaged is won.

"All are willing to help, but most of us are slow to set about it. The conservation of feed for livestock, of all kinds of food stuffs for our families, the canning and preservation of fruits and vegetables, are all included in the things that are necessary to make the efficiency of the nation what it should be and what it must be to prevail in the cause that we all know is right.

"Every man, woman and child in the land has an important work to do and more than thirty millions of people will be necessary, and they must all devote all of their time to the preparation of food stuffs and supplies for the army of five million men that our nation will have in Europe next year.

"This is a very serious matter, concluded Mr. Follman, and will all come home to every one of us soon."

Mr. Follman is intimately connected with the workings of the government in regard to these things, and says that many people fail to realize the fact that we are dealing with the stern realities of war, on a scale the world has never before seen.

RECEPTION MONDAY EVENING

Pastor and Wife Will Be Formally Introduced to People

A reception will be tendered Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Fertig at the Methodist church Monday evening of next week to which all persons are invited.

Rev. and Mrs. Fertig are both members of the Eastern Star order, and come to the community with the highest recommendations.

The reception will be from about 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

Concerning them the Nezperce, Idaho, Herald in its issue of September 29 says:

"Another family of our best citizens will leave Saturday when Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Fertig take the train for their new home at Prineville, Ore., to which place he has been assigned as pastor of the M. E. church. For three years they have resided and labored in this community, and the fine brick church building under construction here is only one of the more tangible monuments their efforts have merited. It would have pleased the many friends of these good people if conference had permitted them another year here. Prineville is the county seat of Crook county, Oregon, and is a larger place than this. The people of that community are to be congratulated upon securing Rev. and Mrs. Fertig. They are true and sincere people and 'builders up,' not 'tear downs.' They are the sort one would rather address with, 'how do you do' than 'good bye.'"

"On last Monday evening the local chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star gave a farewell reception to Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Fertig, who will leave this week for their new home in Prineville, Oregon, and Jess W. Robertson, who departs Saturday to join the army. Some fifty members of the order were present. The program included social features and a banquet spread; the latter being provided by the ten members present from the Ho-Vollmer contingent. At the close of the banquet each of the honored guests was given as a parting token a handsome pin of the order."

S. L. Wiggins, of the O. W. R. & N. is in the city today.

Elmerine Kayler broke her arm just below the elbow yesterday afternoon while playing with some children at the home of her aunt, Mrs. N. G. Wallace. Elmerine is the daughter of Mrs. C. P. Becker, of Tumalo, and is visiting her aunt in this city.

STOCK SHOW IS FINE AT INTER-STATE FAIR

found there watching the demonstration one can easily imagine that the days of dobbing are numbered, or that he is due for a fine long rest in the green pastures.

The pavilion is well filled with first class farm exhibits, art and industrial exhibits and a well arranged school exhibit. The fruit display is good, and a more liberal showing of flowers than usual adds a pleasing touch to the pavilion.

Just inside the grounds is to be found the Indian village. Anyone living on the Prineville-Warm Springs road during the past two days could easily imagine that the red skins had again gone on the war path, and residents of the city who were not too near the concessions Tuesday evening could easily provide further proof of the fact from the war dance that progressed far into the night. The tom-tom and weird cries of the dancers recalling to the pioneers earlier and less civilized days.

These people are enjoying the fair immensely, and will do their part toward providing entertainment throughout the week.

Down town are the concessions in variety. Two of the merry-go-round type, a Ferris wheel and the usual array of smaller shows and fakirs and all the rest are doing a rushing business.

The Oregon Inter-State Fair is an established institution, and is truly destined to a place high on the list of first class fairs in the northwest. Yesterday's winners were:

2:25 pace—Maude De Fine, J. E. Johnson, Walla Walla, first; Alamandan-Onward, Efan, second; time 2:24. The winner of second in this race is a three-year-old, which took the money over two older horses.

Quarter mile dash—Brandy, first; Ben Tone rider; time 24 1/4.

Half mile dash—Buster Brown, Ben Tone, first; time 52.

Two good squaw races were run also, a wild horse race in which seven bad ones were entered, besides many bucking exhibitions and other wild west features.

A balloon ascension with triple parachute drop took the place of the flying machine and will be on the program each day this week because of the inability of the flyer to arrive.

A fat cow is on exhibition in the big livestock tent and everyone is urged to guess on this animal if they wish to do so.
