SPECIAL TRAIN WILL BRING FAIR DELEGATES

LADIES FROM ALL PARTS OF STATE TO VISIT OUR CITY

OPENING EXERCISES MONDAY

Oregon Federation Women's Clubs Will Hold Annual Meeting Here Next Week

Monday evening at 4:30 o'clock a special train will deliver the delegates to the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs annual meeting, at Redmond.

The delegates will be banqueted and loaded into automobiles for the eighteen mile trip to Prineville. At 8 p. m. a reception will be tendered them at the Methodist church in this city. This reception will be open to the citizens of the city but adults only will be admitted.

Tuesday evening there will be a sunset picnic at the Cram ranch east of the city.

Thursday morning from 6 to 9 a cowboy breakfast will be served on Davidson field.

This is being planned by a committee of stock men consisting of Geo. Russell, Alex Hinton, Raymond Calavan, Geo. Dickson, and E. T. Slayton, under the able supervision of Mrs. Ada B. Millican.

While we have not yet been furnished the official menu for this spread, we venture from the personnel of the committee, that it will consist of things more substantial than ice cream and breakfast foods. All meetings of the Federation are open to everyone in the city.

Credentials are being received in large numbers in every mail by Mrs. Collins W. Elkins, who is in charge of local affairs, being president of the Ladies Annex.

These are but a few of the high lights in connection with the big meeting, which is the most important meeting of ladies from the state at large that has ever held in an interior town.

For more particulars concerning the events, see the complete program, which is printed in this issue.

CHRISTMAS FOR CROOK CO. BOYS AT THE FRONT

Parents and relatives of every man who has enlisted from Crook County for the present war are earnestly requested to send the names, company, regiment or ship in which they are serving, or their latest known address, to the undersigned.

The most of the money necessary for this purpose has been subscribed but it will be necessary to raise about fifty dollars additional to send a generous present. Any person desiring to subscribe to the cause can see Mr. Geo. Euston at the Crook County Bank and add his mite to the Christmas fund.

In any event it is necessary to have the names and addresses of the boys so that a present will reach them and it is also necessary to send the boxes about the first of November so they will all reach their destination in time for Christmas.

Report addresses to either the commander or adjutant of the camp and all work will be done by the Spanish War Veterans of Prineville. By order of the Commander, W. J. SMELZER.

RALPH PORFELY HOME BURNED EARLY TODAY

The little cottage of Ralph Porfely on the east end of Second street, was destroyed by fire about seven o'clock this morning.

The blaze originated apparently from an overheated stove pipe flue, and was well under way before being discovered by the inmates of the dwelling.

Because of the fact that there are no water mains to this district as yet, but little could be done toward extinguishing the flames. The building was a total loss, but most of the contents were saved.

A bucket brigade was unable to do much good for the reason that no water could be had at a convenient distance.

The dwelling was recently purchased by Mr. Porfely from Mrs. M. L. Everett.

RABBIT FUR FOR HATS

Eastern Manufacturer Will Pay 5 Cents Each For Pelts

Five hundred thousand Oregon jackrabbits are doomed to slaughter because the largest felt hat manufacturer in the United States after conducting a long series of experiments covering a period of more than a year has found that selected Oregon rabbit fur is eminently adapted to his use.

Representative Sinnott has been asked to procure and ship 500,000 jackrabbit skins.

It is expressly stipulated by the manufacturer in placing his order that certain conditions must be met if the skins are to be accepted.

First and foremost, the rabbits must not be killed until they have on their heavy winter coat of fur. Second, the skins must have all flesh scraped off and must be properly dried with a small amount of salt rubbed in to preserve them.

For skins prepared in the manner stated the manufacturer will pay 5 cents each f. o. b. cars in Oregon or $25,000 for the first order.

Disregard of the terms will turn the hatters to other states. Up to the present time, jackrabbits' fur from Oregon only has been used by Eastern hatters in their experimental tests.

BREEDERS FORM LIVE STOCK ASSOCIATION

The Central Oregon Pure Bred Live Stock Association was organized in this city recently.

Such organizations while new in the Central Oregon country, have long been well established in those middle western states noted for the production of pure bred live stock. It was such an organization that was instrumental in bringing the representatives of the Brazilian government to Waukesha, Wisconsin, to buy bulls. A similar organization which is proving the success of the idea was formed in Union County, Oregon, this spring and their breeders' directory is now attracting the attention of buyers and the live stock world in general, to the merits of the animals owned in Union County.

The objects of the organization as defined at the Prineville meeting were as follows:

(1) To establish a reputation for the Central Oregon country as a breeding center.

(2) To promote, encourage and improve the production of pure bred live stock.

(3) To advertise the opportunities of the country for pure bred live stock growing and to advertise the breeders and their stock.

(4) To issue annually a directory of the Central Oregon Pure Bred Live Stock Association containing a list of the members and the breeds of registered stock bred by each as well as to furnish space for ads, cuts, etc.

That there is ample need for such an association and such a directory was well recognized by those who saw the live stock exhibits at the Oregon Inter-State Fair. Attention was particularly directed to the Shorthorns exhibited by M. R. Biggs, the Angus by Warren, Dickson & McDowell, and the splendid Delaine Merinos and Rambouillets shown by the Baldwin Sheep Company. Such animals are worthy of prominence in the show rings and live stock circles throughout the entire northwest, and in fact anywhere. The Central Oregon Pure Bred Live Stock Association by means of its directory will be of assistance in bringing this about.

The officers and directors of the Association are as follows: President, M. R. Biggs, Shorthorn cattle, Prineville; Vice-President, Henry McCall, Jersey and Holstein cattle, Prineville; Secretary-Treasurer, R. A. Ward, county agricultural agent, Redmond. Directors: S. S. Stearns, Hereford cattle, Prineville; G. H. Berkley, Rambouillets and Delaine Merino sheep, Hay Creek; John Kemling, Jersey cattle, Prineville; E. C. Park, Jersey cattle, Redmond; Sam Woods, Jersey cattle, Redmond and C. M. Elkins, Pure Bred sheep, Prineville.

A director's meeting will be held in the very near future to adopt a constitution and by-laws and to arrange for the publication of the directory.

IMPETUS GIVEN LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN HERE

PROMINENT PORTLAND MEN IN PARTY OF SPEAKERS HERE

$15,000 SUBSCRIBED QUICKLY

Forty People Subscribed During the Brief Interval the Speakers Were in Our City

A very enthusiastic crowd greeted the Liberty Loan committee on their arrival in Prineville, Monday at 11:30, in a large yellow Locomobile loaned for the trip by E. V. Houser of the Multnomah Hotel.

The first speaker was John H. Stevenson, formerly judge of the municipal court in Portland, who explained why we were compelled to enter the war and predicted the ultimate ending and that victory must and would be for the allies and that the United States would be the determining factor. He said in part that our young men were sacrificing their lives and that when they go to the front they must have the warmest clothing and the best food that is possible to give them. To make this possible he urged everyone to stand back of the government and buy Liberty Loan Bonds. "We will not be satisfied," said Mr. Stevenson, "until the Sammies march into the city of Berlin singing, 'There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight', and draw the stars and stripes on the statue of Emperor William."

The next speaker was L. C. Gilman, president of the S. P. & S. Ry. J. L. Etheridge, of Morris Bros.' famous bond house of Portland, concluded the speaking by explaining the bonds. He spoke of what a safe investment they were and said that it was the patriotic duty of every loyal citizen to purchase as many bonds as he possibly could.

Forty people subscribed to the Liberty Loan and over fifteen thousand dollars' worth of bonds were sold during the short time the committee was in the city.

They were accompanied on the trip by newspaper reporters from the Portland dailies. From here they went to Klamath Falls.

CROOK COUNTY HIGH GETTING UNDER WAY

A reception was tendered the Freshmen by the Seniors last Friday evening in the English room which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Refreshments were served in the Domestic Science dining room which was also decorated with autumn leaves and pennants. The seniors proved themselves delightful hosts and hostesses.

Columbus Day was celebrated with speeches from representatives of all the classes. Those representing the different classes were Norma Winans, Seniors; Hazel Yancey, Juniors; Walter Barney, Sophomores; and Ladocia Jacobs, Freshmen. Prof. Baughman also gave a very interesting talk after which patriotic songs were sung by the assembly.
