

A Trick of the Spice Trade

There are tricks in all trades, so we have been told for years. A trick of the spice trade, is to use off-grade, immature spices for grinding. This is the practice of about nine out of every ten spice grinders. We believe we were the first Pacific Coast Spice House to use exclusively first quality spices for grinding. Our profits are clouded by this practice—but our patronage is broadened. So our loss is in reality a gain. If first quality spices are your desire, insist on the Crescent Brand. Buy a can of pepper, nutmeg and allspice today. Also write for authoritative spice book. It's free. CRESCENT MFG. Co. Seattle, Wn. (8-2)

Help the Boys at The Front!

A Dance will be given by H. B. Winfield at his Hall at Terrebonne, Oregon

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 23, 1917

Come one, come all, to this Grand Ball For sake of the boy who's answered the call So we at home can gladly say We helped the Sammies on their way. If we do not our duty do The soldier has no friend that's true, Now while they are fighting for the cause, We should help without a pause. Remember those whom death does face, Have anything but a pleasant place, While we at home are safe and free Should help the boys across the sea. Now, if we our part do share, They'll rout the enemy everywhere, Then Stars and Stripes in glory stand On what they now call No Man's Land Then they will stop that awful fight With hearts of glee, and full of delight. Then homeward comes that Soldier Boy, For Heaven knows no greater joy.

—H. B. Winfield.

FIFE ITEMS

(By our Regular Correspondent.)

E. E. Chapman and wife have secured work at the Dixon Brothers' ranch for the winter. They expect to start in a few days for a two weeks' visit with Mr. Chapman's mother who lives near Portland. They will drive through in the Ford which they purchased recently from the Inland garage.

Mrs. Stanley Balfour and little son, Stanley Jr., are visiting with her mother, Mrs. John McEachern. Word has been received that Bill Lozier has joined the navy.

Mr. Scammon sold his cattle to Charley Ivy, and his horses to Mr. Monroe. He has gone to Bend for the winter.

Although the crowd at the dance was not as large as usual everyone enjoyed the evening. The next one will be given Dec. 7th.

The pupils of Riverdale school having all moved away, Miss Lowden gave up teaching and left for her home in California.

Guss Lemkey and family have gone to Bend for the winter.

Boys who have been delivering beef in Prineville report hay and pasture very scarce in the lower country.

Mrs. B. F. Shepherd sold her cattle and leased the ranch for five years to Frank Foster and Dean Huston.

Charley Sherman, who was appointed by W. F. King to collect for the Y. M. C. A. in this precinct, was on Buck Creek for that purpose. He says only one party thus far refused to contribute.

Claude Wilson returned Friday from a visit with his people in Bend.

Miss Mace Wilson has gone to spend the winter in the Valley with her sister, Mrs. Nelson.
