GERMAN DRIVE SWINGS TO WEST

Teutons Are Endeavoring to Crush In Salient at Soissons.

French counter attacks drove the Germans back between the Marne and the Meuse, where the enemy is making its greatest effort to advance toward Paris.

A violent German attack astride the main highway from Chateau Thierry to Paris, paralleling the north bank of the Marne, broke down under French fire.

Employing the Marne river as a shelter to their southern flank, the Germans are trying to push westward between the Oise and the Marne.

They have made some progress on this front between Noyon and Chateau Thierry, but are being held in the center along the Marne and on the eastern flank between Dormans and Rheims.

With their left wing touching the Marne and their right linking up with the battle front at Noyon, the Germans in their new offensive are hammering the allied line apparently with the hope of crushing in the Soissons salient and opening up the way to Paris by way of the Marne and the Oise.

Completely checked at the Marne, the Boches are trying to break down the allied resistance on the wings of the new Champagne front—at Rheims and in the region of Soissons.

YANKEES CONTINUE TO RAID GERMANS

With the American Army in France. American forces northwest of Toul carried out another successful raid against the German lines.

The American troops went over the top along a front of 500 yards. At the same time the American artillery opened fire. The men advanced behind the barrage, while the guns pounded the enemy lines and rear areas.

The Americans penetrated the German positions to a depth of 400 meters. They found numbers of dead Germans who had been killed by the American artillery fire. Information was secured and the Americans blew up defensive works and dugouts. The casualties on the American side were insignificant.

German artillery severely bombarded the new positions of the Americans at Capigny, west of Montdidier. They fired as many as 4000 high explosive shells in a brief space of time. Several attempts made by the Germans to come over were repulsed with heavy losses by the Americans.

GERMANS BOMB HOSPITALS

Canadian and American Red Cross Buildings Raided by German Airmen

With the British Army in France.—German airmen have bombed another hospital—this time a Canadian institution—and exacted a considerable toll of casualties. Among those killed by the explosion or flames was an American medical officer who was administering an anaesthetic to a British officer in the operating room. The raid occurred at 12:30 o'clock in the morning.

The hospital attacked was a large one and was marked by huge Red Cross signs.

With the American Army in France.—German airmen made a pretentious night raid on the area behind the American lines in Picardy. Bombs were dropped on all sides of one of the largest hospitals in a town many miles to the rear of the front. American and French wounded soldiers were carried to cellars and caves by American nurses and members of the American Red Cross.

May Ship Output Large.

New York.—In May the United States built and put into commission 250,000 deadweight tons of shipping and during the last week let contracts for $250,000,000 worth of shipping, declared Charles M. Schwab, government director of shipbuilding, at the annual dinner here of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Sweden Releases Ships to U. S.

Washington.—More than 400,000 tons of ships are released to the United States and the allies by Sweden under the terms of the commercial agreement signed at Stockholm by representatives of the two governments, the state department was notified.

Take Care of Your Tires. America's greatest need is for ships—more ships. Every available vessel is being utilized in government service. Many ships that have been carrying rubber from Sumatra and Brazil have been taken for active transport duty. The number now left to bring rubber to this country is extremely limited. This will necessarily force a temporary curtailment of tire production. So, make the most of the tires you have. Use good tires. Take good care of them. Keep them in perfect repair. See that they are properly inflated. Increase their mileage by careful driving. Keep out of car tracks and away from bumps. Don't scrape the curb or apply brakes too suddenly. Get every mile your tires have in them. Only in that way can you be assured of your car's continuous service—and remember, your tire is a vital war-time necessity. So again, —take care of your tires. United States Tires are Good Tires. Includes image of a tire and a car.
