LOANS TO FARMERS.

The War Finance Corporation of the Treasury Department will make loans, in exceptional cases, directly and without the intervention of banks, to live-stock raisers, whose industry has been classified as one necessary or contributory to the prosecution of the war.

These loans are to be made under section 9 of the War Finance Corporation act, and the loans will be made to individuals, firms, and corporations whose principal business is the raising of live stock, which includes cattle, goats, sheep and hogs.

For the present only the Federal Reserve banks of Kansas City and Dallas are designated as agencies to execute these loans, which are to be made to live-stock raisers who are experiencing great difficulty in their operations owing to drought conditions, though cattlemen from other districts are not excluded from the benefit of section 9.

The War Finance Corporation has also effected an arrangement for extending financial assistance to the canners of New York State.

A DAILY DUTY.

Each day every American soldier in France is confronted by a great duty. Our Army there has a great task to perform for our country, for the world, for civilization, and for humanity. Our soldiers are doing their duty with a courage and fidelity and efficiency that thrill every heart.

Each day every American citizen at home is confronted by a great duty as imperative upon him or her as the duty of our soldiers is upon them. The American people have a great task to perform. It is to support to the limit of their ability our Army, our Navy, our country at war.

To work with increased energy and efficiency so that our national production may be increased; to economize

I Have a Rendezvous With Death---

I have a rendezvous with death At some disputed barricade, When Spring comes back with rustling shade And appleblossoms fill the air—I have a rendezvous with death When Spring brings back blue days and fair.

It may be he shall take my hand And lead me into his dark land, And close my eyes and quench my breath. It may be I shall pass him still——ALAN SEEGER, (Killed in Action July 5, 1916.

C—Charles Scribner's Sons.

This American did not fail that rendezvous—and death did not pass him by. When he died the world lost a true poet. His death brings out in sharp relief how much one soldier who is lost to us—one man killed—may mean to the world.

So let us keep our rendezvous at home—our rendezvous with life. Let us look into our lives, our households, and see that they are mobilized for war. Let us save our money to save these men who daily have rendezvous with death. Let us keep our rendezvous with life and help them to win through and to come back to sunshine and happiness and home with victory on their banners.

in consignment so that more material and labor and transportation may be left free for the uses of the Government; and with the resultant savings to support the Government financially is the daily duty of every American. It is a duty that will be met by every American whose heart is with our soldiers in France, who glories in their courage and fighting ability and their success.
