TERREBONNE ITEMS

Of course Terrebonne went over the top in the Fourth Liberty Loan drive—four thousand was the quota but she beat it.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Elliot died last Saturday and was buried in the new Terrebonne cemetery.

Charles Douglas' threshing machine has recently broken down and the owner does not intend to run any more this year. This is a serious matter for the community as few machines are available.

The people of Terrebonne were very generous in donating their cars in which the teachers and school children were taken to Redmond Friday to see the war relics.

The school is planning for quite an industrial exhibit on the afternoon and evening of October 18. Many of the articles exhibited will be donated for the Red Cross sale that evening.

A very pleasant reception was given on the school faculty last Friday evening by the church. A short program was given. Rev. McVicker gave the address of welcome, responded to by Mrs. White. Miss Dietrich gave some musical numbers and Mildred Mildred delighted her audience with some recitations.

WOMEN AND THE WAR

By MRS. HENRY P. DAVISON

Treasurer War Work Council National Board Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Davison

Hostess Houses in the military camps all over the country are one phase of the Y. W. C. A. War Work Council's activities. These reception houses are placed at the entrance to the cantonments for the use of women visiting their soldier relatives. So necessary have these proved that tents and borrowed rooms were pressed into use until houses could be built. Often the Association rooms in the nearest town were turned temporarily into hostess houses.

"We put up an extra cot," reported one western secretary, who returned to tell the War Work Council the special needs of her community, "for an old Lithuanian mother who came a hundred miles to see her boy in camp. She cannot speak a word of English and she has to have her old black pipe every hour. But her boy loves her.

"Another charge bestowed upon us is the girl-wife of a 'bootlegger' arrested for selling whisky to soldiers. He was wild with anxiety about her till we said we would look after her.

"A thirteen-year-old imp has just been turned over to our care. She ran away from a convent, and, being adventurous, made straight for camp."

Any hostess can tell you heart-breaking stories of times when the hostess house has been the refuge of stricken women. She can tell you also of incidents when the hostess house has brought about a happy ending.

Prayers of gratitude for the Hostess House are murmured every night in many towns by women who are of no particular importance to any one except to some man in the army—and to God.

The commandants of the camps are as appreciative of the hostess houses as is the most forlorn woman. No house is erected except at the direct request of the commanding officer. Fifty-four houses are now in use, others are being built as fast as lumber and carpenters can be secured.

Each house has its individuality. The plans for the building at Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Georgia, were redrawn by Miss Fay Kellogg in order to save three magnificent oak trees. A fine old Southern mansion secured for the Young Women's Christian Association headquarters at Petersburg, Virginia, is as popular with the soldiers from Camp Lee as is the official hostess house.

The hostess houses serve the entire nation.

The work with girls is one of the most important functions of the War Work Council. It deals with all kinds of work with girls. Girls in small towns, in cities, in country villages, and in the great manufacturing centers are all touched by the unusual conditions of a country in a state of war preparation. Their patriotism may urge them toward unexpected pitfalls. Their very enthusiasm leads them into danger.

SUBMISSION OF BULGARS DEMANDED

Must Break Off Relations With Central Powers and Demobilize Her Army.

London.—Entire submission is the only ground upon which the allies will grant the Bulgarian armistice, according to best information available here.

This means not only surrender of the armies outside the country, but demobilization within, the giving up of all arms, munitions and military supplies, and utilization of Bulgarian territory by the allies for further military operations, pending final peace.

Before the allies will consent to an armistice, Bulgaria must do the following:

Break off completely her relations with Germany, Austria and Turkey.

Demobilize her army.

Evacuate all foreign territory occupied by her armies.

These are the terms reported to have been dispatched to Bulgaria. Meanwhile, the allies have definitely refused to suspend military operations while conferring with the Bulgarian peace delegates at Saloniki.
