AUTOMOBILE ROAD MAP OUT

Is The Official Document Of The State Highway Commission—Gives Mileages

A new highway map has just been issued by the State Highway Commission, which shows the importance of Prineville in the highway system of the state.

Loading from every direction, like spokes in a wheel, eight highways are designated, centering at Prineville.

This is a greater number than any other town, excepting only Portland and Salem, each having the same number as Prineville.

Trans-State lines leading north and south, and east and west pass through this, the oldest and best situated city in the interior, as well as the road from Baker to Eugene, through the John Day valley.

The new map, which is a beautiful piece of work, shows the distances from one point to the next along the automobile roads, in even miles.

Distances given from Prineville to principal points over these roads are as follows: The Dalles, 147; Portland, 238; Eugene, 135; Burns, 153; Lake View, 197; Klamath Falls, 139; Mitchell, 53; and Baker, 221 miles.

The relatives and many friends of Neal McKenzie regret deeply to hear of his premature death, which occurred on Tuesday evening, November 12, 1918, at Paulina. The agent of his untimely departure was pneumonia, which was contracted from the Spanish influenza.

Why Compare Beef and Coal Profits?

Swift & Company has frequently stated that its profit on beef averages only one-fourth of a cent a pound, and hence has practically no effect on the price.

Comparison has been made by the Federal Trade Commission of this profit with the profit on coal, and it has pointed out that anthracite coal operators are content with a profit of 25 cents a ton, whereas the beef profit of one-fourth of a cent a pound means a profit of $5.00 a ton.

The comparison does not point out that anthracite coal at the seaboard is worth at wholesale about $7.00 a ton, whereas a ton of beef of fair quality is worth about $400.00 wholesale.

To carry the comparison further, the 25 cent profit on coal is 3 1/2 per cent of the $7.00 value.

The $5.00 profit on beef is only 1 1/4 per cent of the $400.00 value.

The profit has little effect on price in either case, but has less effect on the price of beef than on the price of coal.

Coal may be stored in the open air indefinitely; beef must be kept in expensive coolers because it is highly perishable and must be refrigerated.

Coals handled by the carload or ton; beef is delivered to retailers by the pound or hundred weight.

Methods of handling are vastly different. Coal is handled in open cars; beef must be shipped in refrigerator cars at an even temperature.

Fairness to the public, fairness to Swift & Company, fairness to the packing industry, demands that these indisputable facts be considered. It is impossible to disprove Swift & Company's statement, that its profits on beef are so small as to have practically no effect on prices.
