CHRISTMAS TO BE

STORES HAVE EXCELLENT STOCKS, ALL MADE IN U.S. A.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT MANIFEST CONDITIONS ARE OF THE BEST

Trade Is Already Brisk And Shoppers Are Manifesting The Old Time Holiday Spirit

So far as Prineville shoppers are concerned, there is absolutely no demand for goods that were considered standard a few short years ago, especially at this season of the year.

The well known and at one time expected "Made in German" leaked. pected "Made in Germany" is looked for today by practically all shoppers the merchants tell us, and instead practically all goods are marked "Made in U. S. A." instead, which accume to have a good effect on the shoppers, for sales are starting more readily this year than for some time back.
There is a good showing of Christmas goods in the stores and shops, and prices seem very reasonable con-sidering the conditions under which the country has suffered for some

There is a decided difference in the attitude of shoppers this year, and much of the old time Christmas spirit seems manifest. Anyone who cannot find what he or she wants for Christmas gifts in the Prineville places of business is indeed hard to please.

The range of offerings covers practically every line and the quality is better than can be found in many of the larger places.

On behalf of the national agricultural advisory committee, and on my behalf as a breeder and producer of livestock. I wish to endorse the "Intervalous" to endorse the 'International' unreservedly, to commend it for the great work which it has done and is now doing, and to express the hope that the attendance at the forthcoming exhibition may be such as to give fresh assurance that the breeders and feeders of the country are alive to the weighty responsibilities which ret upon them, not only as factors in supplying the sinews of war, but as holders of the blood reserve from which the wasted herds of other lands may be built up in the approaching days of peace."

The plan decided upon at this meeting provides for the elevation of the lower or down stream side of the dam first to a height of 34 feet or more, with sufficient width at the peak to withstand the pressure against it, and after this is completed which may be long before spring, to proceed with the entire body of the structure as fast as possible.

When the reservoir fills over the height of the present structure, it will be submerged, which will be no disadvantage, the engineers say, and a spillway can then be provided at a reasonable amount for the passage of additional water over the structure.

This plan will make a depth of water of approximately 55 feet just above the dam or above 136 feet in period will hold out for the stockmen.

It is impossible in this space to give the complete reports, so only summaries and general conclusions are published. Those interested in examining the complete data are at liberty to do so at the office of County Agricultural Agent Ward in Redmond, Says the Bend Bulletin.

good market for breeding stock fol-lowing the war should result. The total number of beef cattle slughter-ed during the past 1 0 months of 1918 at our 50 largest stock markets am-ounted to 22.328,375, an increase of 10.5 per cent. over the same period of 1917, when 26,216,302 went to the block.

The discrimination against mutton

The discrimination against mutton in army circles affected in a measure the number of sheep slaughtered. During the past ten months of 1918, 8.101.443 sheep were slaughtered as against 7,579,508 in 1917, an increase of 7.8 per cent.

In the data on the total number of live stock received at 61 of the largest markets, including stockers, feeders, breeding animals and fat stuff ready for the block, the same general trend is followed. At these 61 principal markets, 29,421.594 cattle were received during the past 10 months of 1918, an increase of 10.2 per cent. over the same period in 1917, when 18,539,919 head entered the yards. During the same period of 1918, 34,579,735 hogs arrived as against 30,248,680 in the corresponding period of 1917. In the sheep classes, 17,875,206 head arrived on ing period of 1917. In the sheep classes, 17,675,200 head arrived, an increase of 8.2 per cent. over the same period of 1917, when 16,329,576 head were unloaded.

It is a thing to be proud of—this membership in the American Red Cross—and every person in America should identify himself with this, the greatest of all charitable institutions. its ministrations to all mankind. And the need of its continuation is great. At home, in the cities, and industrial centers, the Red Cross is ministering to thousands daily. The terrible tuberculosis curse is losing much of its potency in the face of the fight the Red Cross is daily waging against it. There is no limit to the good that has been done and that will be done by this wonderful organization. Let us all take the membership as an absolute necessity to our peace of mind that we may be helping in the good work. Take as much stock in this as can possibly be spared, and thus increase the scope of the work.
