Doris Fischer Married

A very quiet wedding was solemnized on Christmas day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Fischer, 1205 Ward St., when Miss Doris, the sister of Mr. Fischer, became the bride of Mr. Clarence O. Watkins. The home was decorated with holly, Oregon grape, ferns and flowers. The bride and groom stood under a prettily decorated arch with the flag draped above them. A few of the bride's relatives and immediate friends were present: Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fields, Ralph Fields, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Thompson and baby daughter, Theima, with Rev. H. W. Thompson officiating. The bride is a well known school teacher of Roberts, Oregon, having spent the past six months with her brother and his wife in this city. The groom is a well known painter of Sumner, Mississippi and has seen service on the Mexican border. When the United States entered the great world war, Mr. Watkins answered his country's call and has been stationed at Camp Lewis as a drilling instructor of new men. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins intend to make their future home in Sumner, Miss., after the groom is discharged from the army. For the present Mrs. Watkins will remain in Centralia indefinitely. The young couple have the best wishes of a host of relatives and friends.—Centralia News.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Is the home pervaded with a Christian spirit a good thing for those who are in it? Is it a good thing for the community? "The Christian Home" will be the theme for the morning service January 12. In the evening a New Year's song service planned for last Sunday will be held at 7:20 to 8:00. The Stereopticon will be used in the singing of songs appropriate to the New Year season. The Thursday evening meeting for the study of "The Manhood of The Master" is growing in interest and attendance. Subject this week: "The Master's Indignation."

$573 AMOUNT OF LICENSES

15 Pioneer and Civil War Veteran Licenses Are Issued Free For the year 1918 there were issued the following licenses: Anglers, 175, Hunters, 99, Combination, 54. The total amount of licenses sold was $573. 15 Pioneer and Civil War Veteran licenses were issued free.

JOINT INSTALLATION

The Rebekahs and Oddfellows will hold their joint installation January 16. A social evening is being planned following the installation. Oddfellows and their wives and Rebekahs and their husbands are expected to attend. Visiting members are especially requested to be present.

FORESTRY NOTES

Miss McMurry, forest clerk, returned from a short vacation at her home in Puyallup, on Monday morning, and much as she dislikes to admit it, is obliged to remain at the Manhattan for a few days nursing a very bad cold, contracted on the return trip to Prineville. Ranger W. A. Donnelly is also confined to his home with a severe cold.

Grazing Examiner Ingram is spending a few days in the supervisor's office, looking up a report in connection with a proposed addition to the Forest in the Maury Mountain district. The stockmen using the Maury Mt. range are planning to inclose the entire unit with a fence and are anxious to have about 3 1/2 sections of land added to the Forest on the east end. The prime object of the proposed addition is to secure a couple of springs badly needed to enable them to make proper use of the grazing land already within the Forest.

A telegram just received from the state game warden, Carl D. Shoemaker, stated that the Federal law closed the duck season in all counties in Oregon east of the Cascade range on December 31. The state law designates January 15 as the closing date in Crook and several other counties, but since the Federal law supercedes that of the state, it should be understood that it is now unlawful to shoot ducks in eastern Oregon.

Ranger E. N. Donnelly, who has spent the past couple of weeks at Prineville, will leave within a day or so for the Burns country to count cattle, attend to some timber sale business and to make himself generally useful to the population over there.

A preliminary hearing was given George Smith by the Indian Court last week and on Thursday he was taken to the train at Gateway for a trip to some other locality to answer in the white man's court to the charge of too many wives.—Warm Spring News in Madras Pioneer.

An interesting piece of litigation between the Alder Slope Ditch Company and the Moonshine Ditch Company, which has been pending in the courts for over two years, was finally settled in favor of the Moonshine Ditch Company, by the supreme court of Oregon at Salem last week.

The controversy was over the right to use the waters of Hurricane creek. The Moonshiners now have the right to the first water right because through the decision they were able to post their notice eight hours ahead of the Alder Slopers. A. W. Schaupp represented the winners, most of whom are Joseph men.—Joseph Herald.

A special election will be held at Sparta Saturday, the 25th, upon the proposed irrigation project. On that date the electors of Sparta will decide whether an irrigation company will be formed for the purpose of carrying out the project.—Pine Valley (Baker County) Herald.

Some snow has fallen during the past week, and several mornings have been real cold. There is perhaps two or three inches of the snow on the ground at the present time, and the ground is frozen. The stages have had a hard time of it on account of the rough roads.—La Pine Inter-Mountain.

One of the largest animals for its age purchased in Bend within recent months was bought by the Cash Market yesterday, when an 11-month-old pig weighing 312 pounds dressed, was purchased from Anton Rosangarth, a rancher near Bend.—Bend Bulletin.

Central Oregon Farmers are rapidly taking an interest in pure bred stock. The County Agent has received requests to secure six pure bred cows and heifers for ranchmen who are launching their first venture in pedigreed live stock. Some of this stock has already been purchased and placed on the ranches. Nothing will do more to develop the farms of Central Oregon than better live stock.—Redmond Spokesman.

The farmers of 15 counties in Idaho, in cooperation with the Biological Survey of the United States, Department of Agriculture, this year treated 266,068 acres of land with poisoned bait to kill ground squirrels. According to the estimates of the farmers benefitted, $1,168,074 worth of crops were saved at a cost of $39,929. In Bear Lake county, following the squirrel campaign the local bounty office recorded the receipt of 136,500 squirrel tails. In Bingham county the member of the farm bureau reported that he had received $49.74 bounty on the presentation of 2,487 squirrel tails. These were killed by the use of only $1.70 worth of strychnine and saccharine. He saved his crops besides. In Blaine county, the farmers report a saving of $20 for every dollar expended, and the county commissioners have increased their appropriation for the work of poisoning squirrels from $300 for 1918 to $3,500 for 1919.—North Powder News, Jan. 4.

According to reports just received by Project Manager John H. Lewis, camp is complete at the dam site including a dining hall accommodating 168 men, commissary and office building, two bunk houses with a capacity for 136 men, a blacksmith shop, power plant, mule sheds, etc. The big steam shovel and teams are rapidly stripping the site for the big concrete arch. About 60 mules and 110 men are busy in the camp.

On the ditch work there are now 143 mules all at work and a crew of about 85 men. Nearly four miles of ditch have been opened up and the camp will probably be moved in a few weeks.

Chief Engineer A. J. Wiley is expected to be in Vale the first of the week and will inspect both camps and confer with Engineer Lewis and the directors in regard to the permanent location of diversion dam, high line ditches, etc. Considerable interest is being manifested over the coming election for directors to be held on January 14. Very likely there will be a contest in each of the three districts.—Malheur Enterprise.

The Elgin Recorder reviews the country newspaper conditions at some length and concludes with this: "It is useless to moan over this condition, but the situation is this: Business men of the towns in which newspapers are issued have got to give their respective newspapers increased patronage or a lot of them are going to the wall before the close of the year."

And the Recorder hits the nail squarely on the head. Towns that expect live local papers must be loyal to them before it is too late. A town without a good wide awake newspaper is about ready for the undertaker.—Weekly Republican, Union, Jan. 4.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, January 7.—Nearly 500 roosters of pure bred, pedigreed, high-laying stock have just been sent out to poultry growers in Oregon and some other states. The price to Oregon farmers is less than to poultrymen in other states, and most of the stock went to places within the state. Oregons, barred rocks, and white leg-horns were shipped. Within the last ten years almost 5,000 cockerels have been distributed, and also 100,000 eggs, reports Prof. Dryden.

Warren Brown of Prineville was a Bend visitor New Years eve. He was successful in capturing one of the prizes of the Athletic Club dance that evening for the most graceful waltzer.—Bend Press.
