INFLATE TIRES ON HOT DAYS

Terrific Driving Necessary to Generate Enough Heat to Raise Air Pressure in Tire.

Motorists should again be warned against the notion that the heat of a summer day expands the air inside a tire to such an extent that the tires do not need to be blown up to the same point as in winter. Experiments show that it takes terrific driving at racing speed for a considerable period to generate enough heat to raise the air pressure in a tire five or six pounds. The expansion in a car driven at an ordinary rate on a hot summer day is so slight that no allowance should be made for it when the tire is pumped up.

Motorists would do well in hot weather to test the air pressure in their tires every few days to see that the leakage of air has not reduced the pressure to the point where the tire will suffer harm.

Try to drive as near the center of the road as you can.

The brake mechanism seldom gets the lubrication it deserves.

GOAT MEAT GOOD AS MUTTON

It is Said Only Experts Are Able to Tell the Difference Between the Two.

There is a growing disposition to give the goat his due. Heretofore this rubbish-eating animal has been regarded pretty much as a joke, but he has continued to eat tin cans and thrive until now his race has acquired census-listing proportions and a market has been established in a middle-western city where surplus goats will be converted into "spring lamb" for the benefit of our non-vegetarians. As an addition to the poor man's meat perhaps the goat will be welcome, especially if his advent tends to lower the present high prices.

Goat meat tastes much the same as mutton, it is claimed, and that the difference cannot be told save by an expert. Perhaps that is just as well. Our imagination has much to do with our taste. Many people are eating horse meat in this country under the impression that it is beef, for horses are slaughtered, but almost nowhere is their meat exposed for sale under its true name. No doubt the easiest way for us to get used to goat meat is to camouflage it as mutton. It is another case of ignorance being bliss.

But, as we are assured by the experts that it is wholesome, a name will not make much difference in the end. Mutton, the world over, has been the poor man's meat. If goat meat can add to the supply, so much the better. The meat of goats was a favorite in the days of the patriarchs. It is still highly prized in the East. There seems to be no reason why it should not ultimately hold a respectable place on our menus.

SHE UTTERED NO CRITICISM

But Many Will See Deep Significance in That Kiss Bestowed by Minister's Wife.

Now, everyone knows that the minister's wife must not say harsh things about anyone, no matter how she thinks. Also that though she be forced to listen to criticism she herself must not give any. The other evening an Indianapolis parsonage woman was sitting on her front porch, when one of the young girls of her husband's congregation came to call. Hardly had she settled herself comfortably before the young miss began to condemn vigorously a very parsimonious member of the church.

"He wouldn't give a cent to recarpeting the parsonage," stormed the visitor, "yet he had plenty of money to buy himself a new seven-passenger touring car. I just hope that every time he starts out in it he'll have a puncture."

The minister's wife had only that morning spent three hard hours mending the old carpet. She didn't say a word of reproof—merely looked at the young girl a minute and then went across the veranda and kissed her cheek.—Indianapolis News.

Ingenious Automobile Thief.

An automobile owner at Hallowell, leaving his car, hitched it to a tree by winding a chain around one of the wheels of the machine and fastening the end of the chain around a tree. An automobile thief jacked up the car, loosened the wheel which was chained to the tree, took it off, and then removing the extra wheel from the rear of the car put it on in the place of the wheel which had been dropped off and drove away, leaving the single wheel chained to the tree.
