"JUST PLAIN JUDY" COMING TO PRINEVILLE SOON

Hettie Jane Dunaway will be here on November 24 for an evening of entertainment for the people of Prineville and vicinity. She gives a wonderfully pleasing program in her "Just Plain Judy."

Miss Dunaway is an entertainer not easily labeled. She neither gives a miscellaneous program or the reading of a whole play. She selects one leading character from a play and builds around it—makes herself that character and tells the story in the first person—showing different stages of development with changes of costume, introducing appropriate music to fit the story (the words of which she writes herself).

She culls from different stories and magazines—material suitable for the character and combines the ideas into a whole evening's playlet. Her stories are not only beautiful and entertaining, but have a personal touch which is so clean and wholesome you feel better for having heard a great message.

The Community Chautauques paid Hettie Jane Dunaway a distinct compliment this season in that she was the only person (out of six circuits) who was given a whole evening alone for her program—through a prelude, Misses Major and Ringgold play her accompaniments, but the Community folks say that Hettie Jane is a whole show and puts it over from start to finish. This is her fourth season with them.

COUGER SEEKS RIDE FORD DRIVER OBJECTS

John Tilley, as everyone knows, is entirely good natured and doesn't usually object to hauling passengers even if the passenger wants to ride beside him, but when a couger tried to get in the front seat with him last Friday morning about five o'clock as he was coming into town with his Ford truck, John did object.

"As I came around the first hairpin curve on the Service creek hill 'he lights from the car shone distinctly on something in the road," said John, "and I slowed down, but not until I had struck the thing with my left front wheel. It jumped right up on the fender and radiator. By this time I recognized the thing as a couger. It seemed a little hot for his feet around the radiator and he started to come back toward the seat. I grabbed a level that was lying beside me in the seat, and the top glass of the windshield being down, I hit him a lick across the nose, knocked him off into the road, threw the juice into the car and lit out up the canyon as fast as I could possibly go. I looked back once when it seemed as if I was not moving at all, hardly, and there he was coming right after the car. The car continued to pick up. I ventured another look behind and he was no longer to be seen."

It is told in the hills that some years ago a couger chased Arlie Brookshire, who was on horseback, down this same road from about the same point, clear to the Pioneer grounds.—Fossil Journal.

LYCEUM TICKET SALE

The tickets for the Lyceum course are now on sale. They can be obtained at several of the stores or may be purchased from the guarantors. The tickets are sold at $1.50 for the entire season, children's tickets $1.00. Arrangements have been made to have the seats reserved at the Prineville Drug Company.

Seat reservations will be fifteen cents extra for each attraction. The course consists of five numbers: three are musical entertainments, one lecture and one impersonator.

All are high-class attractions and can sincerely be recommended. The first number will be an impersonation of "Daddy Longlegs" on November 24.

Single admission tickets may be purchased at the door.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Miss Violet Spough of Tumalo entered C. C. H. S. last Monday. This makes the enrollment of the high school 153.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hershey have stated that they intend to continue the prize of twenty-five dollars offered last year for the best work done in senior English. This prize is a memorial for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershey, who would have graduated from Crook county high last year, but who died in his freshman year. There are a number of excellent students in the senior English class and the contest will be very close and interesting.

The English department has been conducting a series of debates in the sophomore and junior classes the last week. Some of the students have shown unusual ability as interesting and convincing speakers. The debates have all been serious and well prepared. Each student in the two classes has appeared once. The entire class acted as judges, giving it practice in criticism. The high school is a member of the state debating league and work on the debate will be started next week.

At the end of the first six weeks' period of the regular work of the Crook county high school it was found that thirty-six students had an average of ninety or above. This is an excellent record for a high school of only one hundred and fifty-eight students, and surpasses that of many of the larger schools of the state. The students having the highest average and their grades, are as follows:

- Ether Adamson, 96.75; Eric Laughlin, 95; Eleanor Hackleman, 95.5; Clarence Mertsching, 95.25; Ruth Mulholland, 95; Ladoica Jacobs, 94.75; Myrtle Iverson, 94.4; Dorothy Campbell, 94.4; Inez Iverson, 94.2; Virginia Pancale, 93.5.
- In this group there are four seniors, four juniors, no sophomores and two freshmen.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Our Bible school attendance is still on the upgrade. Come and get busy. The Young People meet at 6:30 p. m. Over thirty were present last Sunday night, when Roy Clark led. Evening service at 7:30; "David's Choice" will be the sermon topic. Come and enjoy a happy Sunday evening with us.

LOSS OF APPLES

The heavy snow and rain which has been falling for the past few days is ruining the apples which are hanging on the trees and the potatoes which are still in the ground. It is estimated that there must be twenty-five per cent of the apple crop on the trees and over 12,000 boxes await pickers in three of the Imbler orchards. Charles Bingham has in the vicinity of 5,000 boxes still on the trees, while it is estimated that William Miller has the same amount still un-picked and that George Marshall has 2,000 boxes on the trees. The general opinion is that the apples are injured, but to what extent it is hard to say. They will do for immediate consumption. Mr. Bingham, who is an authority on orchards, says that he thinks they are fit only as a by-product, that is, to make cider and for immediate use.

There are probably 100 acres of potatoes still undug on the Sandridge and Imbler section. George Marshall, Ray Ledbetter and B. F. Webb are among those having potatoes still out.—La Grande Observer.

PRINEVILLE MAN HEADS PACKERS

The erection of an independent packing house on the Peninsula by a company with a paid-up capital of $500,000 which is designed to transact an annual business running into millions was announced this morning.

The plant will be located on 15 acres of ground immediately adjoining the new $300,000 livestock pavilion. The papers for transfer of the site are ready to be signed and under the terms of the transfer the big plant is to be completed and ready for operation within 12 months.

The company is headed by George Dickson, wealthy cattleman of Prineville; J. L. Sterrett, head of the independent packing plant which has been operating in Portland for 10 years, and George W. Warren of Warrenton. With them are associated some of the strongest financial figures in this city. The work of forming the corporation has been in progress for several months.

Dickson, years ago, was intimately associated with the packing business as a buyer for Swift & Co. He is now feeding 800 head of steers for the winter market.

Sterrett is a packer of long experience. He was associated with the business at Kansas City until 10 years ago, when he came to Portland and took over the plant built by the Salsburger & Schwartzchild corporation, which has since gone out of business.

The need of a strong competitive packing company has been long felt in Portland, and it is to a great extent in response to the wishes of livestock growers that the new company has been launched. A strong independent concern, stockmen say, will be a big encouragement to the livestock industry throughout the Northwest. Portland is considered to be, geographically, the logical center of the industry here of the Pacific International Livestock Show, financed and controlled by stockmen from the California line to the northern boundary of Washington and from the Pacific to Montana.

"We are in the field for business," said Mr. Dickson this morning, "we have ample resources for the very large packing business which we intend to carry on in Portland."

Portland is the natural headquarters of the livestock industry in the Pacific Northwest. It has greater banking power than city north of San Francisco; it has three cattle loan companies from which livestock growers are able to finance their operations; it is in the center of the livestock producing territory; it is well located for shipment of frozen meats and by-products of the packing business to foreign markets and for export output by sea to eastern domestic points. It has many other advantages easily noted by the experienced packer.

Before the end of the year we shall have in operation on the Peninsula a modern packing plant equipped with the latest machinery and appliances. Our business is our own. It will be independent and competitive to the last degree. We have faith that our establishment will be of great value, both to Portland and to the livestock growers of the Northwest.—Oregon Journal Nov. 7.

LEGION TAKES UP SALE OF RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS

The American Legion, the newly formed organization composed of men who were in the service in the great war, has espoused the cause of the little Red Cross Christmas Seal, which is to be sold by the hundreds of thousands from December 1 to 20. The proceeds to be used in fighting the white plague throughout the country. Throughout the United States the Legion Posts are placing themselves behind the campaign and already in Oregon at least two counties through the Legion, namely: Deschutes and Jefferson counties. Both of these counties, as well as Harney county, have been organized by Miss Mary Cronen. Miss Cronen is now devoting her time to work among the tuberculous soldiers of Oregon and is combining with her duties some organization. Her overseas experience has placed her on common ground with the service men, who immediately rallied to her assistance in securing workers for the seal sale.

As in years past, the seal sale is to be handled in many places by the women's clubs and in several instances clubs have taken the chairmanship for entire counties.

AN AUTO WRECK

Bill Childers, the Troy stage contractor, had a wreck on Powwaka hill Sunday morning as he was coming out with a load of fat hogs. When he was nearing the top of the hill, in some way his car went over the grade, rolling down the steep hill three or four hundred yards, nearly to the bottom of Wildcat Canyon. Six of the hogs were killed, and the car a total wreck, but Bill jumped and came out unhurt.—Wallowa Sun.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Sunday school is growing and you are invited to keep it growing. If you are not attending elsewhere, come and join one of our classes. The morning service is at 11 o'clock and the sermon will be "The Great Physician." At the evening hour, 7:30, the sermon will be on a subject that is vital to every human heart: "What Must I Do to Inherit Eternal Life?" The Junior Endeavor will meet at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Hartley in charge. Christian Endeavor at 6:30. The mid-week prayer service Wednesday, evening at 7:30. Come and join in these services and worship Christ.

A SKYLINE HIGHWAY ALONG THE CREST OF CASCADES

Construction of a road along and near the summit of the Cascade mountains, from the Mt. Hood loop road to Crater Lake National park, to afford protection for immense stands of valuable timber, open up extensive grazing lands, facilitate communication and give this state an unsurpassed tourist road, has been proposed by George Quayle, executive secretary of the State Chamber of Commerce and the Aero Club of Oregon.

Plans for the building of such a road have been prepared by George Cecil and J. C. Buck of District No. 6, U. S. Forest Service and have been approved by the officials of the chamber, the Oregon State Motor Association and the Aero Club of Oregon.

Provision has also been made in the proposal to locate 15 or more airplane landing fields, develop public camping grounds along the road and bring it in touch with new districts susceptible to improvement, now isolated by the rugged mountain range.

After studying the proposition over carefully, the forest service has estimated that the road would be 200 miles long and that a dirt surfaced road would cost approximately $2,500,000. Semi-complete data has been gathered and after a month's intensive work and this will be forwarded to the government to urge an early appropriation for the construction.

As careful consideration brings forth the fact that the only practical route would be on or near the summit of the Cascades, the elevation would be high, reaching 8,000 feet near Mount Jefferson and nearly 7,000 feet at Crater Lake rim. Because of this location the proposed skyline has been named the Oregon Skyline.

The road would pass such scenic wonders as Diamond, Crescent, Odell, Waldo and Elk lakes, the Three Sisters, Clear, Fish, and Lost lakes, Three Fingers Jack, Marion lake, Mount Washington, Mount Jefferson, Olallie lakes and Mount Hood.

It would pass through a district already entirely under the supervision of the forest service, in the Umpqua, Cascade, Deschutes, Santiam, and Oregon national forests.

Although the building of the road and making of landing fields would be part of the forest development of the national forest service, it will likely necessitate a separate appropriation from the government.

From a scenic standpoint the road will be unsurpassed in the world. Oregon's greatest scenery is directly traversed by the road from Mt. Hood south to Clallie lake, where region will quickly become a playground for Portland, then to the wonderful Jefferson park region, which, although it has been visited by a few, is considered of striking beauty and grandeur and south among and overlooking the unmeasured wealth of mountain lakes, all of their charms of scenery, fishing, bathing, boating, by the snow clad peaks of Mt. Jefferson, Mt. Washington, Three-Fingers Jack, Three Sisters, Maiden Peak, and Mt. Thielsen, including on the route, several large lakes, such as Marion, Sparks, Cultus, Waldo, Odell, Crescent, Diamond, many of which are visited annually, even under existing difficult transportation facilities, by thousands of recreationists.

DEATH OF WALLACE POST

Wallace Post, one of the pioneer residents of this county, died at his home near Post, Tuesday of this week after a lingering illness.

He was born in Illinois on November 19, 1847, and came to this county in 1885, settling on Newsom Creek where the Post home has since been located.

Mr. Post was the father of nine children and is survived by eight of them, besides his widow, a son, W. H. Post, having expired during the past year.

Funeral services will be held in this city tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the Christian church.
