At the close of the dinner Mr. Evans in a few fitting words expressed the appreciation of the team for the hospitality extended them by the Michel brothers, after which the team gave three cheers as best they could on a full stomach.

THE SISTER'S FAITH

The following appeared a few days ago in the "State Register" of Springfield, Ill.:

"Many are the stories of Henry Ford and his popular automobile, but Hillsboro is relating what it calls the best of the season, and the facts in the case are true. It happened in one of the leading churches of the city that the pastor took for the text of his sermon, 'Better Church Attendance.'

"The pastor held that the automobile has taken more people away from church than any other thing. He concluded with the exclamation: 'The Ford car has taken more people to hell than any other thing that I can mention!' Whereupon an old lady in the congregation began to clap her hands and moan, 'Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord!'

"'What's the matter, sister?' asked the pastor.

"'The Ford never went any place that it couldn't make the round trip, and I am sure that all of those people in hell will be back, she answered. So praise the Lord!'

DESTROY LICE ON CHICKENS

Sodium Fluorid Rids Fowls Quickly of All Parasites—Dipping is Most Economical.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One application of sodium fluorid will kill all lice of chickens, entomologists of the department of agriculture have discovered. This inexpensive white powder, they find, will rid a flock of all the seven common species of chicken lice in a few days. One pound, costing only 40 or 50 cents at the time of this writing, is enough to treat 100 fowls, if dusted on. If dissolved in water and used as a dip, the same amount will go three times as far. It is easily applied, economical, gives immediate results, and does not injure the fowls or the poultryman.

The complete effectiveness of the sodium fluorid remedy and methods of using it are discussed in Farmers' Bulletin 801 of the United States department of agriculture, "Mites and Lice on Poultry," by F. C. Bishopp and H. P. Wood. The bulletin deals also with mites, the night pests of chickens, which require a different treatment. Lice are biting insects that work by day and are a serious foe in neglected small flocks of general farms and back yards.

Sodium fluorid—say it plainly to the druggist or you may get sodium chlorid, common salt, which it not only resembles in name but in appearance—may be obtained at most large drug stores. The finely powdered commercial form is cheaper and more easily applied by the dusting method than the fine, crystallized sodium fluorid.

To apply the material in dust form, place it in an open vessel on a table, and with one hand hold the fowl by the legs or wings. With the other hand place the chemical among the feathers next to the skin, according to what is known as the "pinch" method, which proceeds as follows: One pinch on the head, one on the neck, two on the back, one on the breast, one below the vent, one on the tail, one on either thigh, and one scattered on the under side of each wing when spread. Each pinch can be distributed by pushing the thumb and fingers among the feathers as the material is released. If the chicken is held over the vessel, the material which falls from the fowl during the operation is recovered.

The material also may be applied by means of a shaker, but this method has some disadvantages as compared with the "pinch" method. When this method is used the amount of sodium fluorid may be reduced by adding four parts of some finely powdered material, such as road dust or flour, to each part of fluorid. The dust, while not poisonous, is somewhat irritating to the nose and throat. If allowed to remain on the skin in any quantity for any great length of time, it may cause slight local irritation. For these reasons, those dusting a large number of chickens would do well to cover nose and mouth with a dust guard or damp cloth and to wash their hands occasionally.

The dipping method is more economical, but among many poultry raisers there is a general sentiment against the practice of dipping fowls, largely because most of the dips contain materials which discolor the feathers. The sodium fluorid dip, however, is harmless, and as compared with dusting is more easily done. As it is necessary that the fowls dry quickly, dipping is most applicable in the Southern states and to summer treatments in the North. For lice on young chickens, young turkeys, and, in fact, all newly hatched or sick fowls, the application of sodium fluorid in the dust form is recommended.

POULTRY NOTES

Most digestive disorders and ovarian troubles come from heavy feeding in winter without sufficient exercise.

When eggs for table use or to sell in the market are the requirement, it is not only unnecessary but inadvisable to keep the males with the hens, and they may well be dispensed with.

SIX DAMAGE SUITS TO BE TRIED HERE

Judge J. U. Campbell will be in Prineville next Monday and will take up the six damage cases against the Twoby Brothers Company, which were brought by local ranchers.

The first of seven cases was that of C. C. O'Neil, and resulted in a verdict for damages for the plaintiff.

The total damage claimed aggregates about $50,000 and the cause of action is based upon the allegation that the flow of irrigation was diverted during the irrigation season of 1918 by the construction concern which at that time was constructing the Ochoco Project dam.
