TRADE IN OUR TOWN

A GOOD APPOINTMENT

Governor Alcott has started out in his administration by doing the things that were best for the state at large regardless of the political or personal side of the question.

In the appointment of ... Kiddle of Island City to the State Highway Commission we particularly wish to compliment the Governor.

We have known Mr. Kiddle for a number of years and we know that as a business man, as a public spirited citizen, and as an advocate of good roads he is second to none in the state.

templated defeat of the ratification resolution, with the Lodge reservations attached, and the offering of a resolution for ratification without reservations.

"I find the president is very much improved since I saw him last," the senator said on leaving the White house.

"I find that he has read and considered the Lodge reservations and that he considers them a nullification of the treaty and utterly impossible."

WAGE SCALE SUBMITTED

Hines Makes Proposal to the Railway Brotherhoods for Increase.

Washington. — Director General Hines submitted to representatives of the four railway brotherhoods an increased wage scale amounting approximately to $3,000,000 a month.

The proposal, laid before representatives of the brotherhoods at the closing session of the wage conference, was taken under advisement.

The increase would affect trainmen, firemen, engineers and conductors, but more particularly those employed in the slow freight train service.

There are many other questions affecting working conditions of trainmen which have not been decided. These will be the basis for further conferences between the brotherhood heads and members of the director-general's staff.

Washington.—President Wilson was taken downstairs in a wheel chair Monday and rolled out on the White house lawn near the south portico. He basked in the sunshine for a short time.

BRIEF GENERAL NEWS

More than 1400 freighters flying the American flag have been added to the commercial shipping of the United States since the signing of the armistice.

The British house of lords has rejected the clause in the bill for the removal of sex disqualifications which would permit women to sit in the house of lords.

President Wilson, propped up in the great mahogany bed in which Baron Renfrew, later King Edward VII, slept when he visited Washington in 1868, greeted the grandson of that British king in Albert Edward, prince of Wales.

William E. Johnson, an American prohibition worker, familiarly known as "Pussyfoot," was dragged from a platform from which he was speaking, in London, severely beaten and paraded on a plank through two miles of crowded streets.

Under modification of conditions governing reinstatement of elapsed policies announced by the war risk insurance bureau, no statement as to physical condition will be required within three months after discharge from the service.

In the presence of delegations of American Legion men from all parts of Washington and some from Oregon and other states, memorial services were held in Centralia, Wash., over the bodies of the four former service men who fell before I. W. W. snipers' bullets while marching in an armistice day parade.

TEN RESERVATIONS ADOPTED BY SENATE

Speedy Action on Treaty Follows Invoking of the Cloture Rule by Senate Leaders.

Washington.—At last clamping down the lid on its peace treaty debate, the senate substituted action for discussion with a vigor that quickly advanced the ratification fight into its final stages.

Working under cloture for the first time in history, the senate adopted in five hours 10 more of the reservations written by the foreign relations committee.

Republican and democratic leaders worked together to invoke cloture, piling up a majority which far exceeded the two-thirds necessary for adoption. In the count of 78 to 16 the two parties contributed about evenly.

Majorities ranging from 11 to 29 marked the adoption of the ten reservations. They related to domestic questions, the Monroe doctrine, mandates, Shantung, international commissions, expenses of the league of nations, armaments, the economic boycott and alien property rights.

In every case except one the republicans voted solidly for the committee proposals. They were joined on every rollcall by from four to nine democrats. The sole defection from the republican ranks was on the Shantung reservation, Senator McCumber of North Dakota swinging over to the opposition.

Four of the 12 democrats who helped put the reservations through voted with the republicans on every one of the 10 proposals considered. They were Senators Reed, Missouri; Gore, Oklahoma; Shields, Tennessee, and Walsh, Massachusetts. Senators Chamberlain, Oregon, and Trammell, Florida, voted for two each and Senators Owen, Oklahoma; King, Utah; Kirby, Arkansas, and Myers, Montana, for one each.

RESERVATIONS WOULD NULLIFY PEACE PACT

Washington.—President Wilson will pocket the peace treaty if it contains the Lodge reservations, he told Senator Hitchcock at a conference at the White house.

"The president has read and considered the Lodge reservations," Senator Hitchcock said, "and he considers them a nullification of the treaty and utterly impossible."

The program outlined by Senator Hitchcock after he had seen President Wilson will be carried through in the senate, Mr. Hitchcock said. This conthat is too often overlooked in the appointments to offices of this importance, Mr. Kiddle can be depended upon to do the right and best thing for the part of the state he comes from as well as for the state at large. What is needed on these commissions and boards is men of ability from all sections of the state. In a state as large as Oregon, with a topography so varied, it is almost impossible for a man from one section to visualize the needs of another. While he may be a good man in his position, he lacks the close personal knowledge that comes from residence in a certain section, and the acquaintance of the peculiarities of the part of the state he represents.

From our knowledge of the man, we feel confident that the state at large will soon see the wisdom of his appointment, and we know that this part of the state will have a representation that is efficient.

Start the New Year Right

If each man in this county would resolve to meet his bills promptly on the first of the month and keep that resolve throughout the year, there would be a great gain to him as well as to the merchant. When the merchant is compelled to go to his banker to secure money to meet his bills promptly he must add a percentage of cost to his goods which should not be necessary. If the purchaser is in need of financial help, he should consult his banker and make arrangements for money to take care of his current bills. This relieves the merchant of the necessity of paying interest on large sums, which interest must be charged back to the purchaser. The man who is not meeting his bills is holding his community back by his negligence or inability. The merchant can carry a larger and better stock if he is not compelled to have so much of his capital tied up in over due accounts. He can use his credit to increase his business and thereby benefit the purchaser, instead of loaning his credit to the slow paying ones without interest in return. Make up your mind to be one of the prompt paying customers of your community for the next year and see how much you can save by this method. You will be surprised when you discover that there is more of a surplus in your bank account than before. And besides the good it will do you, and the merchant in dollars and cents, there is the mental comfort that accrues.
