RUSSIAN BLOCKADE PARTIALLY LIFTED

Paris.—In an official communication the supreme council approved of recommendations to relieve the population in the interior of Russia by giving them medicine, agricultural machinery and other commodities of which the people are in sore need in exchange for grain and flax.

This partial lifting of the blockade is described in the official communication as an exchange of goods on the basis of reciprocity between the Russian people and allied and neutral countries, but through the co-operative societies.

"These arrangements imply no change in the policy of the allied governments toward the soviet government," said the communication of the supreme council.
