INVADE CITY LIMITS

By special dispensation, Bend lodge, B. P. O. E., arrived Tuesday in full force to supervise the initiatory rites for a class of local aspirants to this order.

The morchants and other business houses of Prineville co-operated in decorating their displays with the colors of the order, which are purple and white and nearly all windows on Main Street were stenciled with a welcome sign, and in other ways the visitors were made to feel at home. At 7:30 in the evening, everyone having arrived and made themselves known, the local members of this year. organization joined with the visitors in a parade, assisted by the local hearse and a couple of very lively corpses, and entertained the onlookers by singing "Hail, Hail, the Gangs all Here," and in other ways conveying the impression that they were jolly good fellows.

The parade was followed by the initiation at the Club Hall, where 28 candidates were initiated into the fellowship of the order. The newly elected members seem to be very glad that they have joined the order, but are reluctant to discuss the ways and means.

"Special" or "Super-Special" productions are the "last word" in motion pictures. The world's greatest film producers, stars, directors and authors give their best. On these productions money is lavishly spent and the result is the absolute top point in picture perfection. No theatre can show these pictures at a twenty-five cont admission and live, so it has been decided to concentrate them at the LYRIC-at the lowest possible admission (See Below). Such super-features as "Treasure Island" "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" "Why Change Your Wife," "The Toll Gate" (First Hart Special), "Everywoman," "The Copperhead" "On With the Dance," "The Sea Wolfe" etc., will be shown at the LYRIC.

The above is a part of the advertisement which was run in the Sunday Oregonian, April 11, 1920, by the Columbia Theatre of Portland, the admissions being charged at the Columbia, the same as will be charged at the LYRIC here.

These big Super-Features will be shown at the same time and some of them here before the big theatres in Portland get a chance to exhibit them

Under the new arrangement the people of Prineville will get a chance to see pictures that otherwise would never be shown here on account of the enormous cost in the rentals. These costs have not been eliminated altogether but have been reduced enough so that with the proper support of each and every person in - Prineville who believes in high class pictures, we will be enabled to successfully put on these "Super-Special" Productions.
