WATER NOW RECEDING IN LAKE OCHOCO

The high point for storage water was passed this week on Lake Ochoco and the surface of the lake is very slowly receding.

The greatest depth was reached about Saturday of last week when the total depth at a point just above the dam was 57.2 feet.

There is considerable water coming into the dam every day now, but the irrigation season is opening and the stream that is being taken from the dam totals more than 200 acre feet daily in a little greater than the flow into the lake.

Water is being generally used on the old alfalfa lands and meadows, and grain is being irrigated on some parts of the project.

Within the next ten days, a larger use of the water is anticipated by district officials.

Progress on the construction of the dam is going forward unchecked, and an early completion of the structure will be realized.

In last Thursday's ad of J. E. Stewart & Co., the matter pertaining to a reduction on paints was disarranged in the make-up. Read it in this issue and get the full meaning of the big reduction.

Pasteurizing Milk.
The milk in the bottles may be placed in a boiler in which cold water comes up to the necks of the bottles. The boiler is then placed on the stove and heated until the water reaches a temperature of 145 degrees Fahrenheit as determined by the thermometer, where it is maintained for 30 minutes. The bottles are then removed, cooled in running water, and kept sealed until the milk is ready to serve. Pasteurization kills disease-causing germs.

Surprised Mother.
The missionary society was meeting at our house and the woman who was to lead the devotionals took the elastic band from her Bible, laid it on her lap and began to turn the pages to find the passage she was to read. During the solemn silence my young son marched over to her and, picking up the elastic, he announced: "Why, that's my mother's garter!"—Grit.

Not Strong on Ablution.
The Aino feels that by washing his face and hands on great occasions he has paid his debt to civilization. The Tibetan considers that the oil of the body contributes needed warmth in his mountain life and refuses to wash it away, but does not object to washing his face and the tips of his fingers once in awhile.

The Name Taffy.
The name Taffy is a nickname for the whole Welsh people. The word is simply Davy (David), pronounced with aspiration; Sawney (Alexander) the most common Scotch name; Pat (Patrick) the most common Irish name; and John (John Bull) the most common English name. Each is used to designate the race or nationality to which it belongs. A similar case is that of Brother Jonathan, once commonly used to designate the people of the United States, but now largely superseded by Uncle Sam.

Japanese Smoking Customs.
Smoking is very common in Japan. All the men and most of the ladies smoke, the girls beginning when they are about ten years of age. The ladies have pipes with longer stems than the men, and if one of them wishes to show a gentleman a special mark of favor, she lights her pipe, takes a whiff, hands it to him, and lets him smoke.

Given the Leavings.
At the close of formal dinners in Japan the guests are presented with any meat they may have failed to eat. However great or small the quantity they may have left, it is carefully wrapped up, and they are expected to take it home.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Wooling by Temperature.
A West Dallas widow says the reason she broke her last engagement was because her fiancé was a doctor who wanted to keep a thermometer in her mouth while he held her hand.—Dallas News.
