ASA W. BATTLES,
County Clerk.

The regular correspondent for Powell Butte to the Crook County Journal owns an apology and hereby hands it out to S. D. Mustard and his associates for the fact that we published in last week's items that "12 Japanese had commenced work" on their land, whereas we find our information was incorrect and no truth at all in the story. We were called by phone and informed by Mr. J. A. Riggs that Henry Edwards, who works on the Mustard land, had told him (Riggs) that the Japs had gone to work that morning. But it seems that Edwards is somewhat of a joker and claimed he was only wanting to excite Riggs, who has been very strongly opposed to the Japs coming into our country. Mr. Mustard informs your correspondent that there is no Japs there now, nor is there likely to be. That no Japs hold any shares in that land or has any interest there. This statement is made in justice to Mr. Mustard who was quite annoyed by the statement.

The stock men of Paulina are riding and putting their cattle on the reserve for the summer.

Andrew Roba who is the wood cutter for the people of Paulina Valley is cutting wood these days.

Johnnie Morgan had the misfortune to have his car break down on the twelve mile table.

The horse men of this neighborhood are riding for horses.

Paulina was visited by a little rain shower. It is making the crops look better.

Cheer Someone On
Don't you mind about the triumphs. Don't you worry after fame. Don't you grieve about succeeding. Let the future guard your name. All the best in life's the simplest. Love will last when wealth is gone; Just be glad that you are living. And keep cheering someone on.

Let your neighbors have the blossoms. Let your comrades wear the crown. Never mind the little set-backs. Nor the blows that knock you down. You'll be there when they're forgotten.

You'll be glad with youth and dawn. If you just forget your troubles. And keep cheering someone on.

There's a lot of sorrow round you. Lots of loneliness and tears; Lots of heartache and of worry. Through the shadows of the years. And the world needs more than triumphs.

More than all the swords we've drawn. It is hungering for the fellow. Who keeps cheering others on.

Let the wind around you whistle. And the storms around you play. You'll be here with brawn and gristle.

When the Conquerors decay. You'll be here in memories sweetened. In the souls you've saved from pawn. If you put aside the victories. And keep cheering someone on.

—Baltimore Sun.

You may succeed when others do not believe in you, but never when you do not believe in yourself.

When you see your employer cheating someone else, quit him before he gets a chance at you. Don't overdo. Once a man went forth and scattered flattery indiscriminately. When he returned his office was crowded with persons who wanted to borrow money.

Open the door, let in the air. The winds are sweet and the flowers are fair; Joy is abroad in the world today. If the door is wide, it may come this way—

Open the door!

More men fail thru ignorance of their strength than thru knowledge of their weakness.

Make The Best Of It

As sunshine and rain, Pleasure and pain.

Each day on someone must fall, So the wise thing to do, If we only knew,

Is to make the best of it all.

How To Be Cheerful

Refuse to think things that hurt, but turn the mind resolutely to the cheerful things that come your way.

A cat will always choose to lie in the sunny side of the room. You can choose what kind of things you will allow yourself to think about. Try. Seek to find the good in everything.

Troubles

A crowd of troubles pass him by, As he, with courage, waited; He said, "where do you troubles fly When you are thus belated?" "We go," they say "to those who mope."

Who look on life dejected, Who weakly say good-bye to hope, We go where we're expected."

—Francis J. Allison.

The world does not dictate what you shall do, but it does demand that you do something, and that you shall be king in your line.

We shall find nothing in the world which we do not find in ourselves

Let a man get the idea that he is being wronged, or that everything is against him, and he cuts his earning capacity right in two.

Carry yourself with a confident air of self-assurance, and you will not only inspire others with a belief in strength, but you will come to believe in it yourself.

Fear Is The Black Deamon That Leads The Way To Failure

The man who pauses with a lump in his throat at the door of a private office is the man who will hang his head as he walks away. But the man who enters without fear, and with the belief that his mission is of service, that he is on the profit side of the ledger, is the man who will some day raise to the president's chair. Fear is progress' worst enemy. Fear has been the stumbling block in many a bright career. Fear is the sharp stone on the road to success.

So buck up, believe in yourself, in your mission in life.

Remember that the man who is not afraid to think or act or say is always the successful man.

The coward's reward is a few who smile to his face and laugh at his back.

Life is an adjustment of self to conditions, more or less successfully. You can only get results in life thru an obliteration of self. You may acquire money, you may reach prominence, you may stand out politically or shine resplendently in a social way; but only when your every effort is directed toward the betterment of others will you have learned to live and you cannot better people with enthusiasm alone—you must know what you are doing and be capable in execution.—Raymond Rindard.

No man can pursue a worthy object steadily and persistently with all the powers of his mind and yet make his life a failure.
