

W. H. NATION

The needs of a community are reflected in the needs of the country. You cannot have a country of slipshod, poorly governed cities and towns, and at the same time have a progressive country any more than you can have a community that is better than the average of its citizens.

The Chautauqua is preeminently a community activity and no program is quite complete without a day devoted to self study under the direction of a constructive critic. It is one thing to listen to criticisms that offer no remedy—most any one can tear down—but it is quite a different matter to consult with a keen observer who has traveled much, and carefully studied many communities.

Just as a doctor's knowledge is the result of study and observation, so are W. H. Nation's lectures the results of many conferences with community officers in every part of the United States.

Mr. Nation will lecture twice on the fifth day, constructively criticizing and counseling our audiences upon community problems.

Time is Money.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Tomkins, "I'm going to read poetry after this." "What for?" "It saves so much time. There are so many open spaces in poetry that the time required to read a page is materially shortened!"

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILROAD LAND—Your last opportunity—In Central Alberta and Saskatchewan are rich park lands—open prairie ready for the plow, interspersed with trees which give excellent shelter for stock. Here grain growing, dairying and livestock raising are being carried on successfully. The country is ideal for mixed farming. The Canadian Pacific Railroad is offering a large area of these fertile lands in Lloydminster and Battleford Districts. This fertile land will become the home of thousands of prosperous farmers. On similar land Seager Wheeler grows the world's prizewheat. Near Lloydminster the world's prize oats have been grown, and butter of the highest quality is made. A man can soon become independent on a farm in this district. These lands can be bought now at prices averaging about $18.00 an acre. You pay down 10 per cent. If land is purchased under settlement conditions. No further payment of principal until end of fourth year; then sixteen annual payments. Interest is 6 per cent. Also thousands of acres of irrigated lands which the Company will loan $2,000.00 for improvements to approve purchasers, with twenty years to pay for land and loan. For maps, literature, and full information apply to Canadian Pacific Railway Company, 208 Railway Exchange Building, Portland, or OCHOCO REALTY COMPANY, 433 MAIN ST., PRINEVILLE, ORE. 374c.

NOTICE

Stores will be closed during the program of the Chautauqua. The afternoon city delivery will go out at one o'clock only.

SHRINERS GET SPECIAL RATES

Shriners who plan to go to Portland to attend the Shrine Convention should call on E. J. Wilson and get certificates. These certificates are available for members of the family as well as the members of the order, and entitle the holder to secure a round trip ticket to Portland for a fare and a third which is quite a saving.

The rates apply from Prineville Junction, and will be available from June 17th to 24th, inclusive. The final return limit is June 30th, 1920.

CHOP SUEY

How Have You Profited?

(By Strickland Gilliland)
Now, it isn't the fearfully good you have been
Since this wayward old world you have been visiting in;
And it isn't how oft or how much you have erred
In your thoughts or your acts or your ill chosen words
'Tis no one of these things that the difference makes;
It is what have you learned from your frequent mistakes.

Show me one who has batted a thousand per cent.,
Since old Adam and Eve from their hermitage went!
Not a player has shown us an errorless game—
There is nobody perfect, in fact or in fame.
There's no hope of perfection, but have you displayed
You've the gumption to learn from the mistakes you have made.

If the sins you've committed have taught you "Be kind"
To the others who fell when, like you, they were blind;
If the falls you have suffered when striving to stand
Make you offer to others a steadying hand;
If you've used your mistakes for the good of the race,
Then the fact you have fallen is less a disgrace.

Since we all are but human and cannot expect
To exhibit a life wholly free from defect,
Let us spend all our efforts in trying to do
What we may, within reason, expect to see thru.
So it isn't the kind of a race you have run,
But it's what have you learned from the wrongs you have done.

Youth

Youth is not a time of life; it is a state of mind. It is not a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips and supple knees, it is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions. It is the freshness of the deep springs of life.

Youth means a temperamental predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite for adventure over the love of ease. This often exists in a man of fifty more than in a boy of twenty.

Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old only by deserting their ideals.

Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul.

Worry, doubt, self-interest, fear and despair—these are the long, long years that bow the heart and turn the greenest spirit back to dust.
Whether sixty or sixteen, there is in every human being's heart the lure of wonder, the sweet amazement at the stars and at star-like things and thoughts, the undaunted challenge of events, the unfailing child-like appetite for what next, and the joy of the game of living. You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope, as old as your despair.

In the central place of your heart is an evergreen tree; its name is love so long as it flourishes you are young. When it dies you are old. In the central place of your heart is a wireless station. So long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, grandeur, courage and power from God and from your fellow men, so long are you young.—Bulletin from the American Iron and Steel Institute, New York.

Do It

(By Edwin Osgood Grover)

If you have something to do, Do it!
Get thru it!
There's more work ahead.
Since the world began
There's been work to be done,
And you're here to do it.
Then quit loafing
And waiting
And wondering why
The fellow in front
Doesn't get busy and try
To do it all
Some poor fellows do,
And all because you
Don't do your share.
Come, pitch in
And work like sin,
And show us what you can do.
Quit watching and go to working
And then one less man will be shirking
His share of the world's work.
Now, what'll you do?

There are two reasons why some people don't mind their own business. One is that they haven't any mind, and the other is that they haven't any business.

Horace Greeley says that the darkest day in any man's career is that wherein he fancies there is some easier way of getting a dollar than by squarely earning it.

To think we are able to do almost to do so; to determine upon attainment is frequently attainment itself. Thus earnest resolution has often seemed to have about it almost a savor of omnipotence.—Sam Smiles

You can restrain the bold, guide the impetuous, encourage the timid, but there is no help for the weak. You might as well undertake to stand a wet string up on end.

Most anybody can do a thing he feels like doing, but it takes a true man to do a thing he doesn't feel like doing.

If you consider yourself as a worm of the dust you must expect people to trample on you. If you make a

Rules Of Conduct Of A New York City Mayor

Keep good company.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind. Always speak the truth.

Live up to your engagements. Keep your own secrets, if you have any.

When you speak to a person, look him in the face. Good company and conversation are the sinews of virtue.

Good character is above all things else.

Wait Awhile (By Nan Terrell Reed)

If that old demon, Grim Despair, Creeps up and grabs you by the hair And all your thoughts are full of fears, And all your days are full of tears; And seems 'twill stretch on thru the years— Well—just wait awhile.

I know you'd like to heave a sigh and calmly fold your hands and die; And yet the things you've wanted long,

The things you feel have all gone wrong. May somehow work out like a song. So—just wait awhile.

Being Faithful (By Lucile Crites.)

Every feller can't be wealthy; Lots of folks must still be poor. Just one president is needed. At a time, you may be sure. All the folks can't boss the railroad. Or be in a senate fight; But each man can still be faithful To his job—and do it right.

Our grand business is not to see what lies dimly in the distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand.—Carlyle.

A Boomerang

When a bit of sunshine hits ye, After passin thru a cloud, When a fit of laughter gets ye And yer spine is feelin' proud,

Don't forget to up and fling it At a soul that's feelin' blue, For the minit that ye sling it It's a boomerang to you.

Jefferson's Ten Rules

Never put off until to-morrow what you can do today. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.

Never spend your money before you have earned it.

Never buy what you don't want because it is cheap.

Pride costs more than hunger, thirst and cold.

We seldom repent of having eaten too little. Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly. How much pain the evils have cost us that have never happened. Take things always by the smooth handle. When angry, count ten before speaking.
