TAXPAYERS VOTE ANNUAL PUBLIC SCHOOL BUDGET

Last Monday was the regular meeting date for the voters of school district number one, Prineville, being the annual meeting for election of officers and voting the annual tax levy for the schools of the city.

Just two voters were present, and the annual meeting was held to the extent that $15,486 was voted for school purposes.

No election could be held because of the fact that not enough voters were present to select a new clerk and director, therefore Clerk Geo. Euston and Director J. W. Carlson will hold over for another year.

CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS MAY GET RESERVE SEATS

A poll is being made this week among the guarantors of the Ellison-White Chautauqua to determine if those who have season tickets for the chautauqua shall have seats reserved for Bryan's lecture.

It seems quite likely that the seats will be reserved, and no doubt standing room will be at a premium, for it is said that Bryan draws larger crowds than any other speaker.

Tickets for the Bryan lecture will cost $1.10 while the season ticket will cost $3.00, and after opening day, $3.25.

Tickets for the Chautauqua are on sale at the various places of business now.

A large part of the seating capacity will not be reserved, but it now seems likely that the season ticket holders will have the benefit of reserved seats.

George Wiley and Marion Taylor left yesterday for a camping trip in the Paulina Lake country.

Elephant's Sense of Humor.

Men close to the minds of elephants who sway back and forth hour after hour while their restless trunks roam around the hay believe that they appreciate children, and the difference between children and their elders, more than some other inmates of tent or zoological house. They seem to have a sense of humor behind their strange little eyes when they stretch for the peanut or go round and round in the inclosure bearing youngsters on their swaying backs.

Ideals and Happiness.

Lasting happiness results from building ideals into concrete structures that minister to human happiness. The material things of the world have their worth, but even that depends upon the uses they are put to. Many a log valuable for furniture building has been used to fill swampy places over which cord-wood was hauled. And the same is true of ideals. To really count, they must be fitted to good ends. Joy comes from projecting yourself into the future and the welfare of the race.

Queer Idea of Beauty.

Beauty makes use of strange ways for adornment in some lands. Many Japanese women adopt the singular habit of gilding their teeth. In some sections of India part of the teeth must be aged black before a woman is thought beautiful. The Hottentot women paint the entire body in patches of red and black. In Greenland the women color the face blue and yellow.

Bad Temper.

It is an almost invariable rule that complaints are mutual. There are two sides to every bad temper. The truth is, bad temper is due less to the occurrence of irritating things than to the occurrence of things to irritate people.

For Garden Culture.

The bloodroot, common in rich woodlands where it has not been exterminated by professional root diggers for its reputed medicinal value, says the American Forestry Magazine, is in bloom with the crocus and readily adapts itself to garden culture.

Businesslike Hotel Man.

To provide service for his guests, the manager of a string of California hotels comes to chop to their hearts' content and not too heartily to their pockets.

Content With Little.

"It seems to me," said Marthe, with the wisdom that the simple in heart acquire with pain and travail, "that in this world a woman's only chance of happiness is if she loves. Being loved doesn't make her so. . . . Love's a fire, so it must have fuel to keep it alight, but a woman's fire needs very little, and that is rather a good thing perhaps, for she seldom gets much."—"The Journey Home," by Sybil Lethbridge.

The Reform of Oneself.

To reform a world, to reform a nation, no wise man will undertake; and all but foolish men know, that the only solid, though a far slower reformation, is what each begins and perfects on himself.—Thomas Carlyle.

Napoleon's Height.

Historians say that at the time of his coronation Napoleon Bonaparte was a little under five feet, three inches, but he became stooped later in life and at his death measured scarcely more than five feet.

Lumber Yarn Out of One Log.

One of the largest timbers, logs ever marketed turned out 24,000 feet of solid wood.

CROP CONDITIONS IN OREGON

The early part of the week was generally cloudy and cool, with light showers over a large part of the State the later part was warm, with low humidity and uninterrupted sunshine. It was the most favorable week of the season for crop growth, and all vegetation made rapid advance. Snow in the mountains is now melting rapidly, and there is irrigation but no high water has occurred. In the extreme southeastern counties there is shortage of water for stock.

Winter wheat has been much benefited by recent rains, and in the principal wheat growing counties is generally considered excellent. It is filling well in the milder sections and heading elsewhere. Spring wheat oats, and barley are thriving, except that some oats have a poor stand. Some of the earliest spring wheat is heading. Harvest of barley is beginning in Jackson county. Corn is backward, owing to the cool weather, but is now beginning to grow well. Early corn is recovering from the effects of the late frosts.

Apples and pears are dropping heavily. Cherry harvest is in progress in some of the milder sections. Strawberries have been ripening slowly, but will develop more rapidly under the influence of the present high temperature. Canning of gooseberries is in progress. Wild blackberries are turning color.

Hay is extending into some of the cooler sections. Where the first cutting of alfalfa and clover has been made the second crop is starting well. Feed on the range is generally excellent, though in some southeastern localities it is dry. For the most part stock is in excellent condition.

Early potatoes are recovering from the effects of frost, and are in market in limited quantities. Some late potatoes are still being planted. The main crop is generally coming up making rapid growth since the weather became warmer.

Hops are doing well.

Among those expected to be in Prineville to celebrate the Fourth are Lawrence McMickle and family from Evansville, Indiana. They will arrive the last of this month. Mr. McMickle has been an engineer on the L. & N. Railroad for a number of years. They will visit with B. H. McMickle and wife. The latter also expect C. A. McMickle and family from Sellneck, Washington, where Mr. McMickle is a master mechanic for the Pacific States Mill.

Mrs. Henry Howard entertained at dinner Monday evening for a number of guests. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoelscher, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Rea, Mr. and Mrs. McCrea, Mrs. Kirk and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baldwin.

Put Romance Before Truth.

Recurrences in history and anecdotes with no foundation of fact may be blamed on some of the older historians. The men who first wrote of Colonial and Revolutionary times often tried to make their accounts romantic and picturesque by revising history to suit themselves, because they did not think that the real facts were more romantic than their embellishments could make them. Our histories, paintings, poetry and traditions are still influenced by their work.

Home Scissors Sharpener.

By accident one day a certain housewife discovered that cutting sandpaper sharpened her scissors. Now she does not have to wait for the scissors grinder to come around, for she always keeps a sheet of sandpaper in her machine drawer to sharpen her scissors with.

Furniture Oil.

To renovate scratched furniture, mix together in a bottle equal quantities of the best salad oil and vinegar. Shake vigorously, then it is ready to use. Take a small pad or soft rag, dip it into the solution and rub well into the wood until all scratches have disappeared. Then polish with another soft rag. You will be delighted with the result.

THERE may be a hundred other ways to say it, but in good, plain United States, it's "they satisfy." Those fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos and that can't-be-copied Chesterfield blend put Chesterfields where none can touch them for quality and value.
