Beaches

Beaches are stretches of land bordered on one side by the ocean and on the other side by summer hotels and amusement concessions. Beaches are covered with sand, pebbles, seaweed, ocean breezes, rude staves and bathing girls. The waves of the sea touch the beach on one side, and the hotels and amusement schemes touch those who visit the beach on the other side. Love is frequently made upon the beach, but it is seldom any more enduring than any other house which is reared upon sands. Some people visit the beaches because they enjoy the ocean breezes. Many people visit the beach because they know that there is less than nothing to do on the beach, and because they are sure that they can find any number of idle people to help them do it. Other people visit the beaches because they have nothing to wear, and because they know that next to nothing is worn on the beach, and because they are sure they will find any number of idle people wearing next to nothing.—Life.

A Little Mixed

The chairman of the committee was addressing a meeting at a teachers institute.

"My friends, the schoolwork is the bulwark of civilization. I mean—ah—"

The chairman has a stage fright.

"The bulwark is the schoolwork of civ—"

A smile began to be felt.

"The workhouse is the bulwark of—"

He was evidently twisted.

"The schoolbul is the housework—"

An audible snicker spread over the audience.

"The bulwark—"

He was getting wild. So were his hearers. He mopped the perspiration gritted his teeth and made a fresh effort.

"The schoolhouse, my friends—"

A sigh of relief went up. He has his feet under him again.

He gazed suavely around. The light of triumphant self-confidence was enthroned upon his brow.

"—is the woolbark—"

He gasped and sat down.—Grit.

Last Big Block of the Canadian Pacific Reserved Farm Lands

THIS announces the offering of the last big block of the Canadian Pacific Reserved Farm Lands. Until this block is disposed of, you can secure at low cost a farm home in Western Canada that will make you rich and independent. The country is ideal for mixed farming as well as grain growing. Later, the same lands can be bought only from private owners and naturally, the price will be higher. Never again on the North American Continent will farm lands be offered at prices so low.

Your Last Big Opportunity

This block contains both fertile open prairie and timber land in the heart of Central Alberta and Saskatchewan. You can buy farm lands on the rich prairie of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta at prices averaging about $10 an acre. Or land in Southern Alberta under an irrigation system of unending water from 50 to 100 acres and up.

20 Years to Earn and to Pay

The Canadian Pacific offers you this land under a plan of long term, easy payments that is remarkable in the history of farm investments. You pay down 10%. Then you have no payment on the principal until the end of the fourth year. Interest is 6%. In Central Saskatchewan, Sugarbeet growers the world's price wheat. World's price cattle are grown at Lacombe.

Lands Under Irrigation

In Southern Alberta, the Canadian Pacific Railway has developed the largest individual irrigation undertaking on the American Continent. This district contains some of the best lands in Canada. An unending supply of water is administered under the Canadian Government. Prices range from $10 an acre up, on the same easy payment terms. $2000 loan in improvements. Twenty years to pay back.

No Taxes on Improvements

There's a small tax on the land—nothing more than 20c an acre for all purposes but there are no taxes on your five stock buildings, improvements, implements or personal effects. Good markets, modern schools, roads, churches, amusements, make farm life desirable and attractive. Here you can achieve independence.

No Sale Without Investigation

The Canadian Pacific will not sell you a farm until you have inspected it. You must be satisfied—and every question answered before taking up your home. Investigation is invited and made easy. This announcement calls attention to the last great block of Canadian Pacific Reserved Farm Lands.

Give It Time

Boil my egg three minutes. "Scuse me. Dat alg is jes' out o' cold storage an' three minutes won't enough me dan jes' thaw it."

A small boy went into a store on Oak street yesterday and the merchant got him to talking. He asked the little fellow if his mamma ever spanked him and he said, "Y-es-s". The next question was, "Does your papa ever spank you?" The little fellow's eyes shone brightly and he said, "No! he's my friend."

The New Topic

Willie Willis—We had a dandy meeting of our departing society last night.

Grandpa—What was the topic,

"Resolved, that Washington was a greater man than Lincoln."

Willie Willis—Now! It was, "Which is worse, the postal service or the telephone service?"—Peru Sentinel.

Mrs. Neighbors—What was that awful racket I heard in your flat this morning?

Mrs. Nextdoor—Oh, that was my husband. He fell over a rocking chair and broke one of the commandments.

A War Story

Edith Wharton, the writer, told this war story: The American wounded were being brought in from the Marne Battle, she said, and a fussey American woman in khaki uniform and Sam Browne belt knelt over a stretcher and said, "Is this case an officer or only a man." The brawny corporal who stood by the stretcher gave her a grim laugh and said, "Well, lady, he ain't no officer, but he's hit twice in the inards, both legs busted, he's got two bullets in both arms, and we dropped him 3 times without his lettin' out a squeak so I guess you can call him a man."

—Pekin Daily Times.

Keeping Up With Its Reputation

Chicago has always been noted for its progressiveness, but now an Adams street shining parlor advertises "Shine Inside."

The Easiest Way

On a stage trip in Southwestern Colorado, a passenger sitting in the front seat beside the driver, noticed that the little old, wornout whip which the Jehu was using, was just long enough to scratch the animals a little if the driver leaned well forward in his seat. The passenger remarked to his seatmate, "It seems to me that your whip is a little too short at one end." "Yes," said the driver as he turned his quid of tobacco over a time or two and spat over the wheel, "I guess I'll have to take up the tugs a little."

—O'Brien—Come home an' take supper with me, Flannigan.

Flannigan—Shure, it's past your supper time an' it's furious your wife'll be.

O'Brien—That's just it; She can't lick the two av us.—Boston Transcript.

I can't deny that Rose is fair. She is a winning witch;

But she wears so much purchased hair

You can't tell which is switch.
