DIVISION OF GERMAN REPARATIONS MADE

France Gets 52 Per Cent and Other Allies Share the Balance.

Brussels.—An agreement has virtually been reached by the allied premiers in conference here with regard to the division of German reparations on the basis of fifty-two per cent to Great Britain, ten per cent to Italy, eight per cent to Belgium and five per cent to Serbia. It was stated here.

The remaining three per cent will be divided among the other allies, including Roumania, Portugal and Japan.

This tentative settlement was declared to have been arrived at in a conference of the French, British, Italian and Belgian delegates.

The conference, which has received alarming news regarding the progress of the Russian Bolsheviks in their offensive against Poland, will consider the military situation of the new republic, it was learned here Saturday. Marshal Foch, the allied commander in chief, and Field Marshal Wilson, head of the British general staff, have been consulted by the conference on this subject.

RAIL WRECK FATAL

Eighteen Killed and 100 Injured When Cars Crash.

Scranton, Pa.—In a collision between three cars on the Lackawanna and Wyoming valley railroad near South Pittston station 18 persons are reported killed and 100 injured. The accident occurred when lightning struck a telegraph pole along the line of the track and the pole fell over on the tracks in front of a car bound for Scranton.

A moment later a limited car crashed into the rear of the car that struck the pole, and a third car telescoped the second car.

Many of those killed and injured had attended the annual games of the Calenden clubs of Scranton and Pittston at Valley View park.

Three of Life's Problems Solved

You believe in life insurance of course. If you stop to analyze this belief you find so many reasons for it that they crowd over one another seeking utterance. The United States Government placed the stamp of its approval on the principle of legal reserve life insurance when Congress passed the Soldiers and Sailors War Risk Insurance Act. The great mass of the people have been placing their stamp of approval on this great principle for nearly a hundred years. When the great influenza epidemic took its toll of half a million lives, American Life Insurance through private companies and the Government, contributed over a quarter of a billion dollars in the settlement of death claims for this one cause alone. American legal reserve life insurance companies have paid to policy holders and their beneficiaries and now hold for their use and benefit more money than they have ever collected in premiums. Truly, life insurance is the most beneficent scheme of finance that the human mind has evolved.

When you buy life insurance you should seek to provide against two contingencies, one of which is bound to occur. These contingencies are Death and Old Age.

Under the terms of most policies that make adequate provision for the second contingency—Old Age—it is necessary to make comparatively large premium deposits in order to accumulate a fund that will be available when old age comes on. If the first contingency—Death—occurs during the earlier years, however, the fund so created is unnecessary and the insured would have saved money by buying a cheaper form of insurance.

West Coast Service seeks to meet all contingencies of life, and in this particular the Company has evolved a policy that offers an ideal solution to the difficulty. In its I. T. I. policy it provides against the contingency of both death and old age. In the event of the death of the insured during the producing period of his life, the fund that has been thus far accumulated to provide for old age independence is used to provide for more life insurance instead, so that the dependents of the insured are in the same position from an insurance standpoint as though he had purchased the cheapest form of insurance.

If the insured lives and makes the twenty annual payments which the I. T. I. policy contemplates, he can then either take his old age fund in cash or use it to purchase paid-up insurance for an amount in excess of the original face of the policy. He can borrow against the paid-up policy or surrender it for its full cash value at any time. It is always available.

There is a third contingency not heretofore mentioned, but just as vitally important as the other two—the contingency of Total and Permanent Disability. If a man lives and keeps his health or does not suffer an accident that permanently incapacitates him, he can continue his insurance in force as easily as he can discharge any other of life's obligations. But if he becomes totally and permanently disabled, he ceases to be a producer and becomes, instead, a burden on the community unless he has an independent income. West Coast Service steps into this contingency and provides the independent income with the I. T. I. Policy, in addition, it waives any further premium deposits, but the value of the policy continues to increase in the same way as though such premium deposits had been regularly made.

The I. T. I. policy is the ideal form of insurance service. It has 100 per cent value in every provision. For detailed information at your age, either see local agent or fill out the coupon and mail it direct to the Company.

A policy holder insured by an I. T. I. Contract under complete West Coast Service is entitled to the following benefits:

1st. Double the original face of the policy for accidental death.
2nd. For the accidental loss of limbs or sight, the original face of the policy in cash immediately and a monthly income thereafter for life, and at death the face of the policy to the beneficiary or estate.
