Kingshewen an Ancient City.

Kingshewen is one of the four largest towns of China. Technically it is not a city. It is a town, because it has no wall. In reality it is a busy industrial city, with a population of 300,000. Two-thirds of the people are directly engaged in the manufacture and sale of porcelain and pottery. Historically it dates back to the Han dynasty 200 A. D. It is during this period that we find the first records of the production of porcelain in China, though earthenware vessels were probably produced some centuries earlier.

The Earth's Crust.

Interesting facts concerning the earth's crust were disclosed by Col. Sir Sidney Burrard recently. "Isostasy" is the particular science which deals with the structure of the earth, and Sir Sidney told how all mountains and heights standing above the sea level are compensated by deficiencies of matter underlying them below sea level, and that all oceans and surface hollows dipping below sea level are compensated by excesses of matter underlying them in the crust.

Homemade Ink.

Ralph Waldo Emerson used to make his own ink. Here is his favorite recipe: Pour a scant cupful of boiling water over one package of slate-colored dye. When it is cool add one tablespoonful of vinegar.

My Message To You

Whatever your doubts and whatever your fears,
There's a place in the world for you.
Despite all your worries, despite all your cares,
There's a place in the world for you.
You may have had troubles; you may have had pain.
But haven't you battled them thru
And can't you for pity sake do it again?
There's a place in the world for you.

Keep still when you feel that the streams running out,
There's a place in the world for you.
Remember your birthright and stifle your doubt,
There's a place in the world for you.
You may have been waiting, it may have been long,
But others have waited—too!
So get ready your smile and practice your song,
There's a place in the world for you.

You have studied the law of Omnipotent things?
There's a place in the world for you.
You know what the dawn is, the brightness it brings?
There's a place in the world for you.
You know that success all the sweetest will seem
If you've fought—and stuck to it too,
So please to remember, it's not all a dream,
There's a place in the world for you.

And when from the highway of life you look back,
From the place in the world for you.
You will laugh when you see the old stones on the track,
That made the road harder to view.
You will call to your fellows—who struggle and fight,
You will say, "Come along, I've been thru."
You will give them your message, because you were right,
There's a place in the world for you.

O'BRYNE HOARE.

When You Are Educated

Education is the knowledge of how to use the whole of one's self. Men are often like knives with many blades; they know how to open one, and only one; all the rest are buried in the handle, and they are no better than they would have been if they had been made with but one blade. Many men use but one or two faculties out of the score with which they are endowed. A man's education who knows how to make a tool of every faculty—how to open it, how to keep it sharp, and how to apply it to all practical purposes.—Beecher.

Ambition accompanied by effort is a creative power which tends to realize itself.

What we long for, strive for, the vision we nurse, is our great life shaper, our character moulder.

The Man Of One Idea

Don't be afraid of being known as a man of one idea. The men who have moved the world have been of this kind. It is ever the single aim that wins. It is the man who has his purpose burned into every fiber of his being, who never loses sight of his goal and who has the faculty of focusing like a burning glass, all his scattered rays, who succeeds.

The Fate Of Handicaps

I have, like other people I suppose, made many resolutions that I have broken or only half kept; but the one which I send you, and which was in my mind long before it took the form of a resolution, is the keynote of my life. It is this—always to regard as mere impertinences of fate the handicaps which were placed upon my life almost at the beginning; I resolved that they should not crush or dwarf my soul, but rather cause it to be made to "blossom like Aaron's rod, with flowers."—Helen Keller.

If You Have Been

Knocking, boost.
Criticising, appreciate and admire.
Frowning, smile.
Scolding and blaming, praise and admire.
Passing along gossip, pass along good things.
Fretting and fuming, be poised and serene;
Worried, fretting, anxious, quit it.
Quit everything that is crippling your mind, making discord in your mental life. Quit everything that is hurting you and hurting other people.
If you have been with the kickers, the fault-finders, the naggers, the touchy, the scolders, the irritable, quit them and be a booster. Don't kick. Don't knock. Boost, boost! Don't frown, smile; don't criticise, help, don't find fault, encourage, don't radiate gloom but joy and gladness.

If you have been a pessimist, quit it. There is nothing in it except destruction. Join the optimists, and build. Encourage, don't discourage. You will only go thru this world once, scatter your flowers as you go along. Turn thorns into virtues. It is an excellent thing to have the reputation of a helper, a booster, an encourager, a man always ready to give everybody a lift. Don't cross the street to get away from someone who is suffering or in need. Hold out the helping hand.

This column is intended as an antidote for the blues.

Greatly Relieved

An Englishman visiting the United States for the first time was riding in a street car in New York. Opposite to him sat a woman upon whose lap was a very ugly baby—an uncompromisingly homely child. The baby seemed to fascinate the Englishman; he couldn't keep his eyes off it; he would look away, drop his eyeglass and endeavor to fix his attention on some other object. But it was of no use; he had to look back!

At last the mother—obviously annoyed—leaned over and hoarsely whispered, "Rubber!"

A relieved smile spread over the ruddy countenance of the Englishman, and he replied with great fervor: "Madam, thank God—Do you know, I actually thought it was real.—Everybody's Magazine.

Telling it Tersely

An English professor, traveling through the hills, noted various quaint expressions. For instance, after a long ride the professor sought provisions at a mountain hut.

"What do you all want?" called a woman.

"Madam," said the professor, "can we get some corn bread here? We'd like to buy some of you."

"Cornbread, cornbread, did you say?" Then she chuckled to herself, and her manner grew amiable. "Why if cornbread's all you want, come right in, for that's just what I aint got nothin' else on hand but."

Johnny, don't you know it's wrong for a little boy to fight?"
Yes'm. But Willie doesn't know it and I'm proving it to him.—Washington Star.

Mrs. Clinick thinks a great deal of her husband.
You've got the wrong preposition. Make it "for" instead of "of."—Browning's Magazine.

Mrs. Popson—I was reading where Mr. Edison says that four hours' sleep is enough for any man.
Popson—That seems to be the baby's idea too.—Boston Transcript.

Historical Item

"How's this for a tribute to Old King Solomon," said the Street Corner Idler, as he handed the following clipping which was headed, "Bobby's Essay," to Editor Schmied, of the Dakota City (Neb.) Eagle.

"King Solomon wuz a man who lived so long in the country that he wuz the whole push. He wuz a offul wize guy and 1 day 2 women came 2 him each 1 holding the legs of a babe and nerely pulling the kid in 2 and each clameing it, and King Sol wasn't feeling just rite and sed, "Why cudn't the brat been twins and stopt this mixup," and called for his sword 2 split this little innocent kid so each ov the wimmin cud have 1/2 when the reel mamma of the babe butts in and says, "Stopp thi hand, Solomun, and let the old hagg hav the kid, for if I can't have a hole kid, I don't want anny," and King Solomun told her to take the baby and go home and wash its face for he was hep it wuz hers and told the other daime to go chais herself. King Solomun wuz father to the masens and bilt Solomun's temple. He had 700 wives and more than 300 lady friens, and that iz why there is so many masens in the wurld. Pa says King Solomun was a warm member and I think myself he wuz a hot one.

In a British railway carriage, of the type known as American because unlike the majority of cars it has an aisle the length of the car, two United States soldiers in khaki were standing in the aisle. Nearby were seated a prim and elderly English lady and her daughter, who were gathering their belongings preparing to alight at the next station. Suddenly the lady nudged her daughter and whispered, Mary, mind what I say! When we get off do just as I do, and back down the aisle. I can't tell you why just now." Daughter obeyed and both ladies left the train as if departing from the presence of royalty. Safely arrived on the platform, the daughter naturally asked why, Mary, said her mother, "you saw those two American soldiers, they call them doughboys, I believe, well, when we started to get out I overheard one of them say to the other: 'When those two dames got off we'll pinch their seats!'—American Medical Journal.

Last Big Block of the Canadian Pacific Reserved Farm Lands

THIS announces the offering of the last big block of the Canadian Pacific Reserved Farm Lands. Until this block is disposed of, you can secure at low cost a farm home in Western Canada that will make you rich and independent. The country is ideal for mixed farming as well as grain growing. Later, the same lands can be bought only from private owners—and naturally, prices will be higher. Never again on the North American Continent will farm lands be offered at prices so low.

Your Last Big Opportunity

This block contains both fertile open prairie and park lands in the Lloydminster and Battleford Districts of Central Alberta and Saskatchewan. You can buy farm lands on the rich prairie of Montana, Saskatchewan and Alberta at prices averaging about $15 an acre. Or land in Southern Alberta under an irrigation system of unending water from 60 to 80 feet up.

20 Years to Earn and to Pay

The Canadian Pacific offers you this land under a plan of long term, easy payments that is remarkable in the history of farm investments. You pay down 10%. Then you have no payment on the principal until the end of the fourth year, then fifteen annual payments. Interest is 6%. In Central Saskatchewan, sugar beets grow the world's prize wheat. World's prize oats were grown at Lloydminster.

Lands Under Irrigation

In Southern Alberta, the Canadian Pacific Railway has developed the largest individual irrigation undertaking on the American Continent. This district contains some of the best lands in Canada. An unending supply of water is administered under the Canadian Government. Prices range from $5 an acre up, on the same easy payment terms. Total loan to improve land. Twenty years to pay back.

No Taxes on Improvements

There's a small tax on the land—nothing more than 20¢ an acre for all purposes but there are no taxes on your live stock, buildings, improvements, implements or personal effects. Good schools, modern schools, roads, churches, amusements, make farm life desirable and attractive. Here you can achieve independence.

No Sale Without Investigation

The Canadian Pacific will not sell you a land until you have inspected it. You must satisfy—and every question answered—before taking up your home. Investigation is invited and made easy. This announcement calls attention to the last great block of Canadian Pacific Reserved Farm Lands.

Special Rates for Homeseekers

Special railway rates for homeseekers make it easy to see the land and to return home without delay. Write TODAY!
