Is Your Money Supporting the Government?

At this critical period in our history our manufacturers are offering their mills and our young men are offering their services to the United States government. Would you like to do your share and help, by putting your money where it will support the new Federal Reserve Banking System, which the government has established to stand back of our commerce, industry and agriculture?

You can do this by opening an account with us as part of every dollar so deposited goes directly into the new system, where it will always be ready for you when wanted.

Last Big Block of the Canadian Pacific Reserved Farm Lands

THIS announces the offering of the last big block of the Canadian Pacific Reserved Farm Lands. Until this block is disposed of, you can secure at low cost a farm home in Western Canada that will make you rich and independent. The country is ideal for mixed farming as well as grain growing. Later, the same lands can be bought only from private owners—and naturally, prices will be higher. Never again on the North American Continent will farm lands be offered at prices so low.

Your Last Big Opportunity

This block contains both fertile open prairie and park lands in the Lloydminster and Battleford Districts of Central Alberta and Saskatchewan. You can buy farm lands on the rich prairie of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta at prices averaging about $15 an acre. Or land in Southern Alberta under an irrigation system of unfilling water from 160 an acre and up.

20 Years to Earn and to Pay

The Canadian Pacific offers you this land under a plan of long term, easy payments that is remarkable in the history of farm investments. You pay down 10%, then you have no payment on the principal until the end of the fourth year, then fifteen annual payments. Interest is 6%. In Central Saskatchewan, Rogers-Wheeler grew the world's prize wheat. World's prize oats were grown at Lloydminster.

Lands Under Irrigation

In Southern Alberta, the Canadian Pacific Railway has developed the largest individual irrigation undertaking on the American Continent. This district contains some of the best lands in Canada. An unfilling supply of water is administered under the Canadian Government. Prices range from $60 an acre up, on the same easy payment terms. 13000 in improvements. Twenty years to pay back.

No Taxes on Improvements

There's a small tax on the land—nothing more than 20¢ an acre for all purposes but there are no taxes on your live stock, buildings, improvements, implements or personal effects. Good markets, modern schools, roads, churches, amusements, make farm life desirable and attractive. Here you can achieve independence.

No Sale Without Investigation

The Canadian Pacific will not sell you a land until you have inspected it. You must be satisfied—and every question answered before taking up your home. Investigation is invited and made easy. This announcement calls attention to the last great block of Canadian Pacific Reserved Farm Lands.

Special Rates for Homeowners

Special railway rates for homeowners make inspection easy. Send for free illustrated pamphlet describing all conditions and getting forth the latest about land values, acreage prices, climate, opportunities, etc. Do not delay. Write TODAY!

Many good things delivered in small packages.

The best way to stop worrying over your own troubles, real and imaginary, is to look around you and find out how many people are worse off than you are—then, maybe, you will feel that things are not so bad with you as you thought. Constant dwelling on your own troubles tends to magnify them, and every time you retail your woes they seem more real to you. Stop this business of saying, "Ah, poor me!" Get out of your sackcloth and ashes, give your self a good scrubbing to get the ashes off you, and burn the sackcloth. Then put on your finest raiment and sail forth like Solomon in all his glory.

Yes, clean yer house, an' clean yer shed,

An' clean yer barn in every part; But brush the cobwebs from yer head,

An' sweep the snowbanks from yer heart.

Yes, w'en spring cleanin' comes aroun',

Bring forth the duster and the broom,

But rake yer foggy notions down, An' sweep yer dusty soul of gloom

—Sir Walter Foss.

Get knowledge, all you can and the more you get, the more you breathe upon its nearer heights their invigorating air and enjoy the widening prospect. The more you will know and feel how small is the elevation you have reached in comparison with the immeasurable altitudes that yet remain unsealed.—Gladstone.

Make sure that, however good you may be, you have faults; that however dull you may be, you can find out what they are; and that, however slight they may be, you would better make some patient effort to get rid of them.—Ruskin.

Why thus longing, thus forever sighing, For the far off, unattained and dim, While the beautiful, all around thee lying, Offers up its low, perpetual hymn.

—Harriet Winslow.

Even in ordinary life the unselfish people are the happiest—those who work to make others happy and who forget themselves. The dissatisfied people are those who are seeking happiness for themselves

—Mrs. Besant.

That things are not so ill with you and me as they might have been is half owing to the number who lived faithfully a hidden life and rest in unvisited tombs.—George Eliott.

You find a man, who's satisfied, You find a man who's dead; And if you find a live man who For nothing further sighs, Though in the pink-red bloom of health, He's dead before he dies.

There is a world within and this is the greater world. If you want a really lovely world within you must make the world within bright and lovely.

Oh, how hard it is to die, and not be able to leave the world any better for one's little life in it.—Abraham Lincoln.

We would be happier and healthier if we could rid ourselves of these mental and physical pains that we bring about by expecting trouble.

Wouldn't this be an awful hard world to live in if we were compelled to do all the things we tell other people we'd do if we were in their place?

A man is relieved and gay when he has put his heart into his work and done his best; but what he has said or done otherwise shall give him no peace.—Emerson.

You can help your fellow man. You must help your fellow men, but the only way you can help them is by being the noblest and the best man that it is possible for you to be.

He is happy whose circumstances suit his temper; but he is more excellent who can suit his temper to any circumstances.—Hume.

If you want your neighbors to look up at you, don't make a practice of looking down on them.

And With Eyes Shut

"I am in a great hurry?" said the bald headed man as he climbed into the barber's chair. "Can you cut my hair with my collar on?"

"Sure," said the barber, as he glanced at the shiny dome: "even if you left your hat on."

Naughty Furniture Man

A bride and groom were buying their furniture. Is this a good strong bed, asked the groom. Yes, sir, responded the clerk, we stand behind every bed we sell. Oh, my, whispered the bride to the groom, we don't want to buy a bed here.

"My," said the husband at breakfast, "that was a good sleep! I slept like a log!"

"Yes," answered his wife. "With a saw going through it."—Grit.

A pioneer newspaper had a reputation of always assuming infallibility and superior enterprise. On a certain occasion the paper announced the death of William R. Jones, who, it turned out, was not dead. Next day the paper printed the following note:

"Yesterday we were the first paper to publish the death of William R. Jones. Today we are the first to deny it. The Morning Star is always in the lead."

Oregon has a population in 1920 of 783,285, according to census figures, which is a gain of 110,520 or 16.4 per cent over the 1910 figures of 672,765.

Fred Peterson, 75, a native of Denmark, was burned to death when his cabin on the Mohawk river, 15 miles northeast of Eugene, was destroyed by fire.

W. I. Butters of Allegany has been held to the grand jury in Coos county on the charge of selling rocks for chittim bark to improve the weight of the bark.

Monday, September 6, Labor day, has been selected by Hood River as the date for formal celebration of the opening of the completely paved Columbia River highway.

Wheat harvest is under way in Morrow county and the grain is of first-class quality. The yield is a fair average although many fields were injured by the hot weather.

Oregon is suffering from a shortage of librarians, according to Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, who has a list of eight important posts in the state that should be filled.

Notwithstanding the gasoline shortage, the number of automobiles visiting Crater lake so far this summer has exceeded the number that visited the resort during the entire season of 1919.

Approximately 95,000 motor vehicles are registered in Oregon, according to a statement made at the office of the secretary of state. This is one car for about every eight persons in Oregon.

The Fruit Growers' league of Medford has opened an employment bureau with the object of cooperating with other fruit growers in the allocation of pickers throughout the valley.

The public service commission has issued orders granting service rate increases to the Deschutes Telephone company of Clackamas county and C. A. Bradford telephone lines in Grant county.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 880 dentists were licensed to practice in Oregon. Of these, 184 were non-resident. The licenses of 81 dentists were revoked because of non-payment of fees.

July was an exceptionally dry month in Astoria and the lower Columbia river district, according to the records in the local weather observer's office. The precipitation for the month was .9 of an inch.

The special committee of state legislators appointed to investigate the state game and fish commission will meet in Portland August 18 to hear anyone who has a complaint to make against the commission.

While testing out a forest service radio outfit at Eugene, human voices were picked up by the instruments. It was learned that the voices came from Portland through a wireless telephone apparatus in that city.

Fire destroyed the Strange Shingle company's mill, four miles from the city limits of Portland on the Linnton road, and burned four dwellings, four bunkhouses and a boarding house, with a total loss of about $60,000.

The Klamath Falls council has decided not to remove dice and card games from pool rooms and other public places but will amend existing ordinances by providing for revocation of license in case gambling is allowed.

All organization commanders of the National guard of Oregon have been authorized by Adjutant-General White to suspend drills during the harvest season so that guardsmen may help gather the Oregon fruit and grain crop.

Attractions of boat races, automobile races, a carnival and the biggest agricultural, horticultural and industrial exhibit of many years will feature this year's Wasco county fair to be held at The Dalles October 4, 5, 6 and 7.

The mutilated body of Carl McCoy, 19, of Cottage Grove, was found on the Southern Pacific railroad track near the station in Sutherlin. He apparently had met death accidentally by being run over in getting off of a night train.

Fire protection at Roseburg and Medford is declared inadequate by G. W. Stokes, an investigator for the state fire marshal's department. In Roseburg Stokes found only 63 hydrants. There should be twice that number, he says.

What is said to be the largest still yet captured in Oregon was raided near Newberg by federal revenue officers who seized 150 gallons of corn moonshine whiskey and 800 gallons of corn mash. The still was said to have a capacity of 100 gallons a day.

Phillip Ott, 45, a farmer of Hubbard, was killed almost instantly when his light touring car crashed through the railing of the bridge over Pudding river, just outside of the city limits of Aurora, on the Pacific highway, and fell a distance of about 40 feet.

Because of the tendency of members of the dental profession to come from the eastern states to the west, while few go from the west to the east, the state board of dental examiners has placed its disapproval on a proposed reciprocal exchange of dental licenses.

Officials of the socialist party have filed in the office of Sam A. Koser, secretary of state, certificates of nomination of candidates for presidential electors, secretary of state, dairy and food commissioner and commissioner of the public service commission for the western Oregon district.

Not less than $858,000 will be netted this season to loganberry growers within a radius of ten miles of Salem, according to an estimate of J. L. Van Doren, berry buyer of Salem. The crop disposed of at a figure sufficiently high to bring this amount is estimated at 6,600,000 pounds.

While cutting hay on his farm a few days ago Fred Lockwood, a rancher of the North Fork country in the western end of Lane county, cut off both feet of his 3-year-old daughter, who was playing in the tall oats. The little girl was not seen by her father until an instant before the sickle hit her.

Following the breaking of a dike at Brownsmead in the eastern part of Clatsop county, approximately 300 acres of fine farm land were inundated and damage estimated between $7000 and $8000 has resulted. About 300 feet of the dike collapsed as a result of the sand foundation giving away.

Wasco county's population, according to census figures, is 13,648 men, women and children. An apparent decrease of 2785 since the 1910 census, totaling 16,336 persons, is explained by the county being redistricted and nearly one-third of the residents transferred to another county since 1910.

The casualty report of the state industrial accident commission for the week ending August 5 shows a total of 524 accidents, of which four were fatal. The fatalities were George Bowman, Sheridan, truck driver; N. H. Fennell, Algoma, lumberman; J. Houston, Klamath Falls, miller; J. A. Blair, Knappa, logger.

Wasco county has the purest field of turkey red seed wheat in Oregon, according to results of a state-wide wheat certification trip recently completed by Professor G. R. Hyslop, of Oregon Agricultural college. The wheat was raised by Albert S. Roberts at his Boyd ranch and graded 99.98 per cent pure for seed purposes.

The hop crop in most localities near Albany is good, and some growers pronounce it the best in many years. Some owners of yards say this year's yield will be double that of last. Picking will begin in the yards near Albany about September 1. In yards near Harrisburg picking will be under way a week or two earlier.

Olaf Anderson confessed to Coroner Hughes and Deputy Coroner Karlson of Clatsop county that he was responsible for his wife's death by drowning Saturday in the Columbia river near Tongue point. According to Coroner Hughes, Anderson admitted shooting his wife from the boat in which his wife and their 4-year-old son were riding.

Work on the Link river dam, which will control the storage of upper Klamath lake, will start at once, according to J. C. Thompson, division manager of the California-Oregon Power company. A construction camp has been established and a crew of 100 men will be at work within a few days. It is estimated that the dam will cost $80,000 and will be completed next year.

There are in Oregon 3493 adult Japanese who own 2815 acres of land and lease 7911 acres more. Business investments of Japanese in the state have a value of $860,000. Since 1913 there has been a nominal decrease in realty holdings of the Japanese of 875 acres. Such are the figures compiled by the Japanese association of Oregon and submitted to the congressional committee on immigration and naturalization, which has been holding investigations in California and Washington dealing with the problem of admission and land tenancy of orientals.
