Gen. Joseph Pilsudski, president of Poland and commander-in-chief of the Polish armies opposing the Russians.

35,000 BOLSHEVIKI CAPTURED BY POLES

Many Guns, Thousands of Rifles and Horses Taken in Counter-Attack.

Warsaw.—Military authorities announced that the Poles captured 35,000 prisoners in their counter-attack against the bolsheviki. Many guns, thousands of rifles, hundreds of machine guns and motor cars and great numbers of horses also were taken. Thousands of Russians are thought to be cut off in the forest awaiting an opportunity to surrender.

Among the 300 bolshevik soldiers killed in the fighting at Miawa were found, it is claimed, a German officer, and several German soldiers.

The bolshevik armies northwest of Warsaw, between the Vistula and Prussia, are sending wireless appeals for help. The intercepted messages repeatedly have asked bolshevik headquarters for ammunition and supplies.

The vanguard of this red army has reached points about 100 kilometers south of Danzig, so near the Camp Grappe region around Graudenz that the French officers advised the American typhus expedition to move to Danzig. This the Americans did.

SUFFRAGE FIGHT ON IN TENNESSEE

Ballot for Women Will Be Delayed, Say Opponents to Amendment.

Nashville, Tenn.—From the snarl of legal and legislative technicalities that have enmeshed Tennessee's ratification of the suffrage amendment came the prediction of the Tennessee constitutional league that the injunction against certification of the ratification, obtained Saturday, would prevent enfranchisement of American women for at least a year and a half.

Suffrage advocates reiterated their contention that the action of the house in defeating the Walker reconsideration motion and in ordering the senate joint resolution of ratification transmitted to the senate for engrossing to be unassailable, despite lack of a quorum.

Governor Roberts declared he had been informed by State Attorney-General Thompson that the action of the two houses of the legislature constitutes a ratification of the amendment and consequently he would countenance no act intended to nullify the ratification.

JOURNEYS IN EASTERN OREGON

Broken walls of business blocks and a few straggling houses bear testimony to the raging fire that wiped up the place a year or so ago. No attempt has been made to build up the town again. Mining has dropped to a minimum and the big smelter is closed.

Gold dredging is the principal mining operation of the valley. For miles a huge dredge has been turning the pretty valley under and bringing to the surface unsightly piles of gravel which will never support a blade of grass. It seems a pity to ruin productive farms for the sake of a little gold—for two or three people.

The John Day Valley is as pretty and productive as ever. Haying is in full swing now, being a month late. Big crops were in evidence but the cattle market is pretty dull and the stock growers are a little disheartened.

Haystacks are as scarce as hen teeth and fancy wages are paid for help. The river has a plentiful supply of water. Fruit is not abundant, but is reported fair down near Mitchell, where I suppose Prineville people will be going soon. John Day City is as "dry" as a bone. I thought at first that it was because they are expecting a convention of Methodists in Canyon on September 8, but discovered that the city water supply had gone on the "blink" for want of pipe that would hold water. The citizens are getting water where they can and going without baths until the system has been repaired.

I stopped with Billy Prose in John Day. He is working in a garage and Mrs. Prose is running the IXL rooming house. The Mrs. had just returned from the huckleberry patch and I ate a whole pie at one sitting. Huckleberrying is the great outdoor sport just now and the mountains are full of people from all Eastern Oregon. The crop is fair.

The Grant County Fair will be held in John Day, commencing September 29 and Mr. Young the manager promises a rare time to all visitors. Mr. Young has placed the fair on a paying basis after it had nearly hit the rocks and was in danger of being shifted to Prairie. He is a live wire and for that reason is criticized by many who cannot stand progress.

The main street of Canyon City, the only one in town, is as narrow as ever. Had it been any wider there would not have been room for the houses. In speaking to some of the old-timers I heard tales of the days when many a man died with his boots on. I stood on the spot where Anderson shot Barnes and A. D. Leedy told me how he dodged bullets at this time. Mr. Leedy is to prosecute a murder case which has been transferred to Pendleton. The trial of Till Taylor's murderers will be a counter attraction to the Round-Up, since court opens the same week. Some think three of the men will hang, and others express the opinion that all five should.

Dr. V. C. Belknap is still in Prineville City. "I never worked so hard in my life as I did during the flu epidemic," he said. Just now the Doctor is interested in getting a hospital built at Prairie, an institution badly needed. The only facilities now are located over a garage. He has been having unusual success with surgical cases and has a large practice here.

The Blue Mountain Springs is a popular resort these days and Mt. Vernon has its share of patronage.

While driving down to Dayville with Dr. F. R. Hunter, of Canyon, he told me a tale that chased a thrill up my spine and down again. Journal readers may enjoy like thrill so I will repeat the tale.

"A Baker business man (I rode to Halfway with him one day) and a local hotel man and a third party were driving down the Canyon Creek grade one dark night about three years ago," began Dr. Hunter, "before the grade was remade. The road was good, but twisty and the Baker man was driving at a fast clip. They were approaching a place on the grade where shortly before a man had driven over the edge to his death. Suddenly the spooky and hair-raising visio of two hands, upraised as if to bid them to stop, appeared before or directly in the windshield."

"Did you see that B—?" asked the hotel man huskily.

"What did you see?" asked the driver cautiously, bringing his car to a stop.

"By God, I swear I saw two hands in front of us!"

"I did too," B replied. They asked the other man but he had seen nothing.

"They proceeded again and hadn't gone twenty feet around the curve before they ran right onto a bull lying in the road. The car was stopped, but not without jamming the animal. At their former speed they would have all been dashed to death over the grade. You can't tell me there is nothing in spiritualism."

Somehow I agreed with the Doctor. The fact that both men in the front seat saw the apparition is the strange thing.

Wallawa county, the Switzerland of America, is my next destination.

10,000 STILL IN WASHINGTON

Seattle, Wash. — Donald A. McDonald, federal prohibition director for Washington, announced that he has estimated the number of illicit stills in the state, preparatory to a campaign by his agents, and is convinced there are between 8000 and 10,000 stills in operation.

Gasoline stoves, Mr. McDonald asserted, are in almost universal use among the distillers. The amount of gasoline used in these stoves, he said, amounted to several thousands of gallons a month.

At least 2500 of the 10,000 stills, Mr. Donald estimated, are in King county. Pierce county, he estimates, harbors 1500, Grays Harbor county is third with 700 and Kittitas county fourth with an estimated 400 stills.

The eastern portion of the state, Mr. Donald said, has a very small proportion of the total number of illicit distilleries, due probably to the absence of heavy timber.

The stills, Mr. McDonald said, are using an annual approximate amount of sugar estimated at 48,000,200 pounds.

REPORT ENGLAND WILL FREE EGYPT

London.—The London Times says it understands that Great Britain has agreed to recognize the independence of Egypt.

The decision, according to the London Times, resulted from recent conversations between the Viscount Milner mission, which recently visited Egypt, and an Egyptian delegation, headed by Said Zagloul Pasha, former minister of justice.

Among the fundamental points of the agreement are:

Egypt will recognize Great Britain's privileged position in the valley of the Nile and agree in case of war to afford every facility for access to Egyptian territory; Great Britain will maintain a garrison in Egypt; in the canal zone Egypt regains control of foreign relations, subject to her not making treaties contrary to British policy and will have the right to maintain diplomatic representatives abroad. Capitulations will be abolished.

FRANCE EQUIPS U. S. ARMY

80 Per Cent of Planes, 60 of Guns, 50 of Supplies Are Given.

Metz.—Marshal Foch will visit the United States when the European situation permits, he told Supreme Knight Flaherty of the Knights of Columbus, in response to a formal invitation at a banquet.

Captain Andre Tardieu, a speaker, caused some surprise when he said: "You may not know that France provided you with 80 per cent of your airplanes, 60 per cent of your guns and 50 per cent of your war supplies."

Alaska Can Solve Paper Problem.

Seattle, Wash.—Alaska can furnish pulp for 2,000,000 tons of paper annually without depleting the territory's resources, according to a report made to the Alaska bureau of the chamber of commerce by Colonel W. B. Greeley, chief forester of the United States. Colonel Greeley is now in Alaska making a survey of pulp possibilities. The national forests of Alaska hold the solution of the print paper problem in America, according to Colonel Greeley. The forests of southeastern Alaska can keep 20 or more mills running continually and the growth of new timber will be sufficient to replace that which is cut.

Troops Pursue Bandits.

Washington.—Responding to an informal communication from the American embassy at Mexico City, the Mexican foreign office has announced that urgent steps have been taken to effect the prompt release of foreigners, including Americans, reported to have been kidnaped at Cuales, Jalisco, by bandits under the leadership of Zamora, the state department was advised. Five thousand federal troops are reported in pursuit of the bandits.

RAILROAD RATES IN OREGON RAISED

Salem, Or.—Intrastate railroad rates to conform with the 25 per cent increase charges approved recently by the interstate commerce commission will become effective in Oregon on August 25, according to an announcement made by the Oregon public service commission here. The action of the public service commission in announcing the new tariff follows out the arrangement tentatively agreed upon at a joint conference of the Oregon, Washington and Idaho commissions held in Seattle a few weeks ago.

The action of the Oregon public service commission is in line with that followed by most of the state commissions throughout the United States and is in accord with the urgent suggestion made by the three commissioners who sat with the interstate commerce commission at the hearing of the recent rate case.

The Oregon commission in pursuing this course made it plain that its action in no way establishes the reasonableness of the rates filed or precludes a shipper from bringing action or prevents the commission from attacking any rate so filed.

COMPLAINT HEARING IS SET

Washington Public Service Body to Hold Session Sept. 7.

Olympia, Wash.—The public service commission announced a hearing on complaint against increased freight rates, as proposed by Henry's tariff No. 1-A, will be held in the senate chamber at Olympia, Tuesday, September 7, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. The Henry tariff as filed by the railroads seeks to increase class and commodity rates on local shipments west of the Cascades. The increases in some instances are as much as 100 per cent.

The commission will hold a hearing on the application of the American Railway Express company's application for increased rates on state shipments at 10 o'clock, Friday morning, September 17.

Cautioned Against Invading Russia.

Washington.—Poland has been cautioned by the American government not to permit her armies in their present counter-offensive against the Russian Bolsheviki to advance beyond the ethnographic boundaries of Poland. Great Britain has joined with the United States in the endeavor to prevent a second violation by Poland of Russian territory, officials said, and unofficial advices already received contain assurances of the intention of the Polish government to heed the advice.

Army Areas Announced.

Washington.—The war department has announced the state groups comprising the army corps areas established in accordance with the provisions of the new army bill and headquarters of each area. They include: Ninth corps area, to embrace the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and California; headquarters at Presidio of San Francisco. The territory of Alaska will be attached to the ninth corps area.

Sugar Dealers Caught in Slump.

Washington.—Sugar dealers caught in the price slump with large stocks on their hands are appealing to the department of justice to save them from loss, according to John F. Crosby, head of the department's campaign to lower the cost of living.
