Where's Your Bread Buttered?

WHAT makes your community a prosperous one? You don't need to do a "Sherlock Holmes" to figure out that the industries of a state or community are the sturdy oaks around which the vine of prosperity twines. And that the successful development of an industry depends upon the quality of the product and a market.

Oregon manufacturers are putting the quality into their products; you can help extend their market by asking for "Oregon Made" when you buy. And incidentally put more butter on your own bread.
