TEMPORARY LIBERTY BONDS NOW

San Francisco, Calif., Sept. 22.—Holders of temporary Liberty Bonds of the First, Second, and Third Liberty Loans are falling to take advantage of the opportunity to exchange their holdings for Permanent Bonds bearing coupons to maturity, according to John U. Calkins, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, in a letter sent to all banks, bankers and trust companies of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. Interest on these temporary Bonds cannot be collected beyond the number of coupons attached to them and it is of vital importance to those who bought first, second, and third Liberty Loan Bonds to turn them in for permanent securities. The relatively small amount of temporary coupon bonds of the first, second, and third Liberty Loans presented for exchange indicates that a large number of bond holders are not aware that bonds of the above issues may, at this time, be exchanged for permanent coupon bonds bearing coupons to maturity. Governor Calkins said in his letter: "This bank, as Fiscal Agent of the United States, is now prepared to make prompt and full delivery of First, Second, and Third Liberty Loan Coupon Bonds for temporary coupon bonds surrendered."

The banks of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District were also advised that owing to unavoidable delays in preparing permanent bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan, these fourth loan permanent bonds will not be available, as planned on October 15. It is probable that the exchange of temporary fourth loan bonds for permanent securities of that issue will not be begun prior to February 1, 1921. However, as soon as the date commencing such exchange can be definitely determined, announcement will be made. The banks are cautioned not to forward temporary fourth loan bonds to the Federal Reserve Bank until advised that the Federal Reserve Bank is in a position to make the exchange.

Individual temporary bond holders of the first, second, and third Liberty loan bonds are requested to turn their securities in to any local bank, which will handle the exchange operations through the Federal Reserve Bank, rather than to mail their bonds directly to the Federal Reserve Bank.

Following is data on the conversion operations published by the Federal Reserve Bank.

First Liberty Loan, 4 per cent, last coupon attached to temporary bond due Dec. 15, 1919, will now be converted and exchanged for Permanent 4 1/2 per cent coupon or registered Bonds.

First liberty loan, 4 1/2, last coupon due June, 15, 1920, will now be exchanged for 4 1/2 per cent coupon or registered bonds.

Bonds of the second liberty loan bearing interest at 4 and 4 1/2 per cent, and which last attached coupons became due Nov. 15, 1919 and May 15, 1920, respectively, are now convertible for permanent 4 1/2 coupon or registered bonds; as are also the third liberty loan 4 1/2 per cent bonds, the last coupons of which were due March 15, 1920.

SECURED ROOMS FOR FAIR

Sunday School Workers Listed Every Available Room They Could Find—Have You One?

Workers who took the Sunday school census Tuesday listed every available room they could discover for the use of the visitors during the Oregon Inter-State Fair, starting October 6.

There is an actual scarcity of the rooms, and anyone having rooms that were not listed on Tuesday will telephone the Journal office or Manager Schee and give a description of them.

It is not only a matter of thrift, but a patriotic duty to assist in taking care of the increasing crowds which attend the fair here each year.

HIGHWAY GRADING IN CITY

Actual Connection Being Made With South Main Street.

Teams are busy today connecting the south end of Main street with the completed portion of the Crooked River Highway.

A short link near the city which is not yet completed, filling at the end of the street, and a few bridges will make the highway passable for much of its distance.
