THE CITY

Joe Post was a county seat visitor last Thursday.

Warren Brown was a Bend visitor last Monday.

John Ferguson of Roberts spent Saturday in Prineville.

Mrs. Van Puett arrived from Paulina Tuesday to take in the fair.

L. S. Lambert of Culver is visiting his children in town during the fair.

Carl Miller and wife are in town from Bear Creek for the celebration.

Mrs. Willard Wirtz returned from a visit with Bend friends last Sunday.

A. R. Bowman finished threshing on his ranch north of town last Friday.

Dean Houston made a business trip to town last Saturday from Paulina.

Albert Houston of the Bear creek country came in town Tuesday for the fair.

Miss Oma Emons went to Bend Saturday to visit with her brother in that city.

J. N. Williamson was a passenger on the incoming train Tuesday morning, returning from a trip to Portland.

Dr. Brooks and wife of Portland are guests at the M. R. Biggs home this week.

Mrs. Barnes, mother of Mrs. R. W. Rea, is visiting with her daughter in this city.

Pearl Osborne, who lives at Madras, is assisting the local telephone office this week.

James Wright from the Howard country was a visitor at the court house yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Howard returned from a short trip to Portland last Tuesday.

Miss Miriam Leech and Pauline Windom spent last Saturday in Bend on a shopping trip.

C. M. Elkins and family left Tuesday for Portland, where they will remain over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Mills arrived Tuesday from Paulina to remain in town over the fair.

Judge Wallace returned from Portland last Sunday after a business trip of several days.

Arthur Steintorf of the Prineville Lumber Company, left Monday on a business trip to Klamath Falls.

Dick Mulholland, a cattleman of the Roberts country, spent Thursday attending to business in Prineville.

Mrs. Alta Cantrill returned Thursday from the Klamath Falls country, after a short business trip.

Mrs. Stanford Schultz and family arrived today from Trout Creek. They will visit at the Bolter home during the fair.

H. H. Hawley was in Prineville Monday on his way from the Valley to his home at Post. He has been visiting the State Fair.

Mrs. W. Y. Masters and Vernon Bell left today for Portland. Mr. Bell will visit at the Masters home in that city for about ten days.

J. T. Faulkner and Henry Faulkner spent Monday in Prineville. Mr. J. T. Faulkner was the man who laid the original townsite of Paulina.

M. S. Stearns, Cecil Stearns and Harry Stearns arrived Tuesday afternoon from LaPine, bringing in a bunch of cattle from that place.

Mrs. C. W. Lilly visited at the home of Miss Katherine Love last Saturday and Sunday, returning to her home in Portland Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Hughes and son Donald are visiting with Mrs. Hughes' mother, Mrs. Custer, during the fair. They arrived last Wednesday evening.

A. C. Barnekoff, representing Glass & Prudhomme, is in Prineville on his semi-annual visit. He is taking in the fair and visiting with his friends.

Hazel Sullivan arrived Saturday for a vacation in Prineville. She will attend the fair and visit with her many friends in this vicinity for a week or so.

Miss Hazel Sullivan is a guest at the Dr. H. P. Belknap home this week. She arrived last Saturday morning, and will stay during the Inter-State Fair.

W. M. Harvey and Chris Cass of Madras were in Prineville Saturday on a business trip. While here Mr. Cass purchased a new Essex car from Millard Elkins.

Paul Garrison returned from Idaho Tuesday morning. While absent he claims that he was a guest at a chicken dinner, duck dinner, bass dinner, turkey dinner and a deer feed.

The Sheriff's office is being kept busy this week taking care of taxes. Taxes are being paid this year better than usual, and there will not be so many delinquents on the books as before.

The school exhibits at the fair are especially fine this year. Many of the rural schools are represented with fine displays, and the individual work shows very much merit and originality.

A large number of ranchers of the Post country were in Prineville Monday. Among those who came to town were W. A. Carson, Tom Miller, Jess Stewart, Eddie Myers, Clarence Stover and Homer Norton.

J. E. Myers is sending out blanks for the school census to be taken on November 25th. The law was changed several years ago, providing that the census be taken on this day instead of October 25th.

Mrs. Hardick Fuller of Walla Walla concluded a visit with Mrs. Asa Battles last Sunday. Mrs. Fuller expects to shortly make her home at Redmond, where Mr. Fuller is located with the highway commission.

Mrs. Jay Upton entertained Tuesday afternoon with a party in honor of Mrs. J. W. Hughes, who is visiting here from Pendleton, and Mrs. G. H. Ostrander of Portland. The guests engaged in bridge and sewing. Mrs. Froiseth won high honors in bridge.

V. V. Harpham left Monday for the Valley, where he will join Mrs. Harpham. Mr. Harpham is on his vacation, and will not return to Prineville for a week or so.

Miss Ethel Miller and Addie Miller spent Monday in Prineville for the purpose of proving up on their homesteads.

25, 1919. Sheriff Roberts' theory of the case, as outlined last night, includes demands on the 70-year-old man for money, torture to induce him to divulge the hiding place of his treasure, the killing of the helpless victim and the firing of the house to conceal any evidence of previous bodily injury. The arrest was made by C. A. Adams, Redmond deputy.

Because the defendant is the father-in-law of A. J. Moore, district attorney for Deschutes county, the proceedings have been put through independently of his office, and the prosecution so far has been in the hands of R. S. Hamilton and H. H. DeArmond, appointed for the purpose.

Hearing to be Tuesday

Weston was arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace J. A. Enates and Tuesday, October 5, set as the time for the preliminary hearing. The defendant entered no plea, but strongly intimated that "not guilty" would be his defense. Tall and spare, but of powerful build, the prisoner was entirely at ease throughout the proceedings, watching Special Prosecutor De Armond, who, with Mr. Hamilton, conducted the arraignment, thoughtfully as the complaint was read, and later smiling and speaking informally to his son-in-law: "I wish you'd go out and put up my hay, Arthur," he said, "I can't very well do it now."

A moment later he addressed the court, asserting that he would ask for no special favors, but that he desired a shave above all things. "I am a good citizen, and I want to live a good citizen's life," he said. At the adjournment of court he was taken to a barber shop, where the almost white growth of beard was removed.

Open Verdict Given

At the time of the fire, a year and a half ago, suspicion was voiced that the blaze might have been of incendiary origin. The fact that Krug was known to have considerable cash resources available for loans at most times pointed to the possibility of foul play, but no evidence was available at the time, and the coroner's jury returned a verdict of "death from an unknown cause." The theory which was most widely subscribed to at the time was that Krug, who was in ill health and partly paralyzed, had fainted, overturning his lamp and setting fire to the cabin, being asphyxiated before he could regain consciousness.

FORMER POLICE IS ACCUSED OF MURDER

A. J. WESTON HELD FOR MURDER OF AGED RANCHER

ROBBERY PROBABLE CAUSE

Accused Is Relative Of Prosecuting Attorney A. J. Moore—Was Peace Officer in 1912

The arrest of A. J. Weston who was on the police force in this city seven years ago, and who will be remembered here by many as a good official, and a large, fearless man, is held for murder in Deschutes county.

Concerning the arrest, the Bulletin says:

The first murder charge ever preferred in Deschutes county was filed here yesterday with the arrest of A. J. (Jack) Weston of Sisters, alleged slayer of Robert H. Krug, aged hermit-rancher of reputed wealth, whose charred body was found in his fire-ravaged cabin, four miles north of Sisters on the morning of March
