MRS. ELIZABETH BELL PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Bell, endearingly known to Prineville people as Grandma Bell, died at her home in Prineville, Sunday morning, about six o'clock, after a long illness.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, at half past two, conducted by Rev. Patterson of the Presbyterian Church. The esteem in which Mrs. Bell was held by her friends was shown by the many beautiful floral tributes.

The deceased is survived by four children, Mrs. W. Y. Masters of Portland, W. B. Bell of Centralia, C. H. Bell of Centralia, and W. A. Bell of Tillamook. Vernon A. Bell of this city is a grandson.

Mrs. Bell was born in Kentucky, January 27, 1835, and came to Oregon in 1852 with her father and mother, Charles Wells and Elizabeth Wells. The journey to Oregon was made with an ox team. In 1855 she was married to M. H. Bell, and lived near Corvallis, before moving to this county.

Mrs. Bell was a charter member of Carnation Chapter, Eastern Star, of Prineville.

MILLMEN APPEAL TO RAILROADS

Portland, Or.—An important conference on lumber freight rates was held here Monday when lumbermen from many sections of the northwest and traffic and freight officials of the several railroad lines met.

New freight rates will cripple the northwestern lumber industry, according to the lumbermen who are here for the emergency meeting at which they hope to evolve some mutually satisfactory plan for relieving the conditions that these rates present.

Among the prominent railroad men here to take part in the meeting were H. M. Adams of Omaha, vice president of the Union Pacific in charge of traffic; L. R. Capron of St. Paul and A. Tinning of Seattle, assistant general freight agents for the Northern Pacific; M. J. Costello of Seattle, assistant traffic manager for the Great Northern; J. G. Woodworth, St. Paul, vice president of the Northern Pacific, and G. W. Luce, San Francisco, traffic manager of the Southern Pacific.

Men Actuated by Dreams.

Most all the great characters of history are believed that dreams were supernatural origin. Kings reared their scepters, Cambyses assailed his brother, priests attained powers as commanders, cities which had been destroyed were reared by men who changed their plans and performed these acts because of dreams as they supposed. In dreams, with the invasion of Greece by Alexander such night visions had succeded.

Variety in Breads.

Variety in breads is more important when the lunch must be carried than at other meals because of the danger of monotony. Wheat bread, whole-wheat bread, corn, rye, or oatmeal breads; nut, raisin, and date breads, beaten biscuit, rolls, crisp baking powder biscuit, or soda biscuit, and toast, zwieback and crackers may be used in turn to give variety.
