Must Keep Fit

There's something magnetic in it. It's so to do a difficult thing. How often we let our power slip from us. The sweetest thing a small town decided she would do for a while. Then one day a distinguished visitor came to the town wanted to do him a young lady was delighted. She was asked to sing. But alas, she was far from fit when she attempted to sing, and her performance was a general disappointment. One can be fit without keeping at the bit. Success—FIT.

Bureau's Good Work

The bureau of American ethnology, by its extensive work, is preserving much of value concerning the Indian tribes of North America—not only their language and customs, but also their habitations and other material remains. The annual report is enriched every year with the results of various investigations among the Indians, giving them an interest, not only to scientists, but also to the average man interested in the story of this once powerful race, which is rapidly disappearing through being absorbed into the other races.

TRUE to the Buick tradition of twenty years, the one feature Buick engineers have particularly sought to develop in the new Nineteen Twenty One Buick Series is high motor value. You will find, in fact, when you investigate these new models, that Buick capacity for hard, fast, sure transportation is even greater than ever before. The high-powered, sure-working Buick Valve-in-Head Motor is a feature of each of the new models. Added to their great service value are a beauty of contour and appointment and a comfort of movement and seating arrangement that appeal to the most particular. Buick primarily, however, is a car of action. Built for business—built to stand up—is a well known Buick feature. Business men will find the new five passenger touring car a happy selection. Back of it, reinforcing its high serviceability, is ensuring the uninterrupted use of your investment is Authorized Buick Service rendered by a nationwide organization.

Not a Matter of Flavor. One who evidently sneaks from experience says a girl's surprise in getting her first kiss is to find that there is no taste to it. Taste, indeed! The palate is properly numb at such an impact. A kiss isn't a matter of flavor. If it were, the Lord knows there are onions enough. Where there are thrills, tickle, throb, titillation and tremors who in the mischief can think of taste! —Louisville Lyre.	Code of Politics. The code of politics is very simple and may be expressed in two sentences. The man who expects to remain a factor in politics must be loyal to his friends. Once he has given his word he must keep it regardless. These are the articles of faith, and they have been the superstructure of every political dynasty, great or small.—Jay E. House in the Saturday Evening Post.	John Chinaman at Home. In China everything is eaten—from cockroaches and lesser vermin to rats and cats, also dogs. Kipper rats are on sale in the market, and a story is related by the writer of "John Chinaman at Home" of a lady who having expressed approval of the dish she had partaken of, was considerably taken aback when she was told by her hostess, "Oh, that is the rat I caught in your room this morning!"
