NO. 9.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Today, November 11, is the second anniversary of the signing of the armistice which put an end to active fighting between the Huns and the Allied powers.

Great was the celebration and uproar when the world was informed that the enemy had capitulated, had turned tail and admitted that democracy was best for the world after all.

Now it is a continuation of the spirit that caused that uproar which prompts the American nation to observe this day, out of the year, as the day upon which rejoicing shall be had because of the victory won.

The celebration in Crook county, as in nearly every other district in the United States, will be under the able direction of the American Legion. The local Post has long looked forward to this day, a day upon which they pay homage to their dead but not forgotten buddies, and upon which they have an opportunity of expressing their gratitude for the support given them in their fight for democracy.

The Crook County Post, American Legion, has prepared a program for today that, with the proper support, will long be remembered by the people of the county, and will link this date, November 11,—Armistice Day—with that of July 4,—Independence Day. It is entirely fitting that this should be done.

The celebration will be started off at 11:00 o'clock with a mammoth salute, under the able direction of C. W. Woodruff.

Immediately after the salute the big military parade will start from the court house, on its tour of downtown streets. The line of march to be observed for the occasion will be as follows: west on 3rd street to Main and then north on Main street to the concrete bridge over Ochocho creek. Here the procession will turn and march back on Main street to First street, and then return to the point of beginning at the court house.

The parade will be made up of all military organizations in the county, and augmented by the Legion post from Madras. A new set of colors have been ordered and are expected to be here in time for the parade. The local post of the American Legion will appear in full force, and regalia. A Red Cross unit will take part in the celebration, and possibly a detail of Salvation Army workers will make an appearance.

At 11:11, during the parade, a signal will be given by ringing of bells, blowing of whistles, etc., at which time the parade will halt, and the entire populace of the city will bow their heads for three minutes in memory to the "boys" who are unable to partake of the day's festivities, but who payed with their lives while doing their bit for democracy.

Immediately following the parade a patriotic program will be rendered in the circuit court room at the court house. Speakers for the occasion will be Hon. N. G. Wallace and Hon. J. H. Upton.

After the speaking, the Ladies' Aid will serve dinner to all ex-service men in the basement of the Baptist church. These ladies are far famed for their ability as cooks, and all men should take advantage of this hospitality. We can promise that it will be some banquet.

In the afternoon, at Davidson field there will be staged a football game under the auspices of the Legion.

At five o'clock in the afternoon, at the corner of Main and Third, all uniformed ex-service men will stand retreat, or as is sometimes called "colors". This is to mark the passing of the working day, and the beginning of the time when laxity is permitted in the way of uniform, conduct, etc., for the service man.

In the evening at the Club Hall, the Legion will be hosts to the county at a military ball. An excellent four-piece orchestra has been engaged to dispense the latests hits in jazz and there is a good time for every body. Supper will be served in the hall at midnight. A li ex-service men attending the dance are requested to appear in uniform.

Answering their country's call for men, about 300 of Crook county's sons took up the challenge in defense of the world's democracy. Of these 300, eleven never returned, having suffered the supreme sacrifice which is a soldier's privilege—death for his country. The following list compiled by the county clerk's office, gives the names of the Crook county boys who died in the service of democracy:

- Clyde Smith, Suplee;

THE FIRST SALE OF THOROUGHBREDS

POWELL BUTTE MEN WINNERS OF ROAD CONTEST

George Wells and Charles Parrish, both of Powell Butte, were decided winners of the quarter mile road improvement contest under the auspices of the Prineville Commercial Club which closed October 8th.

In announcing the awards at the Club luncheon Tuesday noon, Harold Baldwin stated that the judges had visited each entry made in the contest since it was opened in January, and that the road improved by Mr. Wells and Mr. Parrish is far superior to all other quarter-mile stretches in the contest. He stated that when the contest began the roads might be mentioned as perhaps being nothing much more than trails, and since that time they have been enlarged to regulation width, graded, and otherwise improved to make them specimens of which any community might be proud. As it was absolutely impossible to judge between the two pieces, the $100 prize was divided equally between them.

The entry of Dave Grimes received special mention, and the improvement by Guy Lafollette on his quarter-mile piece, and the work of Roy Stewart on the Henry Howard road entry also received notice as being very commendable.

The judges were Harold Baldwin, Judge N. G. Wallace and E. J. Wilson.

Sometime in the near future the Commercial Club will stage a smoker to which all interested in the welfare of Prineville and the Club will be invited, the event to have the nature of a reorganization meeting. At that time the dues question will be discussed, together with other subjects of vital interest to the club and to the community. A secretary will be elected to have charge of the books, minutes, and collection of dues. Ray Schee, manager of the club, will thereby be relieved of this part of the work, and he will be free for the more important issues in connection with the work of the club. Ray Schee, Dr. H. G. Davis and Arthur Michel will arrange the details.

Rev. Gallaher was appointed as chairman of a committee to arrange for a community Thanksgiving service in one of the churches on Nov. 25, he to select his assistants on the committee. It was pointed out that Thanksgiving Day was created from the very essence of Americanism, of such importance that the President proclaims it a holiday, and every citizen should realize the necessity of reverencing and celebrating the day.

The importance of further civic clean-up, and the desirability of an Xmas tree were also discussed at the meeting.

CROOK FARMERS RECEIVE HELP

The Pioneer Employment Company of Portland has been very successful in supplying Crook county with labor. This company is the oldest in the state, and makes a specialty of farm help, handling a big percent of that business going out of Portland. If it had not been for the promptness with which this company handled calls for men this past year, the help situation in Crook county might have been much worse.

This year the company furnished men for E. T. Slayton, the Lafollette, Dickson & McDowell, C. W. Foster and several other farmers and stockmen.

QUILTS ARE MADE FOR BABY HOME

The plea for little quilts for the Alberta Kerr nursery home in last week's issue of the Journal met with a ready response. In the neighborhood of 55 quilts, dainty as well as practical, have been made by the warm-hearted ladies of Prineville, and turned over to Mrs. Robt. Douglas, who this week sent them on to the baby home.

The welfare of the little homeless babies is very near to the hearts of the Prineville people, as their prompt attention to this matter evidences.

GRAND WORTHY MATRON VISITS

Ida M. Umbach, Grand Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star of Oregon, visited Carnation Chapter at a special meeting Thursday evening. The degree staff exemplified the work of the order for the visitor, Leo Lafollette acting as candidate for the occasion.

Mrs. Umbach proved herself to have a very thorough understanding of all points and questions coming up in connection with the work, and her suggestions were genuinely helpful in improving the local chapter in many ways.

The Masonic rooms were beautifully decorated for Mrs. Umbach's visit with a number of bouquets of pink carnations and greenery, which harmonized well with the effective white dresses of the degree staff. A very appetizing spread of fruit salad and sandwiches, topped off with pumpkin pie and whipped cream, together with coffee, was served in the banquet room to all.

The turnout for the meeting was very large, the lodge room being comfortably full, and everyone had the privilege of meeting and talking with the Worthy Grand Matron.

C. C. H. S. WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP

By defeating the Redmond high school here last Saturday afternoon Crook County High School won the Central Oregon Conference football championship. Last Saturday's melee resulted in a score of 55 to 0, in Crook County's favor. The champions have won every game played this year by large margins.

Though they played a losing game from the beginning, the Redmond team were a nery bunch of players, and never gave up until the end.

CHURCHES TO OBSERVE RED CROSS SUNDAY

Next Sunday, the 14th, has been designated by a nation-wide movement as Red Cross Roll Call Sunday. Rev. M. R. Gallaher of the Methodist church and Rev. Patterson of the Presbyterian church have prepared special services for the occasion.

CROOK CO. H. S. NOTES

By Clarence Mertsching

Last Saturday, Redmond went down for the count as all the other teams have done that have faced the Crook county aggregation. This time the score was 56 to 0. With a brisk sunshiny day and a dry field to favor the players, Redmond lined up after the kickoff to tender Prineville a bit of what the C. C. H. S. has been handing out to the other teams. Redmond fought to win her greatest glory—to win from an undefeated team. Prineville fought to clinch the championship. In the first sweep of the game Redmond had the local boys bested. However, after a few scrimages the Prineville line soon hit its stride and settled down to work. Redmond's line punches were weak, and when they were able to make a hole in our line, Mills, Smith and Jacobs were on hand to obstruct further advance in a very capable manner. On end runs Ayres usually got around the interference and tackled the man before much progress was made. On the other end, however, Smith in the halfback position during defense, played well up to the line and consequently bore the brunt of the attack. With little success in line plunges, Redmond resorted to passes. A number were completed, netting yardage for Redmond. Mills succeeded in intercepting several of their passes, while the remainder of their attack was a failure. O'Kelley playing at safety when Prineville was on the defense, played his part of the game well in returning the punts. When Prineville held the offensive playing, end runs featured as a yardage maker. Coach Medley's end run formations proved too much for the opponents again, and line bucks were generally successful. On offensive playing Smith and O'Kelley displayed their competency in advancing the ball on end runs. While on line bucks, Mills tore into the line for the needed yardage. Smithy also came up fine in line bucks when he laid before the eyes of the home crowd his dexterity in dodging thru small openings. Shattuck made his first score for the team when he received a pass from Mills and ran the ball down the field for a touchdown.

The game was snappy all the time and the spirit of rivalry did not abate at any stage of the game. Several comments were made by both players and spectators in regard to the clean manner in which the game was played and the good feeling among the players.

Next Friday, November 12, the second team will play the Redmond second team at Redmond. Not being able to arrange for more games the second team has played only one game this season and that was with Redmond, here during the fair.

It will be remembered that earlier in the season, Burns attempted to arrange for a game on Armistice Day, but an answer was mailed to them, refusing a game. Recently a telegram was received from Burns, offering $250 to bring our team over there on the 11th. A meeting of the boys was held to decide upon what kind of an answer should be returned. The decision arrived at was, no game would be played. The chief reason for refusing the game was on account of length of the trip, and especially under present weather conditions.

A combination of Shorthorns, Herefords, and Aberdeen Angus cattle will be held at Prineville next spring.

If this goes as well as expected, a fall sale will be held at fair time, and semiannual sales will be held every year.

Among the breeders who are expected to consign are M. R. Biggs, Frank Foster and George F. Gallup, Shorthorns; the Baldwin Sheep Co., H. D. Dunham, J. R. Breese and Stearns Bros., Herefords, and Dickson & McDowell and the Prineville Land and Live Stock company, Aberdeen Anguses.

It is believed the county will absorb most of the offerings, but the outside public will be invited to attend, for these breeders have some as good blood lines as the breeds afford and most of the stock will be offered in good condition, showing them to be excellent individuals. Harry Cranke, auctioneer, will have charge of the sale.

This is the first public sale of purebred cattle of different breeds to be announced for this territory, and is the beginning of a custom that will mark Prineville as the livestock center of Oregon.

GOVERNOR OLCOTT ENDORSES RED CROSS

Governor Olcott has issued the following endorsement of the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call:

State of Oregon, Executive Department, Salem, October 29, 1920. To the people of Oregon—The Fourth Red Cross Roll Call has been set for the period from November 11 to November 25, and I bespeak your hearty assistance in this movement.

The Roll Call is not a drive nor a campaign, as I understand it. It is merely a re-enlistment of members for service, and the financial obligation attached is but $1.00 yearly. What the Red Cross accomplished in the great war is so vivid in the minds of everyone that no doubt there will be a spontaneous re-enlistment in membership throughout the state, and I feel that many who may have failed to join in the past will become members of this splendid organization. I understand the obligations of the organization are heavy and that while peace has returned, nevertheless the American Red Cross is continuing its significant work on a large scale and needs the help of all who can give it.

Very respectfully yours,
BEN W. OLCOTT, Governor.

This is a worthy institution and should have the hearty cooperation of the entire citizenship.

Telegrams were received from Jefferson and Benson of Portland stating that their dates were full and no games could be scheduled. Numerous attempts have been made to secure games with some Portland team but so far, each attempt has failed.

School is dismissed on Armistice Day. This is a holiday in the state of Oregon by proclamation of the governor. The high school will participate in the Legion parade.

In connection with the rally scheduled to be held Friday night, preceding the game, each class held meetings and the general feeling was found to be in favor of a celebration on Saturday night following the game. Arrangements were then made for a program in which each class should take part.

The Freshmen presented their part of the program first. When the curtain rose an operating room was exhibited. Up the aisle members of
