HATCH-SMITH WEDDING BELLS LAST WEDNESDAY

Announcements arrived this week to Prineville friends of Rollin F. Hatch, of his marriage in Chicago, to Gertrude Helena Smith, daughter of Mr. George Smith of that city, on Wednesday, November 10th.

Mr. Hatch also wired the news that it was all over, immediately after the ceremony, to the hotel, and giving Charlie King instructions to turn loose a box of the very best cigars among his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatch will remain in the east about a month longer, as Mr. Hatch will buy winter and spring merchandise for Cornett & Co., and they will then return to Prineville to make their home.

CHILD'S CARELESSNESS CAUSES LIGHTS GO OUT

A piece of telephone wire, carelessly tossed over the power lines of the Deschutes Power Company, in the neighborhood of Culver, short-circuited the wires and caused the power to flicker and finally go out entirely, Tuesday night. Albert Wilson, of the power company, had to do a great deal of riding before the trouble was finally located and remedied.

Children should be warned in school and at home of the danger rising from fooling with the power lines, as many accidents have happened resulting in injury and death from just such carelessness as this, not to speak of the inconvenience caused others by failure if the lines to carry the juice.

Assisting Mr. Wallace in the defense are Allen R. Jay, Portland attorney, and E. O. Stadter of Bend.

The trial commenced on Tuesday, when jurors were selected, and the actual proceedings began yesterday.

Supplying Telephone Service

Occasionally subscribers move and ask us for a continuance of telephone service at their new location. They may be told that compliance with their desires is immediately impossible owing to lack of "telephone facilities" in a particular locality. "Why," one will say, "the poles and wires are on the street and the house is already wired."

We wish that the problem were as simple as it sounds. There may be poles and wires, but every wire may be in use in giving service to others. There may be a cable, but every circuit in it may be assigned to telephones already installed. There may be a telephone in the vacant house or apartment to which you move but no spare wires and circuits from your house to the central office. There may even be sections of switchboard in the central office but not available for operation on account of the lack of necessary switchboard apparatus, such as ringing keys, relays, etc.

The reason for the shortage of telephone equipment is simple. During the war period we were unable to maintain our reserve or stock plant as the same materials we use were required and taken for Government purposes and for industries properly favored by the Government. Since the war, with the unexpectedly prolonged problems of reconstruction, production and delivery of materials needed to meet even current demands have been delayed. Every business concern is having similar experiences. The manufacturers of telephone equipment have been bending every effort to fill our orders, but they, in turn, are meeting the same difficulties in securing rubber, paper, silk, glass, porcelain, tin, thread, shellac, metal parts and other articles not generally associated in the public mind with telephone service.

At the same time with this abnormal situation with reference to materials there exists an unprecedented demand for telephone service, and even under these circumstances our record is one of fulfillment of demand.

In the first nine months of 1920 we made a total net gain of over 7300 telephones in the State of Oregon. A fact worthy of consideration in our operations is the large number of telephones handled in proportion to the net increase. In those nine months we disconnected, connected and moved 41,140 instruments to secure the net gain above mentioned.

We desire to give service as much as a patron wishes to receive it. We desire to promptly comply with the suggestions of public authorities who have taken a proper interest in the situation. We are facing abnormal conditions, but we are trying to overcome our difficulties.
