BOOTLEGGERS HAVE SURPRISE

When Uncle Sam has arrested a man, convicted him and collected a fine from him for manufacturing, transporting or selling moonshine, he hasn't played his entire hand. No, the sly old man, who believes in having his laws obeyed, still holds the joker.

Several months after such a conviction, when the moonshiner or wine maker or bootlegger has almost forgotten his experience in the federal court, along comes a bill from the revenue collector's office sometimes amounting into thousands of dollars. And if he has any property, that property is attached for its payment.

This phase of dry violations is brought out by an examination of government cases supposedly completed several years ago. Inserted with the papers is a neat carbon sheet assessing and reassessing him for being a distiller or a dealer, then penalizing him for delaying in paying the tax required by statute.

Take one case, that of William Hageberg, found to have transported seventy quarts of Canadian Club in his automobile from an incoming ship. He lost his auto, his liquor, probably paid fat attorney's fees and is now assessed $336 in addition for engaging in this business without a permit from the revenue department. Of course, he couldn't have obtained a permit if he had applied.

W. R. Dempsey and his moonshining partner, Johnson (not the prize fighters) were fined $250 for making the clear spirits near Donald, Oregon. Assessed against them is the tidy sum of $11,968.96.

Lois Flora, in the hog business near Hillsdale, paid $300 fine for "stalling" in a cave he dug on his place. He used his two ton truck to carry the finished product into town and returned loaded with garbage for his pigs. Besides his fine, he lost his truck and is now assessed $2,350 for engaging in the business of a distiller and dealer without a license.

Victor Bottanio, an Italian, revived the practices of his native land and manufactured 300 gallons of wine on his place. He paid $297.50 for the raisens used. Besides his fine and his wine, he will now lose a fine of 15 cents on each gallon manufactured.

Statistics at the revenue office show that 95 per cent of the dry violators are foreigners. As many of them have no tangible property save the stills in which they have been making their product, Uncle Sam is the loser. Cases are also compromised, the records show.

DAVID O. JONES TO BE CHIEF DEPUTY SHERIFF

Olie H. Olson, sheriff-elect of this county, has announced that when he receives the keys and badges of the office from John Combs, the present sheriff, David O. Jones, of Paulina, will step into the shoes of Chief Deputy Sheriff. He will be placed under a bond of $10,000 for this position.

Mr. Jones is an ex-service man, having spent two and one-half years in France with the engineers.

Paraphernalia
The word "paraphernalia" really means a woman's belongings. In the old days it was applied to those things which a bride brought over and above her dowry—clothes, jewelry, etc. Hence the word came to mean personal attire, anything for show or decoration.

Rag Dolls
Every Christmas the rag doll makes its appearance. There are rag dolls of high and low degree. Two high-class little persons are shown in the picture. These are made of heavy domestic cut by a paper pattern which can be bought. Their faces are painted with water colors, their hair made of yarn, and they are completely dressed with clothes that afford the joy of taking them off and putting them on. Even their slippers may be made of black oil cloth. One of these baby dolls is supposed to be a boy and he has a pair of rompers instead of a dress under his coat.

For Holiday Time
An unusually pretty breakfast cap is here offered as a suggestion for a gift. It is a spirited model made of taffeta silk and almost covered with crisp, plaited frills of taffeta ribbon. Such a cap requires a crinoline support and a lining of thin silk.

Gifts That Please

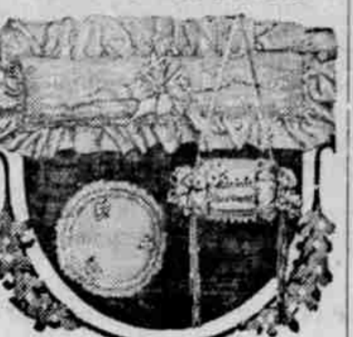

Of all the practical gifts that are sure to please there are none more dependable than good-looking waste baskets. There are many kinds to choose from but, valued most, are those made at home of fabrics, as cretonne, saten, tapestry, satin, colored olecloth and other things. Foundations of heavy cardboard or light wood are covered with these materials. Two attractive baskets are shown in the picture above, one of tapestry and satin and one of heavy saten. The latter is provided with a handle of braided cord for hanging.

Holiday Red and Green

This Christmas candle shade is made of red and green crepe paper and decorated at the top with a spray of holly and holly berries. The paper is cut in petals, the under ones in red and the outside ones in green.

Santa Claus Favors

Christmas wouldn't seem natural if a new pincushion failed to make its appearance.

For Holding Pins

The baby will be served and his mother delighted at Christmas time with little gifts convenient for holding safety pins. A doll and a basket are shown in the picture each suspended by ribbons for hanging them. Little rings attached to the feet, hands and belt of the doll accommodate pins of several sizes. There are assorted pins in the basket.

Gift Muffs and Furs

Those wonderful plushes that are now known as "wool furs" make neck-pieces and muffs that are just as warm, just as handsome and more durable than those made of skins, and they are not at all hard to make. A set made of sea plush is shown here.

To Welcome the Baby

Two lovely gifts, with which to welcome the stork, are suggested. They are a little cap of georgette crepe and a silk-lined and ribbon-frilled basket containing everything the baby needs for his toilette.
